1 Designating October 21, 2016, as "Biomedical Research Day" in 2 Pennsylvania.

3 WHEREAS, The biomedical research community in the United 4 States and especially in this Commonwealth is recognized as a 5 world leader in discoveries which promote health and the 6 treatment of disease; and

7 WHEREAS, Virtually every major medical advancement in the 8 past century has depended upon biomedical research; and

9 WHEREAS, These advances include the prevention and treatment 10 of cancer, discoveries of vaccines for the prevention of 11 measles, mumps, polio and hepatitis and medications to treat
12 high blood pressure, arthritis and mental illness among many 13 others; and

14 WHEREAS, Biomedical research has helped increase the life
15 span of people in the United States through the development of

1 vaccines, antibiotics and anti-infective drugs; and

2 WHEREAS, Biomedical research has contributed to the 3 elimination of many epidemic diseases and has helped prevent 4 numerous childhood killers in the United States; and

5 WHEREAS, Biomedical researchers are working diligently toward 6 cures for Alzheimer's disease, arthritis, acquired immune
7 deficiency syndrome, cancer, diabetes, epilepsy, heart and lung 8 diseases, mental illnesses, multiple sclerosis and countless 9 other diseases affecting millions of people in the United 10 States; and

11 WHEREAS, Biomedical research has contributed to the health 12 and well-being of animals through vaccines and has helped the 13 prospects of endangered species by reducing diseases and 14 promoting reproduction; and

15 WHEREAS, Biomedical research offers the best hope for new 16 breakthroughs in disease detection and treatment; and

17 WHEREAS, The biomedical research community in this 18 Commonwealth and throughout the United States is recognized as 19 the world leader in discovering and developing new knowledge and 20 ideas that promote better health and the treatment of disease;
21 therefore be it

22 RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives designate October 23 21, 2016, as "Biomedical Research Day" in Pennsylvania in
