SESSION OF 2015

199TH OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

No. 9

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The House convened at 11 a.m., e.s.t.

THE SPEAKER (MIKE TURZAI) PRESIDING

PRAYER

The SPEAKER. The prayer today will be offered by Rev. Chad Nelson, a missionary with the Assemblies of God to the Dominican Republic. He is currently residing in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, and he is a guest today of our colleague, Representative Rob Kauffman.

REV. CHAD NELSON, Guest Chaplain of the House of Representatives, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray:

Dear Heavenly Father, we thank You for life, we thank You for health, we thank You for all the things that You have given us.

This morning You said in Your Word that if we lack wisdom, we should ask of You and You would give it to us freely, and I pray for wisdom in this chamber this morning for each and every person in here.

God, especially today I pray for each individual; their families; if they are married, for their spouse, God, for their kids today, where You alone know what happens, what is going on in their lives today at home. You alone know what is going on in marriages and with children. And, God, I pray that You would begin to resolve any situations that are difficult, that they can focus on their job, that they can focus on the decisions that You have placed before them today.

We thank You for this opportunity, in Jesus' name. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

(The Pledge of Allegiance was recited by members and visitors.)

The SPEAKER. Thank you so much, Reverend.
All members may please be seated.

STATEMENT BY MS. BOBACK

The SPEAKER. Representative Boback is recognized to speak on HR 54, Congenital Heart Defect Awareness Week. Thank you, madam.

Ms. BOBACK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

There are few things as important as the health and well-being of our children. This is why newborn screenings are so important in addressing health problems at birth, including congenital heart defects.

I rise to mark Congenital Heart Defect, or CHD, Awareness Week, which runs from February 7 through February 14. Congenital heart defects affect approximately 1.8 million families across our nation, but a relatively few portions of any funding that we have is available for parent or patient educational resources or research or support. Most of the time these heart defects require surgery and the use of medications.

This is an issue which has been a priority for me. Last session Act 94 of 2014 was signed into law. This new law, which I authored and which received overwhelming support by this House, was signed into law, and it mandates pulse oximetry testing at hospitals across our Commonwealth. This inexpensive screening is one of the best ways to detect heart defects, making sure newborns have the best start at life.

I thank my colleagues for supporting this resolution.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the good lady.

At this time the good gentleman, Representative Matzie, of Beaver County calls up HR 38. I apologize; both caucuses need to discuss that particular resolution, so we will be calling that up shortly.

STATEMENT BY MR. MURT

The SPEAKER. The Speaker recognizes the good gentleman from Montgomery County, Representative Tom Murt, on HR 4.

Mr. MURT. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, for 300 years the Borough of Hatboro was known as Philadelphia's countryside, the place where the urbanite of the big city could escape to tranquility, but as we celebrate the 300th anniversary of its founding, it is important we realize Hatboro is so much more. Hatboro is located on land purchased from William Penn by the family of Nicholas More in 1705, but it was reborn when in 1715 John Dawson, a hatter from England, came to the area and built a house that later became the Crooked Billet Inn. At that time the small village was called the Billet, but by 1740 it had become so associated with Dawson's profession that people would refer to it as Hatborough.

In the 1750s Hatboro was a farming village of just 15 houses on a former Indian trail now known as Old York Road, which became the stagecoach route between Philadelphia and New York. Soon that stretch of Old York Road sprouted with businesses to serve the travelers. There was a tavern, a tannery, a saddlery, and a furniture maker. A short time later the Union Library of Hatboro formed in 1755. It was the third library company to be founded in Pennsylvania. This building still stands on its original site today and still serves as a library.

As I have spoken about before, Hatboro played a critical role in the Revolutionary War. George Washington and his troops passed through the town numerous times during 1777 in pursuit of British troops, and the Battle of Crooked Billet, fought in 1778, led British troops away from General Washington's encampment in Valley Forge to give Washington time to reorganize his men.

In many ways, Hatboro remains what it was at its founding: a suburban community that remains a quaint, rural alternative to the big city. We have some of the best schools in Montgomery County, some of the brightest students, and families dedicated to preserving its history and harmony.

We have made it 300 years, and I have no doubt we will make it another 300.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, sir.

RESOLUTIONS PURSUANT TO RULE 35

Mr. MURT called up HR 6, PN 10, entitled:

A Resolution commemorating the 70th anniversary of the Battle of the Bulge.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER. The Speaker calls upon Representative Murt to speak on HR 6.

Mr. MURT. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, in the winter of 1944 and 1945, the Allied Forces had Hitler's Nazi war machine pinned back in the western sections of Europe. The Nazis were losing. Troops from America, France, and Great Britain were barreling towards Germany in a push that would annihilate the Nazi hordes and draw the Second World War to a close. But that final push would claim 75,000 American casualties.

This year we mark the 70th anniversary of the Battle of the Bulge. It began on December 16, 1944, as Hitler's final attempt to split the Allies in two in their drive towards Germany.

First called the Ardennes Offensive, the attack became known as the Battle of the Bulge because the initial attack by the Germans created a great bulge in the Allied front line. Hitler had convinced himself that the alliance between Great Britain, France, and America in the western sector of Europe was not strong and that a major attack and defeat would shatter their forces. He ordered a massive attack against what were primarily American forces. In his mind, the massive attack would destabilize their forces and also take the huge Port of Antwerp, through which a great deal of supplies were reaching the Allies. The battle started with a 2-hour bombardment of the Allies' lines that seemed successful for 2 days; however, despite plunging a bulge into the Allies' front line, the Germans could not capitalize on it. Short on fuel, by mid-January 1945 the Germans simply abandoned their vehicles. The Allied victory was now in sight, but it came at a great cost.

Today the remaining veterans of that grueling battle who are still with us are in their late eighties or older. We must not forget their sacrifice. These are the men who pushed us on to final victory. These are the men who preserved our liberty. These are the men who vanquished the great tyrannical force that crushed Europe and committed a great genocide.

On this 70th anniversary of the conclusion of that great battle, I thank them for their service and their sacrifice. God bless them.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Thank you very much, sir.

I would like to call upon the good gentleman from Bucks County, Representative Santarsiero, on HR 6.

Mr. SANTARSIERO. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I want to commend the gentleman from Montgomery County for this resolution.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.
