14 Section 1. The act of July 17, 1961 (P.L.776, No.341), known
15 as the Pennsylvania Fair Educational Opportunities Act, is 16 amended by adding a section to read:

17 Section 4.1. Unfair Educational Practices Involving 18 Observance of Religious Holidays.--(a) It shall be an unfair
19 educational practice for an educational institution:

20 (1) To expel, suspend, punish, deny facilities to or 21 otherwise discriminate against any student who is unable,

because of observance of a religious holiday, to attend classes or to participate in any examination, study or work requirements on a particular day or days.

(2) To deny any student who is absent because of observance of a religious holiday any award or the opportunity to compete for any award.

(3) To deprive any student who is unable, because of observance of a religious holiday, to attend classes on a particular day or days the opportunity to take an alternative test or examination or to make up any study or work requirements which he missed because of such absence.

(b) It shall be the duty of the faculty and of the administrative officials of each educational institution to make available to each student who is absent from the educational institution because of observance of a religious holiday an equivalent opportunity to compete for any award and to make up any examination, study or work requirements or class which he may have missed because of such absence on any particular day or days. No fees of any kind shall be charged by the educational institution for making available to the student such equivalent opportunity.

(c) Any absence because of a student's observance of a religious holiday shall be recorded as an excused absence on the student's attendance record or on the record of any group or class of which he is a member. Any transcript, application, employment form or any similar form on which information concerning a student's attendance record is requested shall show, with respect to absences, only absences other than absences excused because of observance of religious holidays.

(d) In effectuating the provisions of this section, it shall

1 be the duty of the faculty and of the administrative officials
2 of each educational institution to exercise the fullest measure
3 of good faith. No adverse or prejudicial effects shall result to 4 any student for the reason that he has availed himself of the 5 provisions of this section.

6 (e) A copy of this section shall be published by each
7 educational institution in the catalog which contains the 8 educational institution's rules and regulations or lists the
