A RESOLUTION

1 Designating the month of April 2006 as "Bayer's Making Science
2 Make Sense Month" in Pennsylvania.

3 WHEREAS, Bayer Corporation has long been committed to 4 improving science education; and

5 WHEREAS, In 1995 Bayer Corporation formalized this commitment
6 with Making Science Make Sense, its award-winning initiative
7 that advances science literacy through hands-on, inquiry-based 8 science learning, employee volunteerism and public education;
9 and

10 WHEREAS, As a science and research-based company with major
11 businesses in health care, nutrition and innovative materials,

1 Bayer Corporation has a solid stake in helping to ensure that
2 today's students are well prepared for tomorrow's workplace,
3 regardless of the careers they choose; and

4 WHEREAS, Bayer Corporation recognizes that new technologies
5 and concepts and increasing global market competition will 6 continue to demand a flexible, scientifically literate work
7 force possessing the skills in critical thinking, problem
8 solving and teamwork which a quality science education fosters;
9 and

10 WHEREAS, Educating the public about the importance of science
11 literacy, supporting hands-on, inquiry-based science programs
12 for students and teachers and encouraging employee volunteerism
13 are at the heart of Bayer Corporation's integrated approach; and

14 WHEREAS, Bayer Corporation should be commended for its 15 commitment to Making Science Make Sense; therefore be it

16 RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives designate the 17 month of April 2006 as "Bayer's Making Science Make Sense Month"
18 in Pennsylvania.
