OVERVIEW:

Senate Bill 195 amends the Industrialized Housing Act (Act 70 of 1972) authorizing the Department of Community and Economic Development (DCED) to establish regulations for and enter into a multi-state agreement for the purposes of regulating the construction of industrialized/commercial modular buildings.

This bill makes technical changes and provides for the definitions of an industrialized/commercial modular building and an industrialized/commercial building module.

Modules certified under the program will be deemed to have met the standards of the Uniform Construction Code (UCC).

This legislation shall take effect immediately.

ANALYSIS:

According to DCED, this bill will have minimal costs. However, those costs will be recouped via fees. Therefore, adoption of Senate Bill 195 should have no adverse impact on Commonwealth funds.
