SUMMARY: Amends Title 75 (Vehicle Code) to require PennDOT to stagger expiration dates of commercial vehicle apportioned registrations. This legislation would take effect in 18 months.

ANALYSIS: This legislation requires PennDOT to establish, for no less than four periods throughout the year, a staggered apportioned registration renewal system for commercial motor vehicles. The legislation also allows the department the option to pro-rate annual registration fees over a period of 6 to 18 months.

FISCAL IMPACT: According to PennDOT, they plan to stagger registration expiration dates from 6 to 18 months and adjust registration rates accordingly to account for a shorter or longer duration to create a revenue-neutral process for the Motor License Fund.
