SESSION OF 2011

195TH OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

No. 44

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The House convened at 11 a.m., e.d.t.

THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE (MATTHEW E. BAKER) PRESIDING

PRAYER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The prayer will be offered by the Honorable Representative Kavulich.

HON. SID MICHAELS KAVULICH, member of the House of Representatives, offered the following prayer:

O Almighty God, from whom all power and good things come, we thank You for the blessings You have shed on this great Commonwealth and this great nation; for allowing us the opportunity to speak and worship as we please; for giving us the food we eat, the clothes we wear, and the air we breathe; for letting us have the liberties and freedoms that many others do not.

We ask You to bless and enlighten the members of our General Assembly so that through Your guidance, we will do what is right and what is in the best interests of all the people of Pennsylvania. Lead us not into moral and ethical temptation. Help us to be upright and just and honest in our thoughts, words, and actions. Give us the strength to ward off arrogance and greed. Help us to realize that all power comes from You above, and instill in us the confidence necessary to put ourselves in Your hands as we make the choices that govern this Commonwealth.

May we prove worthy of the trust that has been placed in us by our fellow citizens. May we be guided by a true conscience in whatever we do in these hallowed halls, and may we be servants for doing good. Forgive us our mistakes and selfish tendencies, and when the sun sets, let us be able to say that we did everything for the honor and glory of You, and we do all of this in Your name. Amen.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the lady and congratulates the team.

WILL LITTLE PRESENTED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Representative Johnson and Representative Waters are invited to the rostrum for the purpose of presenting a citation for Mr. Will Little.

Mr. JOHNSON. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, today I rise to recognize and honor the achievements and contributions of Will Little, founder of the Poetry N Motion youth violence prevention program.

As legislators, we are constantly reminded of the criminal justice failure to adequately rehabilitate offenders. High recidivism rates are often cited as evidence of a Department of Corrections that neglects to correct and reform criminal behavior.

While many may argue that young offenders are often lost causes, once in a while a true example of the rehabilitative success of our justice system proves that stigma to be incorrect. Mr. Will Little, CEO and founder of the Poetry N Motion youth violence program, serves as an exception to the rule regarding the perceived failure to rehabilitate young offenders.

Will Little came from a single-parent home in a tough neighborhood of South Philadelphia. As a misguided and troublesome youth, Will soon found himself ensnared in a life of crime and violence. At the age of 19, Will was convicted and sentenced to serve time in the criminal justice system. However, despite the errors of his past, he was determined to transform himself and be a contribution to his community. It was during his incarceration that Will Little resolved to utilize the educational programs made available to him in an effort to improve himself.

In 2003 Will Little developed a program called Poetry N Motion, which utilizes the art form of poetry to show young people how to overcome life's trials and obstacles through taking ownership of the choices they make in life and positive action. His Poetry N Motion program has gained statewide success, enjoying audiences such as the student body and faculty of Girard College of Philadelphia and entertainer Bill Cosby, amongst other dignitaries.

In addition, Will Little has received numerous awards and citations from the Philadelphia Mayor's Office; the office of the late Lieutenant Governor, Catherine Baker Knoll; and former Philadelphia Prison Commissioner Leon King, and in 2010, received the former Congressman Lucien E. Blackwell Guiding Light Award.

Currently Will Little and Poetry N Motion works with Philadelphia District Attorney Seth Williams addressing the issues of youth violence. Will Little epitomizes what we expect from all who have made mistakes and have been given a second chance to reintegrate into society. And I would like to personally acknowledge the hard work of Mr. Will Little – and can the Poetry N Motion group please stand? – for your contributions, not only to the city of Philadelphia but also to the State of Pennsylvania and making sure our young people are safe and making sure we have a safer State.

I would also like to turn it over to Chairman Ron Waters to make a few remarks.

Mr. WATERS. Thank you, Representative Johnson. And I would like to ask the members of the House if they would join us in this resolution 339 because of what it actually means to us as lawmakers.

We as lawmakers work real hard to try to create laws that will serve as deterrents to crime and to the culture of crime. We work real hard to try to make sure that Pennsylvanians are safe and have a safe neighborhood and safe neighborhoods and communities in which to grow and to make sure that the schools are safe places to send our children.

Sometimes we do not always arrive at where we are trying to get to because many times the people out there might not listen to us, but they do listen to what they choose to listen to. Will Little and Poetry N Motion have come up with a way of communicating with young people in a way where they get their attention, because it is hard to teach anybody anything if you do not have their attention. So they have a way of first reaching them, getting their attention, and speaking a language which they can identify with, but that language helps bring them to where we want them, as lawmakers, where we want them to arrive, to be productive citizens and to have successful and peaceful lives that we all are proud of.

So to Will Little and to Poetry N Motion, I would just like to congratulate you for receiving another recognition from the Pennsylvania House of Representatives for doing what you do. Even though you get this done with very little resources, you still go out there with your heart to reach people and get this done. So thank you for what it means to us as lawmakers, thank you to what it means to us as citizens of this Commonwealth, but more importantly, thank you for what it means to the children and our future.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the members and congratulates the gentleman.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MR. SONNEY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman, Mr. Sonney, rise?

Mr. SONNEY. Unanimous consent, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the gentleman, Mr. Sonney, is recognized on unanimous consent.

Mr. SONNEY. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, today I rise, along with the rest of the Erie delegation, to welcome the Young People's Chorus of Erie to the Capitol. They are presently performing in the main rotunda, and I would encourage all members that if they have the opportunity when we break to stop down and say hello and take a listen. So thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

RESOLUTION PURSUANT TO RULE 35

Mr. MUSTIO called up HR 332, PN 2035, entitled:

A Resolution honoring Joyce A. Bender, the CEO and founder of Bender Consulting Services, Inc., for her service to the epilepsy movement and the disabled community, for her service as the Chair of the National Epilepsy Foundation Board of Directors and as the recipient of the 2011 Hero of Epilepsy Award.

On the question,
Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. On the resolution, the Chair recognizes the gentleman, Mr. Mustio.

Members, please take your seats. Members, kindly take your seats.

Mr. MUSTIO. Mr. Speaker, it is not often that this House gets to recognize—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman suspend.

Mr. MUSTIO. It is not often that this House gets to—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Mr. Mustio, please suspend. There is entirely too much noise. I am getting indications that members cannot hear. Let us wait.

Thank you. The gentleman may continue.

Mr. MUSTIO. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

It is not often that this House gets to recognize an individual that has also been honored and recognized by Presidents, not just one President but multiple Presidents of our country. And today, we had previously had Ms. Joyce Bender introduced to us, but at this time I would like to speak on behalf of HR 332, which is honoring Joyce Bender. And I think the mission that she and her company live by, I think once you hear some of these words, is something that all of us can take to heart, not only as we practice our business here but as we advocate for individuals in our communities. So if those of you would please give me about a minute here, I would appreciate your attention. Thank you.

Joyce Bender is one of the estimated 206,000 Pennsylvanians living with epilepsy and seizures, and Joyce has dedicated countless and selfless hours of service to the Epilepsy

Foundation and the disability movement. In fact, this past May 21, she concluded her 2-year term as chair of the National Epilepsy Foundation.

Joyce has provided fearless leadership to the mission of the Epilepsy Foundation, which is to lead the fight to stop seizures, find a cure, and overcome the challenges created by epilepsy.

I would like to read to you a couple of the honors that she has received from Presidents of our United States. In 1999 President Clinton presented Joyce with the President's Award. This is our country's highest honor for achievement in furthering the employment and empowerment of people with disabilities.

In 2003 she received the New Freedom Initiative Award from Federal Labor Secretary Elaine Chao. She was the only individual to receive the award for furthering the employment objectives of President George Bush's New Freedom Initiative.

I had mentioned briefly earlier about some of the mission and vision statements that she lives by and her employees live by, and I would like to share those with you at this point.

Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is correct. There is entirely too much noise. Please, please take your seats, members.

The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. MUSTIO. "We will always have a workforce where talent is the only discriminator."

"We will be leaders in advancing accessible technology solutions."

"We will never, ever tolerate pity and we will work to eliminate it."

"We will work to empower young people with disabilities to become self-advocates."

Mr. Speaker, we had honored Joyce Bender or recognized her being on the floor earlier today, but I would like to at this time, if my colleagues would please again recognize her with a round of applause for the tireless efforts that she has conducted in her life and on her company's behalf as well for those that are disadvantaged in our citizenry. Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

STATEMENT BY MR. ADOLPH

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman, Mr. Adolph, rise?

Mr. ADOLPH. Personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. ADOLPH. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I want to first thank Representative Mustio for recognizing the great accomplishments that Joyce Bender has done in her life and the number of hours that she has devoted to the fight against epilepsy.

I also want to thank the members of this chamber for their many, many votes in the funding of the Epilepsy Foundation here in Pennsylvania, and it is very apropos, as a result of this being the budget time, that I just want to thank all the members of this House for their support of epilepsy funding.

So thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, for allowing me to say those words. Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

STATEMENT BY MR. SAMUELSON

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman, Mr. Samuelson, rise?

Mr. SAMUELSON. May I also speak on the resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That we just passed?

Mr. SAMUELSON. Yes.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. SAMUELSON. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I also want to express support for epilepsy support services that has been funded in previous budgets of the House in Pennsylvania, including $394,000 in the current year. I know there have been a couple of budget proposals by the Governor and the House majority that would eliminate this funding, but I am hopeful that in the next 2 weeks, as this budget is finalized, we can find a way to restore this $394,000 for these very important epilepsy support services.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

RESOLUTIONS PURSUANT TO RULE 35

Mr. TALLMAN called up HR 335, PN 2055, entitled:

A Resolution honoring the life of outstanding Pennsylvanian United States Army Major General Gerald T. Sajer and extending condolences to his family.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. On the resolution, the Chair would like to recognize the gentleman, Mr. Tallman. This is a condolence-related resolution, so, members, please take your seats.

The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. TALLMAN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

This morning we would like to honor the life and service of Major General Sajer, who was a resident of my district, and Representative Pashinski knows the family very personally. He is going to give more remarks. And what I find interesting is, on November 12, 1990, Veterans Day 1990, he spoke to the chambers, in this chamber on Veterans Day, and I am going to read you a couple portions of that speech. And then yesterday we had our current Adjutant General speak to us, and I think it is somewhat fitting that we would recognize him on this day and his service to our Commonwealth.

I am going to read a comment from that speech, and basically most of you know I have a son who is currently serving in Afghanistan with the United States Army, and just a small portion in that speech, and in this he says, he asks that "...we be united as a people and as a Nation in support of what they do and that we have the resolve to see it through." That is not much to ask of us. And Desert Storm was just starting at that point in time, and he goes on for actually a couple more pages on emphasizing that same subject.

And then lastly, near the end of his speech, a couple of comments throughout this, but "On this day we prayerfully beseech our Heavenly Father . . ." and then he goes on and offers a prayer for the troops that were there over in Iraq. So he also was a man of faith, and so I really have appreciated his service.

Representative Pashinski.

Mr. PASHINSKI. Thank you very much, Representative Tallman.

I appreciate the opportunity to share some thoughts, some memories, of a beautiful man, a beautiful person, and certainly a loving American.

Mr. Speaker, it is with a heavy heart that I present to you, to the members of the General Assembly, and to the people of Pennsylvania this condolence resolution to honor and pay respect to a truly great American, Maj. Gen. Gerald T. Sajer (Retired).

It was 4 years ago when I first had the distinct pleasure of meeting General Sajer. He was a vibrant man with a spit-and-polished appearance and distributing enough energy to light up the entire city of Philadelphia 10 times over; a man full of life overflowing with ideas and eager to continue to serve for the public good.

In time I came to know that he was the son of a coal miner from Milton, Pennsylvania, a family that experienced tragedy and extreme hardship very early in his life. As we all know, coal mining is a dangerous job, and like so many families of miners, thousands endured the untimely death of their fathers and their husbands. At this time, when the death of a father of the family occurred, many children were placed in orphan homes since most mothers could not earn enough money to keep the family together. Fortunately, we have institutions like Hershey and Girard College in Philadelphia that help nurture and educate these orphans. General Sajer was the recipient of that nurturing and that education, and he received a secondary education from that college, Girard College, in 1946.

He later earned his bachelor's degree, summa cum laude, from Tufts University in 1956. Because of his academic standing, he was selected for membership in the prestigious academic fraternity Phi Beta Kappa. General Sajer later received his law degree from Harvard University in 1959 and a master's degree from Shippensburg in 1984. The General knew full well the value of an education and was a strong proponent of our State System.

General Sajer's military career began in the Army as a rifleman in 1946. After basic training, he was then selected for Officer Candidate School and received his commission, second lieutenant, and served as company engineer in the units at Korea and Japan. Following the outbreak of hostilities in Korea, General Sajer attended airborne school and Ranger training at Fort Benning, Georgia, and served in Korea in 1952 and '53 as a Ranger captain in intelligence collection activities in support of the 8th United States Army.

General Sajer subsequently joined the Army National Guard in 1959 as a captain in the 28th Infantry Division. He served as the Assistant G3 Plans and Operations, responsible for operational planning and execution, and as chief of staff of the 28th Infantry Division.

In 1976 he was promoted to Brigadier General and appointed as Assistant Division Commander of Maneuvers for the 28th Infantry Division. He was appointed as Adjutant General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on January 20, 1987, and later promoted to Major General.

As Adjutant General, he was responsible for command, control, and supervision of soldiers and airmen of the Army and Air National Guard in units of the Commonwealth of PA and for providing trained and equipped units capable of performing their wartime missions and for providing military support to civil authorities in responding to manmade and natural disasters.

Under General Sajer's leadership, the Pennsylvania National Guard grew to 24,000 strong, the greatest strength ever. His Guard was considered and regarded as the best Guard in the entire country.

General Sajer's awards and decorations include the Distinguished Service Medal, Soldier's Medal, Legion of Merit, Meritorious Service Medal, American Campaign Medal, World War II Victory Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Korean Service Medal, Armed Forces Reserve Medal, Army Reserve Components Achievement Medal, United Nations Service Medal, Pennsylvania Distinguished Service Medal, Gen. Thomas J. Stewart Medal, Pennsylvania Service Ribbon, and Parachute and Ranger Tabs. Pretty amazing for a little kid, a little orphan, from Milton, Pennsylvania.

General Sajer was a creative man, a man of limitless ideas, never concerned about conventional thinking, always searching for the human spirit, to improve it and to preserve the freedoms of this country, the country he loved.

He consistently demonstrated his creativity, energy, and determination to improve the lives of our military families. With his loving wife, Helen, at his side, they opened their hearts and their farm to provide food, enjoyment, relaxation, and kindness to so many military families. He acquired millions of dollars to provide training centers, amphitheatres, and memorials to strengthen and preserve the integrity of his beloved National Guard. He never stopped reaching out to the Guard members and their families. He stayed steadfast to this goal of actively reaching out through the Wounded Warrior Program at Walter Reed General Hospital.

Yes, General Sajer was an exceptional man, a noble man, a warrior, a leader, a public servant who respected and embraced education; loved and revered culture, music, and the arts; loved learning and reading, and history, especially military. He even wrote movies, movie scripts, and plays. He was a man of the highest moral standards who embodied an aura of integrity, virtue, and honesty; a man who loved life, loved his Guard, loved his country, and a man who loved his family most.

As with many great men, there is an angel at their side – his confidant, loving companion, and his inspiration. With his loving wife, Helen, at his side, together they brought into the world six beautiful children that made him most proud. Each have advanced degrees, three have served in the military, and through his wife, his children, and his 15 beautiful grandchildren, they will carry his legacy so that others may benefit from his teachings and stalwart example of a truly great American – Maj. Gen. Gerald T. Sajer (Retired).

FAMILY INTRODUCED

Mr. PASHINSKI. At this time I would ask the House to recognize his wife of 54 years, Helen Sajer; his daughter, Marsha; his son, Frank, with wife, Connie; and 2 of his 15 grandchildren, granddaughters Megan and Katie.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman and recognizes the gentleman, Mr. DeWeese.

Mr. DeWEESE. General Sajer was my chief of staff. Representative Tallman and Representative Pashinski have been eloquent, and I only have one anecdote that relates to history and relates to the General.

In the 1850s, a young cadet at West Point wrote to his mother and said that he had gazed out the barracks window and seen General Lee, and he said that he walked with that tall, peculiar, linear manner of a man accustomed to the drill. Anyone who ever met General Sajer would equate him with the apotheosis of the martial spirit, for our Commonwealth has never produced a finer general. Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

Will the members please rise as a sign of respect to the contributions, life, and service of General Sajer and lift him up and his family at this time.

(Whereupon, the members of the House and all visitors stood in a moment of silence in solemn respect to the memory of United States Army Maj. Gen. Gerald T. Sajer.)

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman, Mr. Thomas.

Mr. THOMAS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I rise for personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Do you wish to speak on this resolution we are about to vote upon?

Mr. THOMAS. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I want to join family, friends, and my colleagues in lifting up Major General Sajer. I have had an opportunity to watch and interact with the Major General from afar and from up close – from afar when I was a member of the executive side of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; up close as a member of this General Assembly for 22 years – and I cannot think of one time that I have called on Major General Sajer for support, information, or assistance regarding challenges that veterans might have faced in my district, he has never said no; he has never allowed time to lapse without getting back to me and providing me the information that I requested.

So, Mr. Speaker, in closing, I say that the Guard of Pennsylvania is better today than it was when Major General Sajer came to the Guard. And secondly, Pennsylvania is a better place to live, work, and worship than at the time when Major General Sajer came to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. So I thank his wife, his family, and I thank my colleagues for this opportunity. Thank you, and God bless.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

In honor of General Sajer, the question recurs, will the House agree and adopt the resolution?

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

STATEMENT BY MR. HENNESSEY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. With respect to HR 341, the gentleman, Mr. Hennessey, is recognized.

Mr. HENNESSEY. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I want to thank the House for its unanimous adoption of HR 341 declaring today, June 15, as "Elder Abuse Awareness Day" in Pennsylvania.

In Pennsylvania, we treasure our seniors as valuable resources in our communities and in our Commonwealth. We respect them and offer programs to help them stay in their own homes for as long as they can, as they tell us consistently that they prefer to do, and we also provide a system of medical institutions that can treat them in their later years as their needs demand.

Our Pennsylvania Lottery funds programs like PACE (Pharmaceutical Assistance Contract for the Elderly) and PACENET (Pharmaceutical Assistance Contract for the Elderly Needs Enhancement Tier) to help seniors with medications and the Property Tax and Rent Rebate Program to help with those expenses. But another very important way to respect our seniors is to protect them from those who would take advantage of them financially or abuse them physically. Our Older Adults Protective Services Act, Act 79, is a model for the nation in that regard, and we operate an elder abuse hotline 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, a hotline whose number, by the way, is 800-490-8505.

In Pennsylvania, we have systems in place to help our seniors, but everyone has to do their own part to report suspected abuse, whether financial or physical or emotional. Remember the hotline number, 1-800-490-8505. Working together, we will build an even better Pennsylvania for our seniors.

Thank you once again for your unanimous adoption of HR 341, designating today as "Elder Abuse Awareness Day" in Pennsylvania. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

Any other announcements?

Mr. DeWEESE. Could the Chair potentially enlighten the membership as to a tentative schedule for the rest of the day and tomorrow? And if not, I certainly understand, but if there is any way we could get a handle on the next couple of days, it would be helpful.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. We are planning to recess at the call of the Chair and coming back this afternoon following caucus, and that is all the information we have at this point, Mr. DeWeese.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the bill passed finally.

Ordered, That the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REMARKS SUBMITTED FOR THE RECORD

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman, Mr. DeLuca, rise?

Mr. DeLUCA. Unanimous consent, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is recognized under unanimous consent.

Mr. DeLUCA. On HB 424, I would like to submit my remarks for the record.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman may submit those to the clerk, and we thank him.

Mr. DeLUCA. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DeLUCA submitted the following remarks for the Legislative Journal:

Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the majority party for bringing the important issue of public adjusters reform to a floor vote, as this issue has been negotiated for years and passed this chamber last session by a vote of 199-0, only to die in the Senate.

I want to recognize Representative Godshall for sponsoring this bill and also acknowledge my good friend, Representative Dom Costa, for his amendment strengthening this legislation. HB 424 reflects many discussions and balances from all perspectives: the Insurance Department, the public adjusters, and insurers. This legislation was successfully brought to the floor for a vote today as a result of bipartisan efforts, countless meetings, and two Insurance Committee hearings.

This is clearly a consumer protection issue that is good for our constituents and the industry. These are important and necessary reforms. The key provisions of this legislation would:

1. Allow for a longer time period for the consumer to rescind a potential agreement during a stressful time of a claim.
2. Prohibit adjusters from soliciting business while a house is burning from a fire (during a loss-producing occurrence).

3. Disallow interference between the policyholder and their insurer by the adjuster.
4. Require the initialing of key disclosures in adjuster contracts. This is an important safeguard for true consumer disclosure.

I urge your support of these reforms and again ask for a unanimous vote so that we can send a unified message to the Senate again this session.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

This amendment amends the bill to modify the proposed "credit week" definition. It implements a change that the increase will be from $50 to $100 for calendar years 2013-14, and then for year 2015, the term "credit week" would be defined as "Sixteen (16) times the minimum hourly wage..." rate. It also amends the bill to move the effective date of the increase in the minimum benefit level from $35 to $70 to January 1, 2013. It also amends the bill to change the effective date of the variable credit week provision from January 1 of 2013 to January 1 of 2015. It amends the bill to increase the amount of severance pay that would not be subject to severance pay offset from $11,158 to $17,853. It amends the bill to add language which states, "For the calendar year 2012, the maximum weekly benefit rate shall be frozen at the rate calculated for calendar year 2011," which is $572 a week. It amends the bill to add language to state that irrespective of the provisions of what law calls for with respect to annual increase in maximum benefit rate, the maximum weekly benefit rate established for 2013 shall be no greater than a 1-percent increase from the 2012 rate. The rate established for 2014 shall be no greater than a 1.1-percent increase from the 2013 rate. The rate established for 2015 shall be no greater than a 1.2-percent increase from the 2014 rate. The rate established for 2016 shall be no greater than a 1.3-percent increase from the 2015 rate. The rate for 2017 shall be no greater than 1.4 percent from the 2016 rate. And the rate for 2018 shall be no greater increase than 1.5 percent from the 2017 rate. The caps instituted for years 2013 through 2018 would end in any calendar year where the employers no longer are assessed a Federal debt surcharge.

Mr. Speaker, that is the content of this amendment, and I would appreciate the members' support for this amendment.

The SPEAKER. The question is, will the House agree to the amendment?

On that question, the Speaker recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. William Keller.

Mr. W. KELLER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Very briefly, I want to thank the gentleman from York, the chairman of the Labor Committee, Representative Miller, for the fine work we have done on this to come up with this compromise; the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. DiGirolamo. This is, I believe, the way this House should be run. I hope and I think we have a commitment that we could take this momentum and roll it into solving, to fix the insolvency problem on the fund, and that will be the reform we need for Pennsylvania.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The question is, will the House agree to the amendment?

On that question, the Speaker recognizes the gentleman, Mr. Dermody.

Mr. DERMODY. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I just want to briefly also say thank you to everybody who helped work so hard and negotiated so hard to make sure we got this compromise. I want to also say that it protects almost 100,000 unemployed workers who will now be able to collect unemployment benefits that they so desperately need. It was important for us to pass this for the unemployed workers in Pennsylvania. I want to say we all should vote for the Miller amendment.

The SPEAKER. The question is, will the House agree to the amendment?

On that question, the Speaker recognizes the gentleman, Mr. Turzai.

Mr. TURZAI. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

Sir, this is a pro-jobs vote. We in Pennsylvania are committed, in the Pennsylvania Legislature we are committed to making sure that we improve the Pennsylvania employment climate. This is an opportunity to not only take those who have hit a tough time, to make sure that things are best for them, to give them a helping hand to get through the tough time, but in addition, it is an opportunity to bring some fairness and some improvements to the unemployment compensation system, both for employers and employees. A rising tide raises all ships. We are all on the same team. It is we as Pennsylvanians who want to provide family-sustaining jobs so that we can take care of our loved ones and ourselves. This is an opportunity to do that. It works on both sides of the equation. I applaud everybody who helped reach this compromise. I am excited about the prospect of making this become law. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The question is, will the House agree to the amendment?

On that question, the Speaker recognizes the gentleman, Mr. Miller, for the second time.

Mr. MILLER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I just would be remiss if I did not thank the minority chairman, the gentleman from Philadelphia, because it truly was a great effort on his part to help get this across the finish line. With that, I would ask for an affirmative vote.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendment?
