RESOLUTION PURSUANT TO RULE 35

Mr. BIZZARRO called up HR 538, PN 2610, entitled:

A Resolution designating November 2013 as "National Epilepsy Awareness Month" in Pennsylvania to inform the public about epilepsy and recognizing July 27, 2014, as "Alyssa Josephine O'Neill, '#ajo,' Pay-it-Forward Day" to celebrate one who had the disease and died too young, but who inspired others to get involved to educate the public about epilepsy.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER. The Speaker recognizes the gentleman from Erie County, Mr. Bizzarro.

Mr. BIZZARRO. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, Representative Ravenstahl and I would like to thank our colleagues for their support on HR 538 designating November 2013 as "National Epilepsy Awareness Month" and recognizing July 27, 2014, as "Alyssa Josephine O'Neill, '#ajo,' Pay-it-Forward Day."

The O'Neill family is here with us today: Jason and his wife, Sarah, and their beautiful children, Ava, Ansley, and Jace. Unfortunately, the O'Neill's oldest daughter, Alyssa, is not with us. It is because of her that they are here today.

HR 538 not only recognizes November as "National Epilepsy Awareness Month," but it also recognizes the grassroots "#ajo" movement as a now international movement, spreading epilepsy awareness throughout the entire world. What began as a small gesture by Jason and Sarah O'Neill to deal with their personal grief at the loss of their daughter has snowballed into a campaign to teach the world's population about living with epilepsy. With the help of Inside Edition, Facebook, Twitter, and other various social media outlets, this pay-it-forward initiative can be seen from the desert in Afghanistan to Okinawa, Japan, Australia, and beyond. Alyssa Josephine O'Neill brought immeasurable joy to many during her short life, and her legacy is world renowned.

We would like to personally thank the O'Neills for sharing Alyssa's personal story and for making us all aware of the challenges associated with living with epilepsy. Because of their efforts, lives will be saved and Alyssa's spirit will live on. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Speaker thanks the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

BILLS ON CONCURRENCE IN SENATE AMENDMENTS

The House proceeded to consideration of concurrence in Senate amendments to HB 391, PN 2491, entitled:

An Act amending Title 53 (Municipalities Generally) of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes, in assessments of persons and property, providing for installment payments and further providing for limitations; and, in payment and collection of taxes, providing for cities and counties of the first class.

On the question,
Will the House concur in Senate amendments?

The SPEAKER. Moved by the gentleman from Philadelphia County, Mr. McGeehan, that the House concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate.

The Speaker recognizes the gentleman, Mr. McGeehan, for a brief description of Senate amendments.

Mr. McGEEHAN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, the amendments that the Senate added is language requiring that tax information collected by the city of Philadelphia remain confidential, and it also added language that prohibits the city from offering a homestead property tax exemption to anyone that qualifies for a tax abatement during the same year. It essentially denies individuals the ability to collect, essentially, two tax rebates in the same year. The underlying bill, obviously, with these Senate amendments remains the same.

The SPEAKER. The Speaker thanks the gentleman.

Will the House concur in Senate amendments?
