Also located to the left of the rostrum, we would like to welcome guests of Representative Heffley – Col. J. Matthew Lissner, congressional legislative liaison, U.S. Army Reserve, Fort Dix, New Jersey; and George H. Duell, Jr., the Army Reserve ambassador of Pennsylvania. Will our guests please rise. Welcome to the hall of the House.

And to the left of the rostrum, we would like to welcome ROTC (Reserve Officers' Training Corps) cadets from Penn State's Nittany Lion Battalion, who took an oath for their future service to the United States Army. They took it this morning in the Capitol Rotunda. I am pleased to introduce Quinn Brisbon, Kimberly Lightner, Tyler Strause, Matthew Ross, Cara Williams, and Nicholas DeLissio, who is Representative DeLissio's nephew. They are here with their commanding officer, Lt. Col. Ken Weiland, and in the rear of the House are Lt. Col. Robert Kennedy; Sgt. Maj. Carolann Wright; and family members of the cadets, including Col. Edward DeLissio, the father of Nicholas and brother of Representative DeLissio. Will all our guests please rise, back in the center and over here to the left. Welcome to the hall of the House.

STATEMENT BY MS. DELISSIO

The SPEAKER. The Speaker recognizes the lady from Philadelphia County, Ms. DeLissio, under unanimous consent.

Ms. DeLissio. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, it is my privilege today to honor these newly sworn cadets. In the 3 years that I have been in office, I have been impressed to participate in a number of events honoring military personnel, and most unfortunately, sometimes those honors are posthumously, and today we have had the opportunity to witness – some of us were there in the rotunda this morning – to witness these young men and women taking this oath of office, this commitment to country that allows us to do what we do every day as legislators. It provides our constituents and the citizens of Pennsylvania that freedom and that liberty to live our lives the way our country was intended and founded over 237 years ago today.

So this morning, Mr. Speaker, with your indulgence, I would like to share with you reflections of a newly sworn cadet: "Today I've sworn an oath to serve my country, to protect its citizens, and to be a part of something bigger than myself. There is no greater feeling than being a part of the greatest team in the world, and I'm proud to say I had the opportunity to announce that commitment today in the Pennsylvania State Capitol.

The SPEAKER. One hundred and ninety-eight members having voted on the master roll call, a quorum is present.

"I am proud to follow in the family tradition. My dad, Ed, is a colonel in the U.S. Army, and my mom, Karen, is a West Point graduate.

"I look forward to serving my country proudly and becoming a future leader in the United States Army. Thank you."

And thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Speaker thanks the lady.

STATEMENT BY MR. GILLEN

The SPEAKER. The Speaker recognizes the gentleman from Berks County, Mr. Gillen, under unanimous consent.

Mr. GILLEN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and I want to thank the gentlelady from Philadelphia as well for her very pointed, very patriotic remarks.

We have a great tradition in this hall of honoring those fallen warriors who have gone on before us and indeed wounded warriors. We have introduced many that were midstream in military careers, but in my brief tenure in the House, I do not recall acknowledging those that are at the very genesis of their careers and having their oath of office administered in this very building, in the rotunda.

If I could just familiarize us a brief moment with the Nittany Battalion, they have competed for many years in ROTC, a rigorous ROTC competition, and for 4 years running at Fort Dix, New Jersey, they were the winners of that competition. Last April the Nittany Battalion, Penn State's ROTC, participated in an international competition. Physically Penn State is the best, it is the brightest, and they won a national ROTC competition at West Point. They, additionally, competed internationally against the likes of the Aussies and the Canadians, and when they were acknowledged for their performance, it was said of them that they were professional and they were focused. Indeed, the accolades referred to them as being highly skillful and excellent. Translated from Mandarin into English was another team that did not do nearly as well as the United States team represented by Penn State, and it was the Chinese team.

Mr. Speaker, these men and women could have been professional athletes in some cases. They will never be in the stadium on a Saturday with 100,000 cheering fans. They will never experience tens of thousands in an arena. They have chosen the admirable place of quiet and humble duty because of their love for duty, honor, and country. What America needs in the 21st century is exactly what the Nittany Battalion is offering – a love of country, a love of family, and a love of duty – and we are privileged to have the Nittany Lion Battalion here with us in the hall of the House of Representatives this morning.

God bless you, ladies and gentlemen.

GUESTS INTRODUCED

The SPEAKER. Also, some other guests that are with us. Located in the rear of the House, we would like to welcome Kristina Wilt. She is a member of the York County Agricultural Preservation Board, and she is here today as a guest of Representative Grove. Will our guest please rise; standing back under the flag on the left.

And I would like to introduce one other guest, who will soon not be a guest here. Located to the left of the rostrum is Representative-elect Jesse Topper of the 78th Legislative District. He won the special election yesterday. He would be representing, when he gets sworn in, Fulton, Bedford, and Huntingdon Counties. Welcome to the hall of the House, Jesse.

The House will be at ease for a couple of minutes.

The House will come to order.

The SPEAKER. On that question, the Speaker recognizes the gentleman from Bucks County, Mr. O'Neill.

Mr. O'NEILL. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, this amendment, what it does to the bill, given what has happened over the last couple years with the Keystone Exams and the controversy over them, what it will do is create a clearinghouse created by the Department of Education for all the Keystone Exams that will be offered. Currently there are two online courses to back up the Keystone Exams for our public schools. A third is being created, and what it will do is require a Keystone clearinghouse of online courses for all the Keystone Exams. Thank you.

STATEMENT BY MR. HARRIS

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Juniata, Mr. Harris, rise?

Mr. A. HARRIS. A point of personal privilege, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order and may state his point.

Mr. A. HARRIS. I just wanted to briefly thank the members for their unanimous support of HB 1489.

I want to say a big thank you to our staff, to Karen Coates and Tammy Fox, who helped this legislation go from one pretty simple idea to three rather complex ideas, and they were just a great help as we went through the amendment process.

And as most of you know, we could not do what we do without our staff members. So I wanted to say thank you to them and thank you to the members for your unanimous support.

BILL ON THIRD CONSIDERATION

The House proceeded to third consideration of HB 1808, PN 2940, entitled:

An Act amending Title 42 (Judiciary and Judicial Procedure) of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes, in limitation of time, further providing for the period of limitation relating to claims of adverse possession under certain circumstances; and providing for uniform notice, for mesne profits and for reimbursement.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third consideration?
Bill was agreed to.

(Bill analysis was read.)

The SPEAKER. This bill has been considered on three different days and agreed to and is now on final passage.

The question is, shall the bill pass finally?

On that question, the Speaker recognizes the gentleman from Delaware County, Mr. Vitali.

Mr. VITALI. Would the maker of the bill stand for brief interrogation?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Masser, indicates he will stand for interrogation. You may proceed.

Mr. VITALI. Could you briefly explain what this bill does?

Mr. MASSER. It is taking adverse possession from 21 years down to 10 years as under current law.

Mr. VITALI. Right. And what is the policy reason behind doing that?

Mr. MASSER. I would say that we are seeing a number of blighted properties in a number of areas that ownership is sometimes hard to determine. The occupants are in the house and it is further adding to the blight problem we have throughout the Commonwealth, whereas the owners cannot apply for financing to fix the house, in many cases.

Mr. VITALI. Could you thresh that out a little more? My concern here, I will tell you, is I just want to make sure that someone who is the rightful owner of a property – maybe their neighbor is encroaching on it and they do not do anything for 10 years and all of a sudden it is their neighbor's property. I am just a little concerned here. When I went to law school, it was 21 years and no one seemed to suggest that was the wrong amount of time. So maybe if you could just thresh out examples of how this might come into play. I am just a little concerned, a little concerned about a change in the law to this extent.

Mr. MASSER. Nothing is changed except the timeframe. All the protections that were in there for that 21-year period, since the beginning of the Commonwealth, are still in there protecting it. It has changed if they are an occupant from 21 years to 10 years.

Mr. VITALI. Right.

Mr. MASSER. And it is only in certain circumstances.

Mr. VITALI. And what circumstances are they?

Mr. MASSER. A property that is no more than one-half acre in area, it is improved by a single-family dwelling, it is identified as a separate lot in a recorded conveyance, occupied by the claimant, and not part of a common interest ownership community.

Mr. VITALI. Okay. Have any groups weighed in on this? Have there been any groups come out in support of it or in opposition to it?

Mr. MASSER. The Pennsylvania Bar Association has and is in favor of the bill; strongly supportive. There was a similar bill that was done by Representative Wheatley in sessions past.

Mr. VITALI. Right. Okay. Thank you.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. Agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays will now be taken.
