

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 2015

SESSION OF 2015

199TH OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

No. 29

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The House convened at 11 a.m., e.d.t.

THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE
(MATTHEW E. BAKER) PRESIDING

PRAYER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The prayer will be offered by Rev. Scott Bowerman, Central Presbyterian Church of Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, who is a guest of Representative Kauffman.

REV. SCOTT BOWERMAN, Guest Chaplain of the House of Representatives, offered the following prayer:

Good morning, friends, and grace and peace to you.
Would you join me in prayer:

Almighty and gracious God, we thank You for the enormous blessings of today and of living in this country, that we can worship You freely without fear of persecution, govern our affairs without fear of oppression, and enjoy the fruit of our labor without fear of confiscation.

We thank You for the gift of self-government and for the Representatives gathered in this chamber. They are elected to an awesome responsibility – to seek the common good rather than the good of an elite few, to establish mercy and justice, to protect the helpless and innocent, and to work for human flourishing. This morning we pause especially to give You thanks for the work of the men and women who protect us in the armed services and in law enforcement, and we give a moment of silence in memory of Robert Wilson III, who died in the line of duty.

(A moment of silence was observed.)

Dear God, these women and men here today are Your servants, and they need Your help. The issues before them are complex and resist easy solutions. They are besieged by e-mails and phone calls and media demanding they vote or act in one way or another. They are trying to bridge political and ideological divides, and like many of us, they have too much to do and too little time.

Today's work is just the work of one day, but we ask that it be a productive day, that debate be reasoned and civil, that minds and hearts be open to new and different ideas, that the wisdom of Your spirit would prevail, and that at day's end all can go home knowing that they have done their best in Your sight to make this world a little more like You intend it to be. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

(The Pledge of Allegiance was recited by members and visitors.)

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the approval of the Journal of Tuesday, April 21, 2015, will be postponed until printed.

APPROPRIATIONS.

The SPEAKER. Members, please take your seats.

Members, we will be taking up a resolution honoring the life and sacrifice of Officer Wilson. This is Representative Thomas's resolution.

CALENDARRESOLUTION PURSUANT TO RULE 35

Mr. THOMAS called up HR 181, PN 975, entitled:

A Resolution honoring the life and ultimate sacrifice of Officer Robert Wilson III, of the 22nd District Philadelphia Police Department, who lost his life in the line of duty, and expressing condolences upon his passing.

On the question,
Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER. At this time I would call upon Representative Thomas of Philadelphia County. And, Representative, if you want to come up to the rostrum, feel free.

Any other members who wish to join Representative Thomas, please feel free to stand behind him.

Mr. THOMAS. Good morning, the Honorable Michael Turzai, Speaker; Hon. Dave Reed, majority leader; Hon. Frank Dermody, Democratic leader; esteemed members of the House Democratic and Republican leadership; stellar colleagues of this august body; families of Officer Robert Wilson; families of Moses Walker:

Today I rise to stand side by side with the Honorable Leslie Acosta, who is being represented by the Honorable Stephen Kinsey, the Honorable Vanessa Brown, the Honorable White, Hon. Cherelle Parker, Hon. Ronald G. Waters, the Philadelphia delegation, and we stand side by side to recognize an extraordinary man who went above and beyond in his commitment to serve and protect our citizens. Philadelphia Police Officer Robert Wilson was gunned down on March 5, 2015, as he tried to stop a robbery at a GameStop shop in North Philadelphia.

Officer Wilson was at the store to buy his son a video game as a reward for a good report card. And Officer Wilson's 10-year-old son is with us this morning. As he was waiting in line, two men armed with an AK-47 and another weapon, in illegal possession of those guns, entered the store and announced a robbery. Officer Wilson quickly took action, exchanged shots with the two gunmen, and drew their attention away from the customers and employees in the store. Despite being struck three times during the shootout, Officer Wilson continued to pursue the suspects as they attempted to flee the scene, but he would later pass from his injuries.

As an 8-year veteran of the force, Officer Wilson was a credit to the Philadelphia Police Department. He was committed to building trust between the community and the police and was devoted to his faith, family, and community. We are joined today by the captain of that police command, the 22d Police Command, Captain Glenn, and many of the officers from the 22d Police Command.

Officer Wilson was a husband, a father, a friend, a neighbor, and a devoted man of faith. He was there when people needed him and was a credit to his profession and to society. For his valor, Officer Wilson was posthumously promoted to sergeant, and the department's Medal of Valor has been renamed in the name of Robert Wilson's honor.

GUESTS INTRODUCED

Mr. THOMAS. Members of Officer Wilson's family are here today, and I would like for them to stand: his 10-year-old son, his grandmother, brother, and other family members.

Along with Officer Robert Wilson's family, some of his colleagues from the 22d Police Command, I would like for them to stand.

We thank them for their courageous service every day. Also joining us in the House today is the family of Philadelphia Police Officer Moses Walker, whose life was cut short in 2012 as he was ambushed by two thugs on his way home from work at the 22d Police District. In both the cases of Officer Walker and Officer Wilson, the perpetrators were in possession of illegal weapons. Despite the bravery and abilities shown by Officers Wilson and Walker, they perished because they were outgunned and outmanned.

I hope this serves as a powerful reminder of the respect and admiration our law enforcement members are due, and that each day know that they put their lives on the line to protect us.

I would like to take this moment to offer all of our deepest appreciation for the service of Officers Wilson and Walker and our deepest sympathy for your loss. I would like to ask the family of Officer Walker if they would stand: Wayne Lipscomb, his mother, and other family members. Let us give them a big round of applause.

And, Mr. Speaker, this tragedy happened not just in my district but across many districts. As I mentioned, across the street Officer Robert Wilson's life was taken in the district of Representative Leslie Acosta. So Representative Stephen Kinsey will have a few words, say a few words on behalf of Representative Acosta. And then he will be followed by Representative Vanessa Brown, whose district includes both Walker and Wilson family members. And then we have Representative White, a new member of the House, who the other day acknowledged the loss of these two officers. The F.O.P. (Fraternal Order of Police) is in her district, and the F.O.P. stepped up to the plate to provide the transportation and support needed to bring these officers and these families to this august body today. So Representative White, if she has a few words, we would like to hear from her.

And at this moment, Mr. Speaker, I would like to engage in a moment of silence as we salute these two brave members of the Philadelphia Police Department.

Representative Kinsey.

The SPEAKER. Representative Kinsey, the floor is yours.

Mr. KINSEY. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Representative Acosta is also the sponsor of HR 181. Unfortunately, she is unable to be here today, but it is with great respect and enduring sorrow that we the members of this prestigious body stand before you to honor one of Philadelphia's finest, Police Officer Robert Wilson III.

Officer Wilson was killed while on the job doing what he has done for the past 8 years, protecting our city, protecting the citizens of the 197th Legislative District, which is Representative Acosta's district. His untimely death occurred while trying to stop a robbery at a video game store, a store that he stopped at in order to pick out a gift for his loving son.

Mr. Speaker, Officer Wilson died the same way he lived, serving others. Today serves as a solemn reminder that life is not always fair. If it were, Officer Wilson would still be working in Philadelphia today, and his two sons would get to grow up with the father who loved them so much. However, we cannot let the unjust and cowardly acts that killed Officer Wilson diminish his accomplishments in life. Officer Wilson, badge no. 9990, was a role model to his two young sons. He was a husband. He was a hero to his community and a friend to his colleagues. He was truly dedicated to the citizens of Philadelphia, serving both the city's fleet management division and later the 22d District of the Philadelphia Police Department.

In addition, he volunteered in the police department's body camera program. You see, Mr. Speaker, Officer Wilson understood just how important it was to establish trust between police and the citizens they serve. His whole life was a shining example of how to serve his family, his neighbors, and our community.

As we reflect on the tragic loss of Officer Wilson, let us also remember the nine other Philadelphia police officers killed in the line of duty over the last 9 years, including Officer Moses Walker, whose family joins us today. To both of the families, we as a body are truly sorry for your loss, and we thank you for sharing such selfless public servants with all of us.

We also extend our deepest gratitude to all of the men and women in uniform who put their lives on the line for us each and every day. Your unflinching service in the face of danger is inspiring to all of us, and we thank you for keeping our communities safe.

By adopting HR 181, we honor the lives and the memories of Officer Wilson, Officer Walker, and all of the officers across the Commonwealth who died in the line of duty. May we never forget their sacrifices.

Thank you very much.

The SPEAKER. Representative Vanessa Brown has the floor.

Ms. V. BROWN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I stand before you today to bring my condolences from this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I am also a relative of a Philadelphia police officer. My dad served in the Philadelphia Police Department. I understand what it is like when you see your family member, your relative, get dressed with pride in the morning, get dressed with pride with the creases, make sure that everything is polished beautifully so that you can go out and represent, and represent your neighborhood, your community, with diligence and service, and you put your life on the line for that. And I know the pride that you felt every day when you saw your family member, your son, your grandson going to work. And I know that I looked at my dad as a superhero; so did you look at them. I honor what they have given.

Not only did they give their service, but they gave their lives, and I salute them for their efforts. And I salute you for standing behind them and encouraging them to do a good work every day. They are now angels in the sky watching over all of us, watching over all of us.

I thank God for them. I thank God for their commitment, and I thank God for their sacrifice. God bless you, family. God bless you. Thank you so much.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, let me extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to you, to the leadership of both the House Republican and Democratic Caucuses, and to each and every one of the stellar members of this House for this opportunity.

It was important for us to let the Wilson and Walker families know that even though this happened in Philadelphia, members from across the landscape of this Commonwealth share in your loss, and we will be forever dedicated to committing ourselves to making sure that our communities, our homes, and this Commonwealth are a rising shining star in the theater of America. And so know that we are here. Feel free to call out, call on us at any time.

And, Captain Glenn, thank you, sir. Maintain your strong leadership. I know it is tough, but we are there with you.

Bishop Mary Palmer, Rev. Leonard Greene, thank you for your stewardship.

And to these families, keep your head up. Keep your head up. Keep a smile on your face, and know that Moses Walker and Robert Wilson have left footprints, good solid footprints, all over the city of Philadelphia and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Speaker, thank you, and God bless you.

The SPEAKER. Will all members and guests please rise as a mark of respect for the fallen officers.

(Whereupon, the members of the House and all visitors stood in a moment of silence in solemn respect to the memory of Officer Robert Wilson III and Officer Moses Walker, Jr.)

The SPEAKER. The members and guests may be seated.

Those in favor of HR 181, expressing our deepest sympathy for Officer Robert Wilson and Officer Moses Walker, will vote "aye"; those opposed will vote "nay."

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The majority having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the resolution was adopted.

The SPEAKER. May God bless the families of Officer Robert Wilson and Officer Moses Walker.

At this time I wanted to just extend to the families of Officer Wilson and Officer Moses Walker our deepest sympathy. I do want to let you know that you do not have to stay right now in the well. Please go with Representative Thomas and Representative Kinsey. I think there is a room where they are to gather if I am not mistaken.

We thank you very, very much for joining us here in the well of the House.

STATEMENT BY MR. THOMAS

The SPEAKER. Representative Thomas, on unanimous consent.

Mr. THOMAS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, yes, the families and officers will be leaving here and going to the Pennsylvania Senate for a moment of silence, and then there will be a luncheon in G-50 that is open to each and every one of you here.

The SPEAKER. Thank you so much, Representative.

Mr. THOMAS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Members, we are going to go at ease until the family members and the police and other guests move over to the Senate. We will be at ease. Thank you.

The House will come to order.

Members, we are back in session.

RESOLUTION PURSUANT TO RULE 35

Mr. McCARTER called up HR 223, PN 1141, entitled:

A Resolution honoring former legislator Franklin L. Kury for his years of public service to the residents of this Commonwealth and his prime role in drafting the language of Article I, Section 27 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, also known as the Environmental Rights Amendment.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER. Representative McCarter, please come up. You can come up to the rostrum. Please feel free.

Representative McCarter will be joined by Representative Lynda Schlegel Culver.

Representative McCarter, the floor is yours.

Mr. McCARTER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

It is an honor to stand before this great body today and reflect on one of our former members whose service in both this House and the State Senate left a tremendously positive influence on our entire State.

Born in the small town of Sunbury, Pennsylvania, along the banks of the beautiful Susquehanna River, Franklin Kury graduated from Sunbury High School before continuing on to a degree from Trinity College in Connecticut and then a law degree from the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

Mr. Kury then spent time in the Office of State Attorney General David Stahl.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will suspend just for a moment, please. Members, if we could just please take our seats.

Thank you. And we will give the floor here to Representative McCarter. Representative McCarter.

Mr. McCARTER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Kury then spent time in the Office of State Attorney General David Stahl and Representative George Rhodes before joining the United States Army and honorably serving his country.

Upon his return, Mr. Kury took a strong interest in environmental matters, including the health of the mighty Susquehanna, which he grew up next to. This led him to run for office to serve the public and to be a tireless voice to protect Pennsylvania's beautiful environment. After serving three terms in the House chamber and two terms in the Pennsylvania Senate chamber, Mr. Kury retired from the General Assembly, but not before leaving a lasting legacy on Pennsylvania's environmental laws.

Mr. Kury recognized the inalienable right that Pennsylvanians have to clean air, pure water, and to the preservation of the natural, scenic, historic, and aesthetic values of our beautiful environment. He also recognized that future generations deserve to enjoy the same beauty that so many of our ancestors enjoyed before us. To ensure that he could make this happen, Mr. Kury worked to unanimously pass through two successive legislative sessions an amendment to the Pennsylvania Constitution that would guarantee this right to all citizens. When put before the public for a referendum vote, it passed by a margin of 4 to 1 and was adopted as Article I, section 27, of our State Constitution.

Pennsylvania's environment is a tremendous resource for everyone who inhabits this State and the surrounding States. Hunters, fishermen, hikers, tourists all come to Pennsylvania to take in the beautiful scenic landscapes, the dense forestry, striking rivers, and cultural resources. For their preservation, we have Representative Kury to thank.

Representative Kury has remained active in State-related issues since leaving the Senate and continues to help those around him. He also gave possibly one of the most prudent pieces of advice to new members elected to the General Assembly. Very simply, "Remember who sent you."

We would all be advised to always remember who sent us and who we serve. We should always remember those who came before us and their invaluable contributions to this great State. On this very important environmental day, I thank you for your support for this resolution, and I thank Representative Kury for his never-ending work to ensure Pennsylvania remains a State that boasts a truly beautiful environment.

Thank you very much.

THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE (MATTHEW E. BAKER) PRESIDING

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman and recognizes the gentlelady, Representative Culver.

Ms. CULVER. Today I rise to honor the public service and accomplishments of former legislator Franklin L. Kury, who served in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives from 1967 to 1972 and the Pennsylvania Senate from 1973 to 1980. Even though Senator Kury is unable to be on the House floor with us today, I know he is watching and extremely honored to be remembered for his work.

As the gentleman from Montgomery County was speaking about Senator Kury's accomplishments, I thought I would let you know a little bit about the man himself and his history. Regardless of your politics, I think we will all find agreeable that he was a truly remarkable man.

Franklin Leo Kury was born in the city of Sunbury in 1936, and his father named him after President Franklin Roosevelt. His father was always active in politics, and you might say it was in his blood.

Surprisingly, Senator Kury and I have shared a lot of similarities. We were both born in the same city, both of our fathers were heavily active in local politics, we both graduated from the same high school, our families attended the same church, and we both have the distinct honor of representing the 108th Legislative District.

In addition to being a House member and a Senator in Pennsylvania, he served his country in the U.S. Army and worked in the Pennsylvania Attorney General's Office, worked for a U.S. Congressman, was an attorney and an author.

Senator Kury was a bit of a celebrity in my hometown, and as a teenager, I remember being driven by his home and being told about what he meant to our area. So with that memory, I decided to do a little research back home and see what people remembered about him. I was told he was a very good student and he always had an interest in government. His history teacher has been known to tell the story that as a teenager young Franklin would tell him about how someday he was going to be Governor of Pennsylvania.

He was very dedicated to the city of Sunbury, and to this day, some people still feel his absence. Everyone believed that he was committed to his cause and that someday he wanted to make his mark. I believe he succeeded.

Just to share a few other words that people used to describe him from back home: He was a good person with a kind and gentle heart. He was dedicated to his family, genuine, and a true gentleman. And being a fellow Northumberland County native, growing up along the Susquehanna River, he was a staunch advocate for environmental issues. You cannot grow up along the river and not be touched by it. Most of us spent summers swimming, canoeing, tubing, boating, or fishing along the river. We learned to appreciate the beauty of the river and all of its inhabitants, and nothing can take your breath away quite like watching a bald eagle soar down the mighty Susquehanna River.

Senator Kury is well known for his environmental rights amendment to the Pennsylvania Constitution, which grants the right to clean water and air just as much as any other constitutional right. All of those who had the good fortune to meet Senator Kury will tell you he always made a lasting impression upon you. I believe Senator Kury was a visionary of his time and his legacy continues to live on. Shortly after being sworn into office, Senator Kury came to meet with me to congratulate me and offered the piece of advice that my colleague had just rendered to you, but it feels important to share it with you. He said, "Always remember who sent you here."

Thank you for your time and consideration today in presenting this honor to Franklin L. Kury.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the lady.

HOLY GHOST PREP HOCKEY TEAM PRESENTED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. At this time we will have a citation presentation. Representative Petri and the Bucks County delegation are invited to the rostrum for the purpose of presenting a citation to the Holy Ghost Prep Hockey Team.

Representative Petri, you may proceed when you are ready.

Mr. PETRI. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Members of the General Assembly, we are very, very proud as a Bucks County delegation to honor State champions Holy Ghost Prep Firebirds for the ice hockey championship. I will introduce the whole team members to you, and then I am going to tell you a little bit about their accomplishments. Some members of the team in the back, when your name is called, if you would please rise. And members up front, if you would please give a friendly wave.

The team consists of: Ian Cascone; Ryan Legris; Michael Major – Michael Major will be attending St. Joseph's next year and playing Division I lacrosse – Timothy Mikalic; Shane Stevens; Jack Smiley; Craig Campagnolio; Nicholas Bohatiuk – Nicholas will be playing for the Bismarck Bobcats of the North American Hockey League – Joseph Florino; Zachary Babst; Nolan Jones; Marko Bohatiuk; Kyle Peters; Tristan Devine; Bogdan Sharapat; Alexander Taylor, who will be attending Duquesne; Luke Aquaro; Robert Ovecka; Robert Freiling; Kyle Massari; George Mundy; Christopher Bracco; and last but not least, Brian Marion.

Also here today with us are head coach Gump Whiteside and assistant coach Soroka. In the back with us are Jeffrey Danilak, principal of Holy Ghost Prep; James Stewart, athletic director; and Ryan Abramson, director of admissions.

Let me tell you a little bit about ice hockey and the feat that these gentlemen accomplished. The ice hockey team finished the season 16-8-2 and won, of course, the State championship at the Pegula Arena at Penn State University. Holy Ghost competes in the Philadelphia AAA League with the very best scholastic teams in Pennsylvania. They have a long hockey season. It begins in October and does not end until March.

Along the way, Holy Ghost played teams throughout the Philadelphia metropolitan area, the United States, and Canada. Holy Ghost participates in the National Scholastic Invitational Tournament in Jamestown, New York. This tournament, with some of the very best scholastic programs in the country, helped prepare this team for a difficult league schedule. At the end of the regular season, Holy Ghost was playing in the Flyers Cup Tournament. And in the Eastern Pennsylvania Championship, sponsored by the Philadelphia Flyers, Holy Ghost outscored its opponents 26 to 8 and ultimately beat rival LaSalle College High School, who is a four-time champion.

Nolan Jones, Michael Major, Joseph Fiorino, and Alex Taylor were named to the All-Tournament Team. Nicholas Bohatiuk was named tournament MVP (most valuable player), and Bobby Clark, award winner for most points in the tournament.

Holy Ghost faced Penguins Cup winner Canon-McMillan High School in the State championship game. They won 6 to 4. Senior captain Nick Bohatiuk scored four goals to give Holy Ghost its first, but certainly not last, ice hockey championship.

We are so very, very proud of these young men.

I will now introduce Representative Gene DiGirolamo. Holy Ghost is located in his district.

Mr. DiGIROLAMO. Thanks, Scott. Good morning, everyone, and welcome.

As Scott said, we are just so proud of Holy Ghost Prep, located in Bensalem in the 18th Legislative District, but we are especially proud of these student athletes that are here today on winning this hockey championship. And I want to give a shout-out to somebody who is not here, Father Jim McCloskey, who was the principal of Holy Ghost Prep and a longtime boyhood friend of mine, who was not able to join them here today. But also, I have a son, my son, Anthony, graduated from Holy Ghost Prep a number of years ago.

And for those of you who are in Pittsburgh, Holy Ghost Prep is run by the Holy Ghost Fathers, and as you all know, the Holy Ghost Fathers also run Duquesne University in Pittsburgh. So I just want to congratulate these young men, these student athletes. I have a citation that I am going to present to Coach Whiteside, and let us give them all a nice round of applause and welcome them to the Pennsylvania House of Representatives.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman and congratulates the State champions.

GUESTS INTRODUCED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Located to the left of the rostrum, the Chair welcomes the Honorable Jane Krentz. Mrs. Krentz is a former member of the Minnesota Legislature, serving in the State Senate from 1993 to 2002. She is visiting with us today as regional coordinator for the National Caucus of Environmental Legislators. She is the guest of Representative Everett and Representative Sturla. Please rise and be recognized.

Also located to the left of the rostrum, the Chair welcomes a number of representatives of the Railroad Museum of Pennsylvania: director Jeffrey Bliemeister; board president Al Giannantonio; board member and former State Representative Jere Schuler; advisory council member Rudy Husband; advancement director Deborah Reddig; and executive director of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission James Vaughan. They are guests of Representative Greiner. Let us welcome them to the House.

Located in the rear of the House, the Chair welcomes Shawn Newhart, who is shadowing Representative Harhart for the day. Shawn is accompanied by his father, Kenneth Newhart. Please rise and be recognized.

Also located in the rear of the House, the Chair welcomes Glen and Judith Rodgers and members of their family. They are guests of Representative Gingrich. Please rise and be recognized.

Also located in the rear of the House, the Chair welcomes Brenda and Daniel Neff, Marge Coffin, Valerie Walk, and Jenifer Donnelly. They are the guests of Representative Freeman. Please rise and be recognized.

Located in the rear of the House, the Chair welcomes Representative McCarter's intern, Zachary Ostrow. Please rise and be recognized.

And also located in the rear of the House, the Chair welcomes ACTION of PA from Chester County. They are guests of the Honorable Representative Lawrence. Please rise and be recognized.

Also up in the gallery, as guests of Representatives Major and Peifer, we have with us today individuals from Trackside Tours from Wayne County. Please rise and be recognized.

Located in the well of the House, the Chair welcomes guest pages James and Paul Klemmer. Their grandparents, Harry and Marg Klemmer, are seated to the left of the rostrum. They are guests of Representative Rader and Representative Stephens. Please rise and be recognized.

STATEMENT BY MR. FREEMAN

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Representative Freeman is recognized on unanimous consent to speak on HR 258.

Mr. FREEMAN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the members of the House for their unanimous vote in favor of HR 258, which recognizes the month of May as "Bladder Cancer Awareness Month" here in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

More than half a million Americans live with bladder cancer. Bladder cancer affects people of all ages and backgrounds and is among the top-10 cancers in the United States. Pennsylvania has been ranked fourth in the nation in regards to new cases of bladder cancer being diagnosed within the last year. Military veterans are more likely than nonveterans to be diagnosed with bladder cancer and women are often diagnosed with bladder cancer at a later stage than men, which can result in a worse prognosis.

Mr. Speaker, could I please have some order? Mr. Speaker? Mr. Speaker, could I please have some order?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is correct.

Members, kindly take your conversations to the rear of the chamber. Please take your seats.

Mr. FREEMAN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and my thanks to the members.

Bladder cancer is a very expensive form of cancer to treat and has a very high recurrence rate of approximately 50 to 80 percent. If diagnosed early, bladder cancer is treatable, but if the detection and treatment are delayed, the life expectancy of the individual with bladder cancer decreases dramatically. Promoting a greater awareness of this disease is therefore particularly critical as increased awareness will promote early diagnosis and treatment, which will increase the chance of survival. Increased awareness will hopefully generate greater public support as well, support for the increased funding necessary to foster innovative research and the development of new and better treatment options and tools, which, by the way, are sorely needed as no new treatments for bladder cancer have been developed within the last 20 years.

GUESTS INTRODUCED

Mr. FREEMAN. With us today are members of the Bladder Cancer Advocacy Network, who are seated to the rear of the House. They were recognized earlier by the House, but I would ask them to please stand and be recognized, if you will. They are Marge Coffin, Valerie Walk, Jenifer Donnelly, and Daniel and Brenda Neff. I would ask the House to please recognize their appearance here today.

Thank you. You may be seated.

Each one of these individuals has been touched by the disease of bladder cancer, either through loved ones that have been affected and have been stricken by it or through other family members and friends or themselves as well.

I want to thank the members of the Bladder Cancer Advocacy Network for their hard work and dedication in promoting a greater awareness of this insidious disease and for the work that they continue to do on behalf of early detection and treatment.

My thanks again to the members of the House for their unanimous vote of support for this important resolution here today. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

STATEMENT BY MR. GREINER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Representative Greiner is recognized on unanimous consent to speak on HR 269.

Mr. GREINER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I want to thank my colleagues today for support of HR 269, which designates today, April 22, 2015, as "Railroad Museum of Pennsylvania Day."

The Railroad Museum of Pennsylvania was created by an act of the legislature in 1963 and opened to the public on this day 30 years ago. Since then, with a vast array of artifacts, images, and historical locomotives, the Railroad Museum of Pennsylvania has educated millions of visitors on the rich history railroading has in the Commonwealth as well as the importance of the contemporary railroading industry that continues today. Last year alone more than 145,000 visitors traveled to Strasburg in Lancaster County to visit the museum.

Mr. Speaker, when you look at the profound impact railroading has made on our Commonwealth's economy and culture, it is no wonder why so many people are drawn to this museum. Pennsylvania is nicknamed "the Keystone State" because it has held a key position in the economic, social, and political development of the United States, and railroads, which has been a theme all week, have been central to that development.

The first steam locomotive built in America was intended to encourage the construction of railroads in Pennsylvania. The builder of the locomotive, Col. John Stevens, recognized the potential value of Pennsylvania's timber, minerals, and its fertile farmlands and knew that railroads could help transport these goods to market and transform our State's economy.

Although unforeseen at the time, railroads would eventually change the course of history for our Commonwealth and our nation. And as we learned yesterday, during the Civil War Pennsylvania's massive web of railroads gave the North a major advantage over the Confederacy. President Lincoln even traveled by train to Gettysburg to deliver his famous address, and in the final days of the war, his body was carried over a series of railroads that stopped in Philadelphia, as we learned yesterday, after he was assassinated and also York and Harrisburg en route to its resting place in Illinois, which was 150 years ago.

Mr. Speaker, this General Assembly has played a significant role in pushing Pennsylvania to railroading's forefront. In 1823 and then 1846, this legislature passed a charter establishing the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and this was to become a giant among American railroads, representing the consolidation of more than 600 smaller railroads, extending from Philadelphia to New York to Washington, DC, Chicago, and St. Louis. The mainline passed through Strasburg, where the Railroad Museum of Pennsylvania stands today.

And another railroad that has played a significant role in Pennsylvania's history is the famous Horseshoe Curve, which runs across the base of the Allegheny Mountains in Blair

County. The Horseshoe Curve allowed trains to carry vital resources such as coal and steel through difficult terrain. Recognizing the importance of the Horseshoe Curve in transporting troops and resources for the Allied Front during World War II, the Nazis had placed it on a list of potential targets in our country in 1942.

So in conclusion, Mr. Speaker, Pennsylvania maintains its place as a leader in railroading, as our Commonwealth has more operating railroads today than any other State in the nation, and that is why today, Mr. Speaker, I wanted to recognize the Pennsylvania Railroad Museum's success and the guests that you acknowledged earlier.

And I want to give a shout-out to your former colleague, Representative Jere Schuler, and the rest of his members today who are part of the Railroad Museum. Thank you, sir.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman and asks the gentleman, the Honorable Jere Schuler, to please stand again for a round of applause. Welcome back, Jere.

STATEMENT BY MR. MARSICO

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Representative Marsico is recognized on unanimous consent to speak on HR 226.

Mr. MARSICO. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I just want to thank the members for your vote on HR 226.

And every year, as some of you know, I take the opportunity to honor Arbor Day by introducing a resolution recognizing the day as well as present seedlings to plant to commemorate this occasion.

Also, I want to thank Strathmeyer Nursery from Dover, Pennsylvania, for providing us with the seedlings this year, which are on each of your desks. The seedlings are eastern white pines, and the instructions on how to plant those are on the tags attached to the seedling.

I also would like to thank Mr. Gregg Robertson, who is the president of the Pennsylvania Landscape and Nursery Association, for coordinating this effort today.

Also, I would like to thank the Future Farmers of America for helping to distribute the seedlings on your desks today, as well as thank leadership, and once again, the members for supporting this resolution. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

STATEMENT BY MRS. DEAN

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentledady, Representative Dean, on unanimous consent to speak on HR 244.

Mrs. DEAN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

And I want to thank all my legislators on this Earth Day in joining me in supporting bicycling in Pennsylvania.

In full disclosure I come about my love and advocacy for cycling through my husband, who is an avid cyclist and enthusiast and has been a part of the bike industry and advocacy for his entire career; full disclosure.

But really, here in Pennsylvania we are leaders too. Because we passed Act 89 in 2013, we saw the importance of making sure, with multimodal funding, that we support bike paths and bikeways because we know that part of improving and rebuilding our infrastructure actually has to do with building more livable communities and how bike paths and trails and bike lanes fit that.

We all know the benefits of cycling, whether for recreation or for transportation. Cycling helps reduce pollution, air and noise pollution; it helps reduce congestion; it helps reduce energy consumption, and it overall promotes a healthier lifestyle. Investments in a community transportation project like bike paths also have a direct economic impact on our local communities, because what it does is it encourages people to shop locally, to stay local.

Coincidentally, this week marks the opening of the Philadelphia bike share program that I hope you will all come visit and be a part of.

I urge you all to take care of your communities and encourage cycling in them. I invite you to participate on May 11 in the State's executive Bike to Work Day that I think will be an awful lot of fun. I am also going to be doing Bike to Work in the district. I hope you all will do the same.

Again, I thank you, Mr. Speaker, for allowing me to speak about the importance of cycling in Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the lady.

STATEMENTS BY MR. MURT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman, Representative Murt, on unanimous consent to speak on HR 267 and HR 174.

Mr. MURT. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, we live on a magnificent planet. With its abundance of water, the earth hosts an incredibly complex and vibrant ecosystem where living organisms interact within an environment that is ideal for life, but to maintain this delicate balance, we must be diligent.

Since that first Earth Day in 1970, we have only begun to understand the consequences of our actions and the impact they have on our world. Experts estimate every day we lose about 130 plant, animal, and insect species. That is why Earth Day is so important.

Established on April 22, 1970, Earth Day gives us the opportunity to celebrate what we have and educate each other on what we are losing by acting in ways that are environmentally unfriendly or energy inefficient. Earth Day is a reminder to take action now to protect our environment.

In the 45 years since the first Earth Day, we have made a number of landmark accomplishments, including the establishment of the Environmental Protection Agency in 1970, the Clean Air Act of 1970, the Clean Water Act of 1972, the Endangered Species Act of 1973, the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, and the Federal Occupational Health and Safety Act aimed at in-plant pollution.

We still have much work to do, Mr. Speaker, which is why I want to thank my colleagues for supporting this resolution recognizing Earth Day.

Mr. Speaker, I would also like to make remarks on HR 174.

Everyone is aware of the historical role Philadelphia played in the conception and birth of American independence. What is often unappreciated is the pivotal role the people living in the countryside around the city played in preserving our young nation.

On the night of April 30, 1778, the British, in control of Philadelphia, marched out of the city with 850 men on foot and horses. Their destination was the Billet, what is known today as Hatboro, Pennsylvania. Their mission was to stop the American militia from disrupting British supply lines into Philadelphia. Their other objective was to capture the leader of the militia, Gen. John Lacey, and decimate the 300 militiamen encamped with Lacey at the Billet.

The British marched through the Fox Chase area of Philadelphia off Huntingdon Pike where they split up. The Queen's Rangers, a loyalist regiment, continued up Second Street Pike with 500 British regulars and went left toward Old York Road. The plan was to have the British regulars wait in ambush along the Horsham Meeting Road near the Old Mill Inn in Hatboro. The Queen's Rangers were to drive the militia into the waiting British troops. The militia was expected to retreat along Horsham Meeting Road, which leads to Valley Forge and would have exposed the Continental Army.

General Lacey, the youngest appointed general under Washington's command, was a native of Bucks County and knew the area better than any of the British soldiers. During the battle that commenced May 1, 1778, 26 militiamen were killed, 9 wounded, and 58 captured, but most importantly, General Lacey saved hundreds of lives by moving his militia north into Bucks County, into Warminster, away from General Washington's men.

While the British reported no casualties, they never achieved their objectives, nor completed their mission. The militia continued disrupting supplies and General Lacey was never captured.

While the British would claim this as a military victory, it was clearly a British failure thanks to the quick thinking and leadership of Gen. John Lacey. He is truly one of the unappreciated heroes of the American Revolution.

I thank my colleagues for their support of this resolution. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

REMARKS SUBMITTED FOR THE RECORD

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman, Representative Farry, is recognized on unanimous consent to speak on HR 276, Arson Awareness Week.

Mr. FARRY. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to submit comments for the record.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. You may, sir, and thank you very much.

Mr. FARRY submitted the following remarks for the Legislative Journal:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I rise today to bring awareness to a very serious issue that takes hundreds of lives and damages millions of dollars in property every year.

Arson is the criminal act of deliberately setting fire to a property, and it can happen anywhere. According to the U.S. Fire Administration, there were about 17,400 intentionally set fires in homes each year between 2010 and 2012. These fires caused 275 deaths, 800 injuries, and $513 million in property damage and loss.

This year's National Arson Awareness Week theme is "Accelerant Detection Canines (ADC) – Sniffing Out Arson." This year's theme recognizes the value and contribution that ADCs make to fire departments, law enforcement agencies, and their communities.

These canines locate more accurate evidence samples, reduce the amount of costly analysis by the laboratory, assist in closing arson cases, and act as a deterrent, resulting in a reduction of the arson problem.

It takes an average of 30 minutes for an ADC to cover an entire fire scene. For a human that same task can take days. Accelerant detection canines save fire departments and communities both time and money.

Mr. Speaker, I respectfully ask for my colleagues' support for HR 276, which designates the week of May 3-9, 2015, as "Arson Awareness Week" in Pennsylvania. By voting in the affirmative, we are helping to raise awareness of arson and increase public knowledge about this dangerous and costly crime as well as give special acknowledgment to all fire and law enforcement investigative agencies and their canine partners for their dedicated and tireless service to our communities.

REMARKS SUBMITTED FOR THE RECORD

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentlelady, Mrs. Snyder, is recognized on unanimous consent on HR 251.

Mrs. SNYDER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I want to thank my colleagues for their unanimous support of HR 251 that designates April 28 as "Workers' Memorial Day" 2015, and I will submit my remarks for the record.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Thank you very much. Please submit the remarks to the clerk.

Mrs. SNYDER submitted the following remarks for the Legislative Journal:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and thank you all for your support of HR 251, designating April 28 as "Workers' Memorial Day." The designation evolved from a simple premise that making a living should never mean dying.

On Workers' Memorial Day, we honor all who have perished, and we recommit to ensuring that no worker ever has to choose between life and a paycheck.

The resolution honors the thousands of individuals throughout the United States who have succumbed to workplace fatalities. As recently as 2013, more than 4,400 workers were killed on the job. Think about it: More Americans were killed in workplace tragedies in 1 year – 2013 – than were lost in 9 years of war in Iraq.

Also deserving our attention are the millions of Americans – our family members, friends, and fellow workers – who have suffered workplace injuries and illnesses. Through the resolution, we extend our sympathies to the coworkers, family, and friends of those who have been lost, injured, or afflicted because of their employment.

April 28 also commemorates the enactment of the Federal Occupational Safety and Health Act, which took effect on April 28, 1971.

It is difficult to grasp that a little more than 40 years ago about 38 Americans on average died at their work sites every day. By 2012, that toll had decreased to about 12 workers a day. Better, but still not acceptable by a long shot.

So as we observe Workers' Memorial Day, please make your voices heard. Please honor the fallen, the injured, and the sick by standing together with courage and conviction and insisting that safety must come first, workplace tragedies must be prevented, and making a living should never mean dying.

God bless the memories of the fallen, and may God give us the courage to make our workplaces safe places for one and all.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

FAREWELL ADDRESS BY MR. GRELL

The SPEAKER. Members, at this time I would like to call upon our colleague, Representative Glen Grell.

As I indicated, we usually have farewell remarks given toward the end of the session, but Representative Grell has a really outstanding challenge that he has chosen to pursue, and he is going to be coming up to the rostrum to provide his final remarks to this body as a member of the House of Representatives.

I would like to invite Representative Grell to the rostrum.

Mr. GRELL. Mr. Speaker, thank you very much.

I certainly appreciate the opportunity to make some brief departing remarks. I do not have any particular insights or wisdom to impart. Rather, these remarks will focus on some simple, heartfelt thanks to many who have made my time here very memorable.

First, thanks to Speaker Turzai for sharing the dais with me for a few minutes here today.

Second, thanks to so many of my colleagues. The Class of 2005, we just got to a position where all eight of us are back, and now I am leaving. But thanks to Mark and Rob and Brian, Jeff, Kathy, Curt, and Tom, I know that good things are ahead for you now that you will become chairs and leaders in the House in the near future.

To the members of the South Central Republican Caucus, thank you for allowing me to chair the group for several years. My friends in our very special row on the floor – Ron Marsico; Mark Keller; Sheryl Delozier, the birthday girl today – if we had to spend so many hours on the House floor, I cannot think of better friends with which to do it. Mark Mustio, I am not sure what I am thanking him for, but he would be upset if I did not. So, Mark, thanks for sitting next to me in caucus. How is that, and saving my seat?

To the chairs of my primary committees, Judiciary and Appropriations – Chairman Marsico, Chairman Adolph – as well as Democratic chairs – Chairman Caltagirone, now Chairman Petrarca, and Chairman Markosek – plus the outstanding dedicated staffs of these committees on both sides of the aisle, thank you very much.

Being on two of the most active and productive committees has been challenging and has helped me and all the other members on these committees make their time here have real meaning. I leave with memories of our accomplishments, notably in two areas, both through working together across the aisle. First was the work with my friend, Chairman Dwight Evans, and the bipartisan leaders of both chambers on pension reforms in Act 120 in 2010, without which employer contributions right now would be over 30 percent and over 50,000 State and school employees would still be under the old, more expensive pension plan design.

Second was my chance to partner with other members of the Judiciary Committee – Chairs Marsico and Caltagirone, Representative John Sabatina – as well as Secretary Wetzel and the Corbett administration on the Justice Reinvestment Initiative, which is making Pennsylvania smarter in our approach to our prison system and corrections policy.

To all of my colleagues, thank you for your support and friendship over these 10 years, but mostly, thank you for your service in this General Assembly and for what you do on behalf of your districts and your constituents.

Next, I want to offer some special thanks to all of our support staff, partisan and bipartisan staff, who make the House run and make it possible for us to do our jobs.

Personally, the smartest decision I have made in my 10 years here was made in the first week of my service when I asked Lori Koch to work with me in my Capitol office. She spent the last 10 years teaching me how to do this job and making me look good, and she finally got me trained and now I am leaving. She has always been at least one step ahead of me, and I owe much of my success to her great work. Thank you, Lori.

I have also been fortunate to have a series of excellent district office managers: Laura Conrad, Drew Lyons, Meagan Thorpe, and currently Derek Smith, as well as Sherri Landis. Thanks to all of them.

Next, to my family – my wife, Elaine, as well as Cory and Alyssa – for all of the sacrifice and inconvenience over these past 10 years to enable me to do all the things we do. You know it well – evenings, weekends, last-minute changes, the trials and tribulations of election campaigns, the rigors of budget season, and some very long Junes, plus a million other impositions on family time. Thanks to all of them.

Next, I express my deep gratitude to the residents of the 87th Legislative District for giving me the honor of serving as their voice in Harrisburg for over 10 years. We tried to really listen to all of our constituents, even those who never agreed with any of our votes and were not bashful about letting us know. To my constituents, I regret that this opportunity in my life did not coincide better with the election cycle, but I know the Speaker will schedule a special election in short order and you will not be without representation for very long.

You know, I first came to the State Capitol as a short-term intern in 1978, working in the basement, working for State Representative Fred Noye from Perry County. At that time it was beyond any expectation that 25 years later, or any day, that I would have the honor to sit in this chamber as a member of the House of Representatives.

I have been blessed by God in so many ways. Among them is to have the opportunity to serve in the House, and I hope I have done that to the best of my ability, but now it is time for me to begin a new and exciting chapter of my life and career.

I look forward to future interactions with the General Assembly, and I wish you all the best in the coming months and years.

Thank you very much, and thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Representative Grell, your leadership and your camaraderie, your diligence and your integrity will be greatly missed in this chamber. Please, please, give our best to your lovely wife, Elaine, to Cory and Alyssa. Great, really, just great children. I have had the opportunity to meet them both. And please know, I know we will be seeing much of you in your new role and your new responsibility, but you are always welcome back to this chamber. You have many, many great friends, and thank you for your service. You are greatly appreciated. Take care.

(Commemorative gavel was presented.)
