SESSION OF 2015

199TH OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The House convened at 1 p.m., e.d.t.

THE SPEAKER (MIKE TURZAI) PRESIDING

PRAYER

The SPEAKER. The prayer today will be offered by Pastor Lawrence Metzler of Chambersburg First Church of God in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania.

PASTOR LAWRENCE METZLER, Guest Chaplain of the House of Representatives, offered the following prayer:

Would you pray with me.

Our God and our guide, we thank You for the gift of a new day today and for the privilege to live in this great country of the United States of America.

We thank You for those who provide leadership and service to our country; for our President and Commander in Chief and his staff, men and women who serve our great country in the Armed Forces. Thank You for their call to duty, their willingness to respond, and the sacrifices that they make as a result. God, protect them and guide them with Your righteous hand of grace and justice as they seek to protect the freedoms which characterize our nation.

Also, thank You today for the privilege of living in the great Keystone State of Pennsylvania. Thank You for the rich heritage and the historical documents such as the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution that are those enduring symbols of the American freedom that we greatly value and just proudly defend.

Now I pray for the men and women gathered as Representatives of the districts of the Commonwealth. I invoke Your guidance over their agenda today. Grant them wisdom in their deliberations that will take place, grant them patience when the processes and procedures take time, grant them unity when there are differences of opinion, grant them courage when their actions anticipate resistance, but grant them the ability to represent fairly and well those who have given them this task.

We pray this in the name of our God in whom we trust. Amen.

SPECIAL OLYMPICS CHAMPIONS

The SPEAKER. We have a very, very special presentation with respect to Special Olympians. We have a number of our members who are going to be coming up to the rostrum with their special guest. Representative Sandy Major – please come up – Representative Marcia Hahn, Representative Steve Samuelson, Representative Bob Godshall, Representative John Lawrence, Representative Fred Keller, Representative Sue Helm, and Representative Flo Fabrizio, and finally, Representative Lynda Culver. If you could all please come up to the rostrum.

I am going to turn it over to Representative Sandra Major, who will be at the front podium for our remarks.

Ms. MAJOR. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

It gives me great pleasure today to welcome to the hall of the House Pennsylvania athletes who represented the United States of America in the 2015 Special Olympics World Games held in Los Angeles from July 25 to August 2, 2015.

These men and women were among 7,000 athletes from 177 nations competing for gold. Each of these fine athletes has shown incredible dedication to honing their skills in each of their chosen sports. Their determination and sportsmanship are to be commended. It obviously takes a great deal of time and practice to compete at the Olympic level, and each of you was willing to make that sacrifice and put in the hours in order for you to reach your goals.

Like all athletes, the men and women here today each has their own set of challenges to overcome, and with the help and support of their families, coaches, and training staff, they have clearly risen to the occasion and achieved something every athlete dreams of: to compete in the Olympic Games.

However, not only did these athletes compete at the games, they also brought home quite a bit of hardware in such areas as gymnastics, golf, tennis, aquatics, and equestrian events. In total, these eight Olympians with us today earned eight gold medals, seven silver medals, and seven bronze medals.

My colleagues and I want to extend our most heartfelt congratulations.

Mr. Speaker, it is indeed my pleasure to extend my sincere congratulations to each of these honored athletes and say to them that they are indeed an inspiration to us all. Thank you.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE CANCELED

The SPEAKER. Representative Kathy Watson will be placed on the master roll.

Representative Watson will also be joining us up on the rostrum for the individual presentations here shortly.

Members, what we are going to do is, as I announce the member who is going to present a citation with the accompanying Olympian – so we are going to go through each of the Olympians with their Representative. They will be coming up just to stand in front of you with Sandy Major, and we will take each one individually.

LISA BERLIN PRESENTED

The SPEAKER. Our first honoree – if she will step down – is Lisa Berlin. Lisa, please step down with Representative Godshall and Representative Watson. The SPEAKER. Members, please, we have some of our colleagues who wish to speak. If everybody could please take their seats.

STATEMENT BY MS. YOUNGBLOOD

The SPEAKER. Representative Rosita Youngblood is recognized to speak on HR 443. Representative Youngblood, the floor is yours.

Ms. YOUNGBLOOD. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I want to thank the members for supporting HR 443 and for recognizing the week of September 28 through October 4 as "Diaper Need Awareness Week" in Pennsylvania.

Across the Commonwealth there is a growing diaper need epidemic as many families are simply unable to afford new or clean diapers. In fact, according to the National Diaper Bank Network, a national nonprofit organization dedicated to reducing the diaper gap in America, one in every three mothers cannot afford to provide enough diapers for their children. Nearly 5.3 million children under the age of 3 suffer from diaper need.

And for incontinent seniors on a fixed income, purchasing what they often view as their most important item of clothing can cost as much as $100 a month. That is why diaper banks, along with many other community organizations across the State, are doing their part to help with this epidemic.

Beginning today and for the next 2 weeks I am joining the members of the House in hosting a Capitol-wide diaper donation drive. From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the East Wing Rotunda, members of my staff and representatives from the diaper banks across the Commonwealth will be on hand to collect unopened diapers and other products.

I encourage all members, staff, and State employees throughout all of our agencies to participate and donate to this important effort. Help us raise awareness to this growing issue that impacts so many families across the Commonwealth.

Thank you again for your support of HR 443.

STATEMENT BY MR. MALONEY

The SPEAKER. Representative David Maloney is recognized on unanimous consent to speak on HR 449.

Mr. MALONEY. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I want to thank you, thank all my colleagues today for unanimous consent supporting First Responder Appreciation Day as September 27, 2015.

Nearly all of us have benefited in one way or another from the courageous service of our first responders, or we know somebody who has. Our first responders – our police, our fire, emergency medical service, and public health personnel – work selflessly on behalf of the people of the Commonwealth, regardless of risk or hazard.

Some of them are paid, but in Pennsylvania most are not. The vast majority of Pennsylvanians depend on volunteers for fire protection and EMS (emergency medical services). Ninety-seven percent of all of our fire services in Pennsylvania are staffed by volunteers.

Whether they are paid or not, these men and women choose to do very difficult jobs. Justice Louis Brandeis once said, "The only title in our democracy superior to that of President is the title of citizen." These men and women are what I call our ultimate citizens.

First responders carry out the critical role of protecting and ensuring public safety in emergency situations. They are found themselves on the front lines of homeland defense in the war against terrorism, and they are called upon in the event of natural disasters – floods, wildfires, and hurricanes.

Approximately 150,000 first responders perform these critical and crucial services in this Commonwealth, and 30,000 sworn police officers protect lives and property, detect and prevent crimes, and uphold the law and ensure justice. Tens of thousands of firefighters, including approximately 50,000 volunteers and 10,000 career firefighters, provide fire suppression, emergency medical services, search and rescue, hazardous materials response, terrorism response, and critical fire prevention. In addition, 60,000 emergency services professionals in the Commonwealth respond and treat a variety of life-threatening emergencies, from cardiac and respiratory arrest to traumatic injuries.

They make real, personal sacrifices to protect our communities. As we have seen too often lately, many law enforcement officers die in the line of duty in the United States each year, including four killed in 2014 in Pennsylvania alone. Many firefighters are killed in the line of duty across the United States each year and thousands more are injured. The point is that like our Armed Forces, thousands of first responders have made the ultimate sacrifice.

I want to also thank you, Mr. Speaker, today for the designation of 150 years of the Salvation Army and what they have done in this anniversary time for our communities and our State. Like our first responders, these are men and women who also answer the call of duty, but in a different way.

The Salvation Army began in 1865 when London minister William Booth left the pulpit and decided to take his message to the streets where it would reach the poor and the homeless. The Salvation Army's mission is to reach and involve youth and children, and stand for and serve the least fortunate in our society.

In this effort, the Salvation Army operates more than 7500 centers in communities across the United States which distribute food, assist in disaster relief, and fight against human trafficking. Their work is funded through kettle donations we see during our holiday seasons, corporate contributions, and the sale of goods donated in their family stores.

From my perspective, a true volunteer is based on the mindset one has when they offer their services. Are they doing it for a self-serving mindset that thinks that they can network when convenient, or do they do it for others? Or are they volunteering from a "to give aid or service" mentality? That is what makes the difference when it comes to the people that we have serving our communities every day.

I want to thank you for your support, and thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Thank you very much, Representative.

STATEMENT BY MR. DAY

The SPEAKER. Representative Gary Day on HR 421.

Mr. DAY. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, the statistics are sobering. According to the 2013 National Survey on Drug Use and Health, 2.5 million people 12 years of age or older received specialty treatment for substance abuse, and another 34 million adults 18 and older received mental health services. These disorders lead to disabilities that result in significant costs to families, employers, and our health systems. Compounding this, drug and alcohol use can lead to other chronic diseases like diabetes and heart disease.

The cost of treating substance abuse costs Americans more than $600 billion each year. Some health officials predict that in 5 years mental and substance abuse disorders will surpass all physical diseases as a major cause of disability worldwide. That is why preventing mental illness and substance abuse disorders in children, adolescents, and young adults is so critical to Americans' overall behavioral and physical health.

The truth is, the symptoms that signal the development of a behavioral disorder often appear 2 to 4 years before a disorder is present. This gives communities and families the chance to intervene early so behavioral health disorders can be prevented and the symptoms mitigated.

That is why our colleague, Representative Tom Murt, has introduced HR 421 to recognize September as "National Recovery Month" in Pennsylvania.

We must focus on prevention. The best way to help those who are showing the first signs of a mental disorder or substance abuse problem is to identify the symptoms early and give those with these disorders the support to prevent the problem from growing.

In recovery, we must help those with these disorders to manage their symptoms by helping them abstain from alcohol and illicit drug use, and help them make informed decisions, healthy choices that support the person's physical and emotional well-being. We must also give them a stable and safe place to live while they conduct meaningful daily activities, whether on the job or in school. This will give those with disorders the ability to maintain independence and participate in society.

By surrounding those who need our help with love and support, we can guide them down the road to recovery and do it in a much more economical way than treating their problems later. By showing them that hope exists, they will see that these challenges and conditions can be overcome. That is the foundation of recovery.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, Representative Day.

REMARKS SUBMITTED FOR THE RECORD

The SPEAKER. On unanimous consent, Representative Frank Farry is recognized to speak on HR 480.

Members, please take your seats, please, and let us give our colleagues a few moments to speak on these resolutions. Any conversations, we would ask that members please take to the rooms outside of the chamber.

Representative Farry, the floor is yours, sir.

Mr. FARRY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to submit comments for the record on HR 480.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, sir.

Mr. FARRY submitted the following remarks for the Legislative Journal:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I rise today to bring awareness to an important issue that could someday impact any one of us, our family members, or a friend. Every 12 minutes an older Pennsylvanian is hospitalized due to a fall-related injury. Falls remain the leading cause of fatal and nonfatal injury for older Americans, and they threaten seniors' safety and independence and generate enormous economic and personal costs. The total cost of fall injuries for older Americans was estimated to be $36 billion. By 2020 these costs are expected to reach $59.6 billion.

As our population ages here in Pennsylvania, the impact and cost of fall-related deaths and injuries will increase dramatically unless this serious public health issue is addressed effectively. The good news is that falls are largely preventable, and decreasing the incidence of falls will improve the socialization and functioning of older adults. Studies show that through a combination of fall-prevention strategies, evidence-based interventions, practical lifestyle adjustments, and other community partnerships, we can significantly reduce falls among older adults.

I rise today to ask for your support for HR 480, which recognizes September 23, 2015, as "National Falls Prevention Awareness Day" in Pennsylvania. By raising awareness of this issue today, we can positively impact the quality of life of Pennsylvania's older adults – helping our family members, friends, and neighbors remain healthy, independent, and self-sufficient.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

STATEMENT BY MR. GILLEN

The SPEAKER. Representative Mark Gillen and Representative Pete Schweyer are recognized to speak on HR 464.

Representative Gillen, the floor is yours.

Mr. GILLEN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I want to thank the chamber for the affirmative vote on HR 464, acknowledging the Keystone Wounded Warriors.

Last night I had an overnight visitor, a constituent of my good friend across the aisle, Representative Bill Keller. It was my mother, and we engaged in a late-night conversation. She is just a few months away from her 90th birthday, and she provided me with a few words of illumination and refreshment on a wounded warrior that she married that I call Dad.

He came back from the Second World War somewhat broken in mind and body and spirit, and ended up dying at a relatively young age of 56.

We are here today to acknowledge wounded warriors of every generation and every time period that were willing to lay their bodies, their minds, and their hearts on the altar of sacrifice, and we will be forever in their debt. We are grateful for those that provide the goods and the services and the counseling for the modern wounded warriors.

It reminds me of a conversation, as I close, that I had with Senator John McCain not many years ago. He talked about his grandfather who served as an admiral in the Second World War. In fact, part of the war his flagship was the USS Hancock, the same aircraft carrier that my aviator dad served on. September 2, 1945, the formal unconditional surrender of Japan, John Sidney McCain – they called him Slew on the ship – witnessed the surrender instrument being signed by the Japanese. On September 6, just 4 days later, he laid his head down in California and died of a massive heart attack. The wounds were not visible, but they were ever present – the stress and what he endured in the Second World War.

So to our wounded warriors and those that are serving, we say to you, God bless you and thank you.

STATEMENT BY MR. SCHWEYER

The SPEAKER. Representative Schweyer.

Mr. SCHWEYER. Thank you, Speaker Turzai; thank you, Representative Gillen; and thank you to all members of the General Assembly for their affirmative vote on HR 464.

The Keystone Wounded Warriors is a program; it is an eastern Pennsylvania-based nonprofit that honors the daily sacrifices made by the brave men and women in all branches of the U.S. military. It strives to ease the burden of those folks, those heroes, from military to civilian life, not only for Pennsylvania's soldiers, again, but for their families as well.

In the spirit of HR 464, I would like to also once again remember and recognize the struggles that many of our soldiers experience when returning home from deployment or at discharge. More than half of all post-9/11 veterans report having difficulty readjusting to civilian life, according to Pew. In recent years a great deal has been done to assist with this transition; unfortunately, there is still a huge disconnect between veterans' expectations and reality.

Our service men and women truly believe that their skills and education will translate well into the civilian job market. Unfortunately, many veterans find that their current civilian positions are not an appropriate professional fit, especially given their level of military education and years of experience.

Even more concerning is the increase in suicide amongst veterans. A 2014 survey found that 51 percent of Afghanistan and Iraq veterans personally knew a service member from those wars who had attempted or succeeded in taking his or her own life. This is saddening, it is sickening, and frankly, it is shameful for our nation and for our Commonwealth.

Unfortunately, I could go on and on about the myriad of issues that our returning heroes face. Many of these issues simply do not register with the civilian public or even many elected officials. The transition from military to civilian life affects every aspect of their lives – careers, home, health, parenting, and so on.

Very personally, my father, John Schweyer, was a Vietnam veteran who suffered from severe PTSD (post-traumatic stress disorder) and many of the issues that stemmed from that. He did not have access to the counseling, career opportunities, and community support in the seventies that, frankly, he needed, and I say that he earned with his bravery and his sacrifice. And to be fair, it is impossible to say whether my dad would have been helped entirely with organizations like Keystone Wounded Warriors, but I truly wish he had the chance, because Dad deserved that, just like all of our current and future service men and women deserve that same chance at a fulfilling life.

On behalf of the grateful residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I wish to offer my sincere gratitude to the Keystone Wounded Warriors organization for all the support you provide to our service men and women, and we should take this opportunity to remind all of us in these hallowed chambers that it is our responsibility to the bravest Pennsylvanians who sacrifice so much.

Thank you again, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, Representative.

STATEMENT BY MRS. DEAN

The SPEAKER. We will first be calling upon Representative Dean on HR 465, and then Representative Staats on HR 468.

Representative Dean, the floor is yours.

Mrs. DEAN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

It is with real joy that I thank all of you for your unanimous support of HR 465 welcoming Pope Francis on his very first visit to the United States; in particular, to our own area, to Philadelphia, and to the World Meeting of Families.

Pope Francis is a humble man, a man of peace and mercy, and above all else, a man of the poor. As my brother would say, Pope Francis is a pastor with a servant's heart.

Jorge Bergoglio was born in 1936 to immigrant parents in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Central to his priesthood are the poor, those on the margins, those on the periphery, as he says. As Archbishop of Buenos Aires, he assembled a band of priests living among and ministering to those in the slums – serving the poor, serving the outcasts, serving those with AIDS (acquired immune deficiency syndrome), and visiting prisoners. Then in March of 2013 this unlikely man from an unlikely part of the world, with an unlikely focus in a most unlikely change of papacies, became Pope Francis, a joyful people's pope.

As one New York Times writer warmly wrote, "His smile is just..." short "...of goofy;...he projects a sense that he's an average man who's in on the joke." His motto is, "miserando atque eligendo," which means "lowly but chosen."

His Holiness is a man who rejects many of the trappings of his position, whether in his choice to live in a simple apartment or to say daily Mass for janitors, office workers, and gardeners. Pope Francis calls us to confront the uncomfortable, saying he prefers a church that is bruised, hurting, dirty, serving the poor, and serving those on the streets, rather than a church that is closed and comfortable. He calls boldly for us to be guardians, not gluttons, of Mother Earth.

Pope Francis basically lives the gospel that he teaches: "I was hungry and you fed me, naked and you clothed me, in prison and you visited me," because "Blessed are the poor in spirit, blessed are the meek, blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called children of God."

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and for all of you for taking this moment to celebrate the visit of a servant pope. May we learn from his example.

RESOLUTION PURSUANT TO RULE 35

Mr. STAATS called up HR 468, PN 2157, entitled:

A Resolution honoring and remembering the five fallen service members who were killed or mortally wounded during a mass shooting at a joint Navy and Marine Corps facility in Chattanooga, Tennessee, on July 16, 2015.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER. Members, we are going to call on Representative Staats.

This is a resolution dealing with five fallen service members who were killed during a mass shooting at a joint Navy and Marine Corps facility in Chattanooga, so I would ask everybody to please take their seats. All members, please take your seats. We are going to be honoring five fallen soldiers. Representative Staats will be speaking on this. All members, please take your seats.

Representative Staats, please, the floor is yours.

Mr. STAATS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to thank my colleagues for their support of Resolution 468 honoring and remembering the five fallen service members who were killed in Chattanooga, Tennessee, on July 16, 2015. These service members were senselessly attacked at two military installations following an attack by the same gunman on a Marine recruitment center several miles away.

Mr. Speaker, while this tragedy took place in Tennessee, the effects continue to be felt across the nation and in this Commonwealth.

As a proud American and father whose son is a Marine, I was and remain saddened and outraged. I know many of you in this chamber feel the same way. No one in America is more willing to put his or her own life on the line to protect innocent lives than a member of our military, but it should never happen at home.

Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleagues for their support of our nation's service members, and I would encourage everyone to support an upcoming resolution to be introduced by our colleague from Philadelphia, Martina White, who stands with me today, calling on the United States Congress and the Department of Defense to immediately authorize our military personnel to carry weapons while in the performance of their duties. It only makes sense to ensure that the brave men and women who dedicate their lives to protecting us are equipped and able to protect themselves.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Thank you.

Representative White, do you wish to be recognized? Okay. Thank you.

I think it fitting if all members would please rise for a moment of silence for our five fallen soldiers.

(A moment of silence was observed.)

The SPEAKER. Thank you.

On the question recurring,
Will the House adopt the resolution?

SUPPLEMENTAL CALENDAR CBILLS ON THIRD CONSIDERATION

The House proceeded to third consideration of HB 1342, PN 2012, entitled:

An Act designating a portion of State Route 1008 in Fayetteville, Franklin County, as the James W. Cutchall Memorial Highway.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third consideration?
Bill was agreed to.

(Bill analysis was read.)

The SPEAKER. This bill has been considered on three different days and agreed to and is now on final passage.
The question is, shall the bill pass finally?

I would ask members for their attention.
Representative Rob Kauffman is called upon.
Mr. KAUFFMAN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Today I rise to thank my colleagues for your consideration of HB 1342, which honors the life, leadership, and service of Chief James W. Cutchall of the Fayetteville Volunteer Fire Department. By definition, a hero is "a man or woman of distinguished courage or ability, admired for his brave deeds and noble qualities." I submit to you that Chief James W. Cutchall was not only a hero but he was the personification of a professional and what it means to be a selfless volunteer. As I was a brand-new Greene Township supervisor at the age of 25, I distinctly remember touring the Fayetteville firehouse and experiencing firsthand the legacy that was left by Chief Cutchall.

Over 20 years after his death there were memorials in the showcase and stories to be told, but more than that was the mark he left on his hometown of Fayetteville for the generations of volunteers yet to come. He believed that being a professional began the minute you woke up in the morning and never stopped throughout the day.

Professionalism was so much part of Chief Cutchall's life that he coined the phrase, "To be a volunteer firefighter and make an error is human. To be a volunteer firefighter and worry about those errors is compassion. To be a volunteer firefighter and do something about those errors is professionalism."

Mr. Speaker, on July 2, 1977, Chief James W. Cutchall was responding to the scene of a reported house fire, just as he had so many times before; however, this time his firefighting skills would not be put to the test. On this day he was instead met by gunfire from a mentally ill homeowner. On that fateful evening, Chief James W. Cutchall gave his life working to protect the citizens of the community that he so dearly loved.

Chief Cutchall was a great leader in the fire service and in our community. Today we honor his memory with a designation of the Chief James W. Cutchall Memorial Highway. Sadly, Chief Cutchall's mother, Frances, passed away 4 years ago and is not with us here today, but we are grateful to have much of the rest of his family here in the hall of the House.

If you will indulge me, I am going to introduce them, and I would ask them to rise as I call their name. Chief Cutchall's brother, Jeff, and his wife, Angie Cutchall, are here. His brother, Thomas, and wife, Maggie Cutchall, are here. And his sister, Carolyn Tash, is here in the House with us. Would you please stand and recognize the family with me today.

And it is only fitting that we pass HB 1342 in recognition of Chief Cutchall's life, and it will ever be noted in Fayetteville as the Chief James W. Cutchall Memorial Highway.

I thank you, Mr. Speaker, for your positive consideration of this legislation.

The SPEAKER. Members, before we take the vote, I would ask in memory of this fallen firefighter, this first responder, could we all please stand for a moment of silence.

(Whereupon, the members of the House and all visitors stood in a moment of silence in solemn respect to the memory of Chief James W. Cutchall.)

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. Agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays will now be taken.

The majority having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendment was agreed to.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on second consideration as amended?
Bill as amended was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The bill as amended will be reprinted.

The House proceeded to second consideration of SB 210, PN 121, entitled:

An Act amending Title 42 (Judiciary and Judicial Procedure) of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes, in juries and jurors, further providing for exemptions from jury duty.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on second consideration?

Mrs. DAVIS offered the following amendment No. A02882:

Amend Bill, page 1, by inserting between lines 16 and 17
(8) Breastfeeding women providing the court with a certified letter from their physician which states that the woman is breastfeeding. An excuse under this paragraph shall be valid for one year and may be renewed for one additional year provided that the woman is able to provide the court with a certified letter from the woman's physician which states that the woman is breastfeeding.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER. On that question, the Chair recognizes Representative Davis.

Mrs. DAVIS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

This amendment exempts breastfeeding women from jury duty for 1 year after they have a baby, with a certification from a physician. We are aware that the word "physician"— We do understand some groups want us to include other professionals, so we could put that with the Senate and let them do it.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, Representative.

Representative Dave Parker.

Mr. PARKER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the maker of the amendment?

The SPEAKER. Representative Davis, do you care to be interrogated?

Yes, she has agreed to be interrogated.

Representative Parker, the floor is yours, and Representative Davis will answer your questions.

Mr. PARKER. Mr. Speaker, is the amendment intended to apply to a mother who breastfeeds her own baby?

Mrs. DAVIS. Could you repeat that please, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. PARKER. Is the amendment intended to apply to a mother who breastfeeds her own baby?

Mrs. DAVIS. Yes.

Mr. PARKER. Okay. And will the amendment require a certified letter, or why will the amendment require a certified letter from a doctor?

Mrs. DAVIS. Because a letter, Mr. Speaker, from a physician, just like if you were getting a vaccination report for school, they have the stamp saying it is from a physician.

Mr. PARKER. Okay. Whose doctor is the letter to come from, the baby's doctor or the mother's doctor?

Mrs. DAVIS. I would say the mother's doctor, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PARKER. Okay. One question then, if the county courthouses already accept notification from a breastfeeding mother by way of a phone call or written notice on the jury summons form as reason enough to excuse or postpone the nursing mother's jury duty, will courthouses be able to continue this practice if this amendment becomes law?

Mrs. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, this just creates another exemption. So it would be automatic; you would not have to make the phone call.

Mr. PARKER. Okay. And the last question, what is the case or situation that became the impetus of this amendment? Was there something that occurred that a woman was not given an exemption, that—

Mrs. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I mean, I was a mother of three children. I breastfed. And it takes hours to breastfeed a child. And if you are not in the, if you are not available to other, a private area to breastfeed—

Mr. PARKER. Okay. No further questions.

Mr. Speaker, may I speak on the amendment?

The SPEAKER. Representative Parker, you may speak on the amendment.

Mr. PARKER. Thank you.

I understand the intention of the gentlelady from Bucks County is to make life better for breastfeeding mothers throughout the Commonwealth, but my fear is that this amendment might have the opposite effect in most of our counties and make life more difficult for the very women it seeks to help. I think sometimes we pass well-intended laws designed to help some Pennsylvanians but end up harming others. Right now in Monroe County a breastfeeding mother called for jury need to only verify that she has a child to be excused from jury duty or have her service postponed.

In many of our county courthouses, a mother simply has to tell the court that she has a child or that she is breastfeeding to be exempted from jury duty; however, if she still wishes to serve, the court will make accommodations for her to breastfeed or pump. My office contacted 16 courthouses from second class to eighth class counties. Fifteen responded. Twelve simply require that you tell them you are a breastfeeding mother or the mother of a young child. Three require documentation, such as a birth certificate to verify motherhood. I do not understand why we would require a mother who breastfeeds her child to get a doctor's note, as if breastfeeding is an illness or disability. I believe such language could cause a courthouse employee to begin asking for a doctor's note once he or she sees that an excuse written on a jury form is for breastfeeding.

Mr. Speaker, Pennsylvania mothers of young children are busy enough raising families, working jobs, and running households. We should not place another burden on them by requiring a doctor's note for doing one of the most natural, healthy, and beautiful things a mother can do for her child. If anything, we should make sure our courthouses are accommodating to those nursing mothers who wish to serve, while making sure that mothers of young children can postpone their service or be exempted.

So I believe the maker of the amendment wishes to help breastfeeding mothers across the Commonwealth, but I also believe that breastfeeding mothers would be best helped by voting down this amendment and allowing courthouses to continue excusing, postponing, and accommodating jury service for breastfeeding mothers as they have been doing for years.

I urge a "no" vote on the amendment. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. Representative Margo Davidson.

Mrs. DAVIDSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of breastfeeding mothers in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This just adds an exemption that currently does not exist and allows nursing mothers the ability to stay home with their child and focus on parenting in the early stages of life.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The House proceeded to third consideration of HB 471, PN 516, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 10, 2008 (P.L.1009, No.78), known as the Biofuel Development and In-State Production Incentive Act, further providing for definitions, for cellulosic ethanol content in gasoline and for department authority and responsibility; and making editorial changes.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third consideration?
Bill was agreed to.

(Bill analysis was read.)

The SPEAKER. This bill has been considered on three different days and agreed to and is now on final passage.
The question is, shall the bill pass finally?

Representative Vitali.
Mr. VITALI. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I stand in opposition to HB 471. HB 471 would eliminate the cellulosic ethanol requirements in fuels produced in Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, at the outset I want to make one thing clear: If this bill passes, if this bill is signed by the Governor, it will have absolutely no effect on the ethanol content in gasoline in this State. Let me repeat that. If this bill passes, it will have absolutely no effect on the ethanol content of gasoline in Pennsylvania. The ethanol requirement is a Federal requirement, and it is now being fulfilled by corn ethanol, not cellulosic ethanol. So this bill will have absolutely no effect on cars, on small engines, on tractors. It will have absolutely no effect right now.

By way of background, what cellulosic ethanol is, as distinguished from corn ethanol, it is ethanol made from things like switchgrass and corn stover and things like that, which do not compete with the food supply. Corn ethanol competes with the food supply.

The reason this bill will have absolutely no effect if it is passed is because the ethanol, the cellulosic ethanol requirements in Pennsylvania law only kick in when a certain volume of cellulosic ethanol production is reached in Pennsylvania, and we are nowhere near that. So this is all theoretical.

Mr. Speaker, the reason to vote "no" on this is that cellulosic ethanol is a good thing. It is a much better thing than corn ethanol. As we mentioned, cellulosic ethanol does not compete with the food supply, and it also has the advantage of helping to combat climate change and helping America stay energy independent by reducing our use of oil and other fossil fuels.

Mr. Speaker, the reason to keep this in is it will help incentivize the future development of cellulosic ethanol in Pennsylvania. I just wanted to read an opinion of a professor of agriculture from Penn State, Tom Richard, professor of agriculture and biological engineering at Penn State, specific to HB 471. He said – this is a summary – keeping PA's 10-percent cellulosic ethanol requirement by voting against the bill would continue to incentivize production of the fuel in PA as the technology gains footing. This, again, is the Penn State professor. This would slowly allow the cellulosic industry to gain a foothold and start to work against corn ethanol. We want cellulosic ethanol in the place of corn ethanol.

You know, I think that with Pope Francis coming to town later this week, and I am sure his papal encyclical "Laudato Si' " was not aimed at HB 471 specifically, but I think the contents of that encyclical I think will help us inform our vote today. It will help us inform our vote today, and I think provides many good reasons to vote against this bill, because we need, as a legislature, to take seriously our responsibilities to help combat climate change. In his papal encyclical, the Pope said, "A very solid scientific consensus indicates that we are presently witnessing a disturbing warming of the climatic system." This is Pope Francis. "...A number of scientific studies indicate that most global warming in recent decades is due to the great concentration of greenhouse gases...released mainly as a result of human activity." This is Pope Francis talking about climate change, and cellulosic ethanol helps fight climate change. The Pope continues, "If present trends continue, this century may well witness extraordinary climate change and an unprecedented destruction of ecosystems, with serious consequences for all of us."

Mr. Speaker, bills like this, bills that eliminate incentives for renewable energy are things we should reject. We as a legislature have fiddled while Rome has burned. Scientist after scientist, scientific institution after scientific institution has warned us: If we do not keep this planet from warming more than 2 degrees Celsius, there are going to be irreversible consequences. Mr. Speaker, we need to promote renewable energy not discourage it. This bill discourages the production of good, renewable energy, and even though it will not affect ethanol requirements today, it could possibly discourage them in the future.

So those concerned about climate change, renewable energy, energy independence, and hurting the food supply of the poor should vote against HB 471. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. Chairman John Maher. Waives off.
Representative Dush.

Mr. DUSH. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

In regards to the references to global warming that were just put forth, it is interesting that President Obama was just up in Alaska to talk about global warming and highlighted the receding glacier, and that glacier he is standing in front of had tree stumps that were there. Those tree stumps date back to the medieval warming period, back when Leif Eriksson, and before that his father, Erik the Red, were raising grapes, had vineyards in Greenland. It was called Greenland for a reason. There were no manufacturing processes going on there that contributed to that global warming. What they did have was nature creating a warming and cooling trend, the cycle that this earth has been going on for millennia.

On this bill, the arguments against this bill are what I am addressing. The argument that was presented had to do with a global warming that people are claiming to be man-made. This is a part of a natural process, and the arguments against it, based – against this piece of legislation – based on just the evidence that we have right in front of us in historical record that we have from the medieval warming period until now, there is no man-made global warming to the extent— For those who would argue otherwise, I challenge you. I challenge you to show me where the manufacturing base was, where the man-made occurrences were that created the medieval warming period. Thank you.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. Agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays will now be taken.

The SPEAKER. This bill has been considered on three different days and agreed to and is now on final passage.
The question is, shall the bill pass finally?

Representative Vitali.
Mr. VITALI. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I have concerns with SB 513. We have argued this issue I think twice before on the House floor in the context of the Killion bill. It deals with the trucking of leachate from landfills. The current requirements are that landfill leachate has to be treated on-site or piped to a treatment facility. This would change that.

My concerns with the bill are as follows. One, I understand there is an amendment to this bill to attempt to address some concerns. I have read the amended bill 10 times. I just think it is unclear, unworkable, and does not do what it purports to do. My second concern with the bill is that it really is meant to address a local problem, which is Delaware County's problem, but it really covers the whole State. I just think that this one really needs to go back to the drawing board. If it passes, my hope is that the Senate will really clean this up, and if it does not pass, the next effort at it will be an effort of a much higher quality.

So I am going to vote "no" just to sort of send a red flag to the Senate that this needs to have a second look, and I urge my environmentally minded colleagues to also vote "no." Thank you.

The SPEAKER. Does anybody else wish to be recognized?

An Act providing for the use of treated mine water for oil and gas development.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third consideration?
Bill was agreed to.

(Bill analysis was read.)

The SPEAKER. This bill has been considered on three different days and agreed to and is now on final passage.

The question is, shall the bill pass finally?

Representative Vitali.

Mr. VITALI. I just want to alert the members to the contents of this bill because there is some controversy here. I just want the members to take the vote they feel is the correct one. This allows acid mine drainage water to be used in the hydrofracking process. It does not allow it, but it creates some limitations of liability which encourage it.

It limits the liability of the users of this acid mine drainage water from any cleanup duties related to where the water came from, and it also releases the supplier of the acid mine drainage water from liabilities, which might occur when the water is being fracked and beyond.

So in the environmental world, it has some controversy. Almost all environmental groups oppose this bill.

The SPEAKER. Representative Maher.

Mr. MAHER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

This bill would allow what DEP (Department of Environmental Protection) has permitted case by case for many years: the use of mine water that has been treated to a standard that would be sufficient under Federal law to release that water into our streams, into our lakes, into our creeks. And in this case, this proposal would say, rather than drawing water out of our lakes and our creeks and our streams for fracking and then releasing mine water that has been treated into those lakes and streams and creeks, how about treating the mine water and using it directly? It is a win-win environmentally, as far as I can see. It leaves the natural flows of water in the creeks, and it creates an incentive for cleaning up mine water, which in some cases, particularly in western Pennsylvania, has been waiting for 100 years to get treatment.

I will ask for your support. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. Representative Jeff Pyle.

Mr. PYLE. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

For the reasons the gentleman from Upper St. Clair just elaborated upon, SB 875 is a very solid bill in that it is not requiring us to draw from Pennsylvania's freshwater resources, but rather it repurposes acid mine drainage – the stuff we have been trying to get rid of – and allows them to use it into injections in my area, which go around 5500 to 5800 feet, never to be seen again.

This bill makes so much sense. It cleans up a lot of waterways for Pennsylvania.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would encourage a "yes" vote.

The SPEAKER. Representative McCarter.

Mr. McCARTER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

While I agree with the previous two speakers that have indicated that in fact there is a good possibility that this really would benefit I think all parties concerned, there is still one issue, unfortunately, that I must take exception to, and it explains why I will vote "no" on this bill, and that is the liability and accountability issue, as you will, for the industry that engages in fracking. And again, this bill could probably be made very simply much better if in fact we were able to put trackers into the water that was coming out of the mines and then used for fracking. That way we would be able to test the liability and the accountability issue if in fact any of that water ever got into the aquifers that would be then reused. In other words, once the water is used after fracking and injected into the wells, there would be a way to track the accountability, and unfortunately, that does not exist in this particular measure. Is it treated water? Yes. But could it be used in a courtroom later on to be able to track the accountability issues? The answer is no. And consequently, I will be voting "no" on this issue and hope that the Senate has a little bit better result than what we are having here. Thank you.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. Agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays will now be taken.

CALENDAR CONTINUED

AMENDMENT A02882 CONTINUED

The SPEAKER. Turning to SB 210, we are going to return to that and amendment 2882.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER. Representative Parker, for the second time on the amendment.

Mr. PARKER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Apparently I was not clear—

The SPEAKER. Please suspend, sir. Please suspend.

Mr. PARKER. Okay.

The SPEAKER. Members, Representative Parker has the floor.

Mr. PARKER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Yes, sir, you may proceed.

Mr. PARKER. Okay.

Apparently I was not clear in my remarks. My opposition to the amendment is because I think it actually makes it more difficult for nursing mothers to get exempted from jury duty. Currently they can get exempted by simply writing on the form that they are breastfeeding mothers or they have children, or they can make a phone call to the county courthouse to explain, you know, I have children I am caring for. I am breastfeeding my baby. And I think if we require a doctor's note, many county employees will see that, who are in charge of juries, and say, "Well, if you are a breastfeeding mother, I now need a doctor's note." So now the person will have to go to the doctor and get a note. I do not know if they will have to pay a copay or anything, but it takes time.

In many counties it is very simple right now. It is accommodated in every county that I called, and that is 15 of them. So I just do not see, if we could exempt all the counties except the one county where it is a problem, I could support it, but I do not think we should change State law just to accommodate one county.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Representative Davis.

Mrs. DAVIS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Some judges do not allow you simply by making a phone call, and the woman still has to go to the courthouse. In my case, I would have to travel an hour. And it takes hours— You cannot be away from a baby that long. So I am not doing it for one; I am doing it for the whole State.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.
