

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 2019

SESSION OF 2019

203D OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

No. 69

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The House convened at 10 a.m., e.s.t.

THE SPEAKER (MIKE TURZAI) PRESIDING

PRAYER

The SPEAKER. Our prayer today will be offered by Pastor Bob Stoner, who is retired as the pastor from Millersburg Assembly of God, and he is the guest of our good friend and colleague, Representative Sue Helm.

REV. BOB STONER, Guest Chaplain of the House of Representatives, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray together:

Father God, creator of all that is right and proper, we gather today in this beautiful assembly hall at the seat of State government here in this magnificent Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to conduct the business of the people.

Once again today the elected Representatives of the Commonwealth and the many who support them have gathered for the purpose of dreaming, planning, and voting what they believe will be the best solutions for the many challenges that face their constituents. We cannot, we must not seek to accomplish this by our own strength, and we cannot foolishly rely on the mere wisdom of man when Your wisdom, the wisdom of our Creator God, is poised and waiting to flood the souls and guide our human thinking.

This Thanksgiving season when we give thanks for the many blessings that are ours here in this great nation, we pause to give thanks for Your supernatural guidance that remains available to each of us so we can confidently move forward in our divine destiny. This morning we humbly seek and boldly ask for Your divine guidance. Keep each one here ever sensitive to Your heart, Father God. May each man and woman elected with the burden to represent the people remain sensitive to Your voice and to Your heart as they seek to be sensitive to the needs and the challenges of the people they represent.

So today there is one who is here who is bigger than our individual party affiliations, one who is present behind every closed caucus door and one whose wisdom makes our individual ideas seem somewhat less important. We turn to You today, Father God. Lead us, guide us, indeed capture us in Your presence as we pray. Holy Spirit, You are welcome here. Come flood this place and fill the atmosphere.

For Your honor and glory we pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

(The Pledge of Allegiance was recited by members and visitors.)

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the approval of the Journal of Wednesday, November 20, 2019, will be postponed until printed.

STATEMENT BY MR. ECKER

The SPEAKER. Representative Ecker, on HR 544. Representative Torren Ecker, on HR 544, which we passed yesterday.

Mr. ECKER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I rise today to thank my colleagues for their support of HR 544 to mark Saturday, November 30, as "Small Business Saturday" in Pennsylvania.

In my district and across the Commonwealth, small businesses are the life of our economy. Small businesses account for a significant share of the State's economic production and hiring. According to the most recent PA Small Business Profile reported by the U.S. Small Business Administration Office of Advocacy, our Commonwealth's small businesses employ 2.5 million people and make up an overwhelming majority of all employers in the Commonwealth.

Those numbers are no different in the 193d Legislative District. My district is home to a plentiful amount of family-owned businesses. From the many restaurants to the numerous farms, orchards, and stores of all shapes and sizes that sell various goods, the place I call home, just like the places you call home, is made up of these great small businesses.

Being the owner of a small business is no easy task. If you know anyone who runs a small business, I am sure you have heard or even seen the hours, toil, tears, and sweat that comes with the job. It is often thankless work, but it is work that comes with a sense of pride – pride of being your own boss; pride of providing employment to others; pride of contributing to your community. We all know about Black Friday after Thanksgiving, but do not forget your small businesses next Saturday. That is why I would like to thank everyone again for supporting HR 544 to mark the last Saturday of this month as "Small Business Saturday."

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, Representative Ecker.

STATEMENT BY MR. MALONEY

The SPEAKER. Representative Dave Maloney is recognized to speak on HR 614. We passed this resolution yesterday, and the floor is Representative Maloney's.

Mr. MALONEY. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

One hundred years ago, March 15, 1919, the American Legion was founded in France by war-weary members of the American Expeditionary Forces who had all fought in World War I. There are nearly 2 million members of the American Legion, making it the nation's largest wartime veterans service organization.

The American Legion has more than 12,000 posts in communities throughout the United States. Many of these posts were created many years after 1919. Being a very patriotic community, the Boyertown American Legion Post 471 in Boyertown, Pennsylvania, held its inaugural meeting just months later on November 20, 1919. General Carl Spatz, a chartered member of Post 471, the father of the modern Air Force who served as the first chief of staff of the United States Air Force, is a source of immense pride of Post 471.

As members of Post 471 and their American Legion counterparts continued to meet in Boyertown and across the nation, they thought about how to support their wounded comrades, honor the fallen, assist surviving spouses and orphans, protect the democracy they pledged their lives to defend, and chart a new course for future generations of America.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, Representative Maloney.

Now, we are going to be voting on some resolutions later today, but at this time in advocacy of those resolutions, I know Representative Samuelson wishes to speak, Representative Lewis wishes to speak, Representative McClinton wishes to speak, and Representative Rapp wishes to speak, and I will call upon those individuals to advocate for those resolutions now. We will be voting for them later. As always, I do ask members if they could limit their remarks to 3 minutes. It would be greatly appreciated.

Are any of the members prepared to speak on their resolutions?

STATEMENT BY MS. RAPP

The SPEAKER. Representative Kathy Rapp is recognized to speak on HR 598.

Ms. RAPP. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Members of the House, I am greatly honored to rise and thank you for your support of HR 598, which designates November 2019 as "COPD Awareness Month" in Pennsylvania.

Chronic obstruction pulmonary disease is a term used to describe airflow obstruction that is associated mainly with emphysema and chronic bronchitis. COPD affects millions of individuals throughout the United States and an estimated 714,000 Pennsylvania residents, making it the fourth leading cause of death in this Commonwealth.

Nationally, COPD currently accounts for 1.5 million emergency room visits, 726,000 hospitalizations, and 8 million physician office visits and hospital outpatient visits, all of which are detrimental to the United States' economy.

Recently the death rate for women with COPD has surpassed the death rate for men with COPD. Until there is a cure, the best approaches to preventing COPD and its considerable health, societal, and mortality impacts is promoting greater public awareness, enhancing education, and increasing early diagnosis to save lives and reduce health-care costs in this Commonwealth.

It is for all these reasons that I thank my fellow members for unanimous passage of HR 598.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, Madam Chair.

STATEMENT BY MR. SAMUELSON

The SPEAKER. Representative Steve Samuelson, I know he has guests with us today, and he will be introducing his guests as part of his advocacy for HR 612, and Representative Kortz is going to be with him.

Mr. SAMUELSON. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I am joined by Representative Tom Murt and Representative Bill Kortz in thanking the House for your support of Resolution 612, recognizing November as "National Alzheimer's Disease Awareness and Family Caregiver Month." We have several guests here who are on the front lines in our fight to end Alzheimer's and related disorders. I want to introduce a couple of them who are in the back of the House.

On this day 6 years ago, Pam Wehr-Haas of New Tripoli, Lehigh County, lost her husband on this day 6 years ago to early onset Alzheimer's. He was one of five members of his family that have passed away from this disease. Given the family history, Pam's daughter was tested and unfortunately tested positive for the PSEN1 mutation at 38 years old, and she is already experiencing some symptoms of early onset Alzheimer's. I want to commend Pam, who volunteers for the Alzheimer's Association in honor of her late husband and to fight for her daughter.

This year close to 30,000 people walked in 28 Walks to End Alzheimer's around our State. Some of the volunteers are here with us today. One of them is from the Lehigh Valley. We have Heather Brown from Northampton County, who has been chair and organizer of the Lehigh Valley Walk to End Alzheimer's for the past 4 years. I participated this year and I have to tell you, there were 1,400 walkers and they have raised $220,000 so far. So thank you to Heather Brown for all of your efforts.

Caring for someone suffering from Alzheimer's or a related disorder is a challenge for families and loved ones around our State. Many unpaid, informal caregivers devote time and energy and resources to their loved one's care. In Pennsylvania we have 676,000 people who are unpaid, informal caregivers who will spend about 770 million hours caring for their loved ones.

Today with us we have Carol Kennedy of Camp Hill, and she is joined by her son, Brian, and his wife, Kim. Carol is in the back standing up. Her son, Brian, is the one with the purple-dyed hair. Thank you, Brian. Carol was diagnosed with Alzheimer's at age 67. Brian believes that home health care and family caregiving for the past 8 years has improved his mother's quality of life, and he wishes that organizations around our State would analyze the value of home health care and focus on this more intently for our seniors. We also have many guests from the Alzheimer's Association up in the gallery, and I would like all of them to stand and be recognized.

We are all working together for that day when we find a cure for Alzheimer's. In the meantime, we have to fight to ensure that health-care providers, families, first responders, and caregivers are given the tools that they need to properly recognize and help those with Alzheimer's. We must raise awareness of the warning signs so that people can get treatment. We must support the important research that is taking place, and most importantly, we must support our unpaid, informal caregivers.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I would like to introduce Representative Tom Murt, chair of the Aging and Older Adult Services Committee.

STATEMENT BY MR. MURT

Mr. MURT. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Thank you to Chairman Samuelson. I am very grateful to everyone for their support of HR 612, which recognizes November as "National Alzheimer's Disease Awareness and Family Caregiver Month." I also want to thank Representative Bill Kortz for his leadership on this issue as well.

Mr. Speaker, I am very pleased to be here and to be able to introduce one of my constituents who is a leading advocate in southeastern Pennsylvania. I would ask Shannon Simcox of Willow Grove in Upper Moreland Township to please stand.

Mr. Speaker, in 2015 Shannon lost her grandfather, William Daley, to a 10-year battle with Alzheimer's disease. He was predeceased by his primary caregiver and wife, Camille, by nearly a year. Shannon's great-aunt, William's sister, is currently living with Alzheimer's. Clearly, this disease knows no bounds and it takes a great toll on the health of everyone around them, Mr. Speaker.

Shannon has used her tragedies to shine a light on this disease. She first participated in the Philadelphia Walk to End Alzheimer's in 2010, where she was able to walk around Citizens Bank Park with her grandfather. And I would add, every year my predecessor on the Aging Committee, Chairman Tim Hennessey, participated in that walk as well. Mr. Speaker, since then, Shannon has been relentless in her awareness and fundraising efforts. Most recently, she served as the marketing chair of the Philadelphia Walk to End Alzheimer's Planning Committee, a volunteer position where she contributed her time, talents, and skills to help raise awareness about the event and the disease. Even more, she personally raised over $3,000 for this November's walk.

Mr. Speaker, looking forward to 2020, Shannon will be cochair of the Philadelphia Walk to End Alzheimer's, an attempt to help lead an amazing group of volunteers and advocates, devoted advocates, and thousands of Philadelphia-area walkers towards a world without Alzheimer's.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and thank you to the members for their support of this resolution.

STATEMENT BY MR. KORTZ

Mr. KORTZ. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, it is an honor to be here today and I want to thank my colleagues, Representative Samuelson and Representative Murt, for their advocacy and their leadership on this very important subject. I want to thank all of the advocates that are here today and that are not here, across the State, and all of the caregivers for what they do to help those folks that so desperately need their care.

Mr. Speaker, over 400,000 good Pennsylvanians suffer from this terrible, debilitating disease. It ravages these victims, and it is terrible to go through this, and I think many of you know that my mother succumbed to this disease on April 29, 2005, but the 10 years leading up to that were just horrific to see your loved parent go through, and my father being the caregiver, it sapped his energy and he lost his life 5 years prior to mother passing away.

So my heart goes out to all of those caregivers and to all the victims of this terrible disease, and I hope, Mr. Speaker, my hope is that someday, someday we find a cure to put this behind us because it is terrible to watch your loved one go through this. So, Mr. Speaker, I thank you for your affirmative vote.

STATEMENT BY MS. McCLINTON

The SPEAKER. Representative Joanna McClinton, on HR 579.

Ms. McCLINTON. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank all of my colleagues for their affirmative support of my resolution, HR 579, which designates November 25 as "Elimination of Violence Against Women Day" right here in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Each year I sponsor this resolution, and I ask for all of your support. Why do I do this? Because sadly, this is literally a matter of life and death for countless women, because by speaking up and letting our voices be heard, we stand up for every woman and girl who cannot. Worldwide, violence against women and girls is widespread and one of the most common human rights abuses. If you think this is a problem that is only in places that are far away from us here in Harrisburg, you would be wrong. No country is free from these types of heinous acts that rip away at individual's freedom, security, and all too often life.

While progress has been made in recent years in terms of female equality worldwide, we all know that these advances are not universal. Even in developed countries in the United States, as an example, gender-based violence continues to impact countless women and girls each and every year. Women continue to be the subject of violence, discrimination, and abuse simply because of who we are. That is unacceptable in 2019. The statistics surrounding this issue are truly amazing. I know it is easy to get lost in numbers, but I think the figures I am about to share with you will put this into the proper perspective.

One in three girls experience physical or sexual violence in their lifetime, and most frequently it is by someone they know, an intimate partner; one in three. One in two women killed worldwide were killed by their partners or family members in 2012, while 1 out of 20 men were killed in similar situations. Two hundred million women and girls have undergone violent female genital mutilation, most often between the ages of birth and years old. Seventy-one percent of human trafficking victims worldwide are women and girls. Three out of four of these women and girls are sexually exploited.

Collectively, violence against women and girls affects at least a billion women across the globe; 1 billion women and girls. Here in the United States, about one-third of women who are killed in any year are killed by an intimate partner. One in four women in the United States have experienced sexual violence, physical violence, and/or stalking by an intimate partner during their lifetime. These events have lifelong impacts on victims that lead to depression, mental health issues, suicide, health complications, and sadly, the loss of life.

Victims of this type of violence are not strangers. Many times we know victims of violence. We know them because they are women in our families. They are our mothers, our sisters, our daughters, our friends, our coworkers, our neighbors, and even ourselves. We have to stand up and say no more.

So I am calling on all of us to do more, to stand up when we learn of a woman that is being harassed and offer assistance to teach all of our young men how to treat each other, but of course how to treat young women. Threats of violence and harassment are never okay. We have to also pass better laws to protect women and girls in the Commonwealth and across the country. Women and girls should have opportunities and be encouraged to pursue them. They should not be victimized and discriminated against because of our sex.

Again, I would like to thank all of our colleagues for supporting this bill and this resolution, particularly to get more involved, and I would like to especially thank Representatives Sara Innamorato, Summer Lee, Movita Johnson-Harrell, and Jennifer O'Mara.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

RESOLUTION REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

HR 442, PN 2400 By Rep. HELM

A Resolution recognizing October 7, 2019, as "World Habitat Day" in Pennsylvania.

URBAN AFFAIRS.

The SPEAKER. Members, at this time we are going to move to third consideration bills. Those have all been caucused, those have all been caucused, including one concurrence that we started yesterday and that we are picking up today, SB 733, PN 1324, page 12 of today's House calendar.

This is a Senate bill that the House amended and then the Senate amended subsequently. The majority Appropriations chair explained the House amendments and the Senate amendments yesterday, so that is on record. It is SB 733, PN 1324.

CALENDAR

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE AMEDMENTS

The House proceeded to consideration of concurrence in Senate amendments to House amendments to SB 733, PN 1324, entitled:

An Act providing for the Pennsylvania Gaming Economic Development and Tourism Fund Capital Budget for 2019; itemizing projects to be assisted by the Department of Community and Economic Development, together with their estimated financial costs; authorizing recurring payments for certain projects; and making appropriations.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in Senate amendments to House amendments?

The SPEAKER. At this time the Chair calls upon Representative Schweyer.

Mr. SCHWEYER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I rise in support of SB 733. It is my understanding, Mr. Speaker, that SB 733, PN 1324, makes changes to the Pennsylvania Gaming Economic Development and Tourism Fund Capital Budget of 2019.

Mr. Speaker, as you know, under present law, Act 1 of 2010 amended by Act 42 of 2017 presently provides for funds in Allegheny County that are approved first by the redevelopment authority of Allegheny County and then the Commonwealth Financing Authority. This bill does not diminish or reduce those funds in any manner whatsoever, and that is my understanding, sir. This only applies to those that are over in the Lehigh Valley.

Once again I ask the members for a concurrence vote.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, sir.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in Senate amendments to House amendments?

The SPEAKER. Agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays will now be taken.

(Members proceeded to vote.)

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

The SPEAKER. Representative Andrew LEWIS has requested to be placed on leave. Without objection, that will be granted.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE CANCELED

The SPEAKER. Representative Andrew Lewis is on the House floor and should be placed on the master roll.

STATEMENT BY MR. LEWIS

The SPEAKER. Representative Lewis, you have some guests, I believe, today? And do you mind—are you prepared to speak on that now? Yes. So Andrew Lewis, Representative Andrew Lewis, has some guests, and it is on HR 660, which he will be advocating for and that we will vote on at the end of session today.

Mr. LEWIS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and thank you, colleagues.

Today I am very excited to speak in support of my resolution, which is HR 600, that would recognize the month of November as "Long-Term Care Awareness Month" in Pennsylvania. And I am very excited today to be joined by a long-time advocate for our seniors and for those helping to support family members with long-term care, Debbie Dare, who is in the back and who is a constituent of mine as well. So let us give a round of applause to Debbie Dare.

Pennsylvania has the third largest population of senior citizens in the country, and studies reveal that up to 70 percent of men and women over the age of 65 will need long-term care. The Commonwealth currently spends approximately $7.5 billion annually for long-term-care services, and this amount will continue to increase as the elderly population grows. Long-Term Care Awareness Month is aimed at educating consumers about the importance of long-term-care insurance to help cover the rising cost of care.

The month of November is the beginning of the holiday season, where families will be gathering and discussing plans for the future, and while not everyone will need long-term-care insurance, everyone should have a long-term-care plan for the future.

With the adoption of this resolution, it is my hope that we can raise awareness and encourage families to discuss their long-term-care options with their loved ones and develop a plan.

So please join me later this afternoon in support of this HR 600, designating November as "Long-Term Care Awareness Month" in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The House proceeded to consideration of concurrence in Senate amendments to HB 227, PN 2925, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P.L.1333, No.320), known as the Pennsylvania Election Code, in nomination of candidates, further providing for number of signers required for nomination petitions of candidates at primaries; in ballots, further providing for form of ballots, printing ballots, stubs and numbers, for number of ballots to be printed and specimen ballots and for record of ballots to be kept; in electronic voting systems, further providing for forms, for supplies, preparation of the voting system and of polling places, for election day procedures and the process of voting and for post election procedures; in preparation for and conduct of primaries and elections, further providing for voter's certificates, for manner of applying to vote, persons entitled to vote, voter's certificates, entries to be made in district register, numbered lists of voters and challenges, for admission of electors within enclosed space, for ballots to be issued by election officers only, ballots not to be removed and official ballots only to be deposited or counted and for duties of election officers after the close of the polls in districts in which ballots are used; in voting by qualified absentee electors, further providing for official absentee voters ballots; in voting by qualified mail-in electors, further providing for official mail-in elector ballots; and, in returns of primaries and elections, further providing for computation of returns by county board, certification and issuance of certificates of election.

On the question,
Will the House concur in Senate amendments?

The SPEAKER. It is going to be moved by Representative Matt Gabler that we concur in those amendments inserted by the Senate, and the Chair recognizes Representative Gabler for a brief description of the underlying bill and the Senate amendments.

Mr. GABLER. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

I want to thank the members. Back in February this chamber unanimously passed HB 227 to provide uniformity of ballot access to school director candidates. The underlying bill provision to run changed. However, in the Senate there were two amendments that were added to account for some updates that will help facilitate the transition to the new election machines that are being rolled out across our Commonwealth.

There were two provisions in specific that were added. First, there is a provision in this bill that will require the Secretary of the Commonwealth to provide standards to counties to ensure that supplies are provided, so that when voters put their ballots into the electronic counting machine, that there is privacy and secrecy in that counting process.

Secondly, the amendment in the Senate also removes an obsolete reference to ballot stubs and perforations. Those perforated stubs were actually causing these machines to jam and causing the lines to be longer, so by removing this reference to the requirement for stubs, it will allow these ballots to be counted much more efficiently and avoid the problems that were encountered on election day.

I ask everybody for an affirmative vote. Thank you very much.

On the question recurring,
Will the House concur in Senate amendments?

The SPEAKER. Agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays will now be taken.

The House proceeded to consideration of concurrence in Senate amendments to HB 17, PN 2900, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 4, 1971 (P.L.6, No.2), known as the Tax Reform Code of 1971, in sales and use tax, further providing for exclusions from tax; in general provisions, further providing for administrative bank attachment for accounts of obligors to the Commonwealth and providing for collection of assessed taxes and for criminal tax prosecutions.

On the question,
Will the House concur in Senate amendments?

The SPEAKER. Moved by the gentleman, Representative Frank Ryan, that the House should concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate.

The Chair recognizes Representative Ryan for a brief description of the underlying bill and the Senate amendments, and then I know Representative Dawkins has requested to speak on this as well.

Mr. RYAN. On HB 17, which we passed unanimously. HB 17, correction, we did not pass unanimously initially, but this provides for a statute of limitations on the collection of taxes. We did pass it in the chamber before. The Senate made two amendments: one, basically, to add a sales tax provision, which is a good addition to the bill, as well as working with the Department of Revenue, a data match after ensuring that all taxpayers have their entire statutory and legal rights affirmed.

It is a good bill, and we would ask for your positive vote on the bill.

The SPEAKER. Representative Dawkins, on HB 17, concurrence vote.

Mr. DAWKINS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

If the good maker would be willing to stand for brief interrogation?

The SPEAKER. He has indicated he will, sir.

Mr. DAWKINS. Thank you very much.

Quick question: How many other provisions do we have a statute of limitation on the Tax Code? Is there any other statute of limitation as it relates to the Tax Code for those who did not pay?

Mr. RYAN. In terms of the – within Pennsylvania or—

Mr. DAWKINS. Yes, in Pennsylvania.

Mr. RYAN. Within Pennsylvania this will be the first time that we have established a statute of limitations on it, and it is restricted to those items that are part of the general tax collection, personal income tax. It does not include the estate tax, and it does not include any trust fund taxes. It does not include any situations in which there is an allegation of fraud.

Mr. DAWKINS. Okay. Mr. Speaker, it is really hard for me to hear the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Yes, yes; Representative Dawkins, yes, sir.

Members, please take your seats. Representative Dawkins had indicated that he had some questions with respect to the concurrence vote, so please take your seats, and Representative Dawkins and Representative Ryan need to be heard.

Mr. DAWKINS. Thank you.

So for individual businesses who currently have not paid taxes in the 5-year window, when this bill takes effect, are we unable to collect that tax debt from those businesses?

Mr. RYAN. No, that is not correct. First of all, it is not a 5-year window. It is a 10-year period that we are doing the statute of limitations for, number one.

Number two, this is for all of those tax liens. It starts the process, so it would be effective in 2031, so the Department of Revenue – we have worked with the Department of Revenue when crafting this. It provides for protection for the Commonwealth, but it also makes our law in Pennsylvania consistent with the vast majority of other States and with the Internal Revenue Service, because in many cases the people have the inability to retain the records going back beyond a period of time and many of those prior liens that were established did not have effective due process rights of individual taxpayers.

This is really a good opportunity for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in concert with the Department of Revenue to clean up the tax files, protect taxpayers, and at the same time bring us into concert with what other States and the Internal Revenue Service do.

Mr. DAWKINS. So just to clarify, this would not go into effect until 2031, and if a business who still may have had an outstanding balance when this bill goes into effect or the 10-year window, would we still be eligible to collect the revenue from that business or would we have to collect it within that 10-year window before this goes into effect?

Mr. RYAN. We would have that period of time during this window to collect it, and the data-matching capabilities still exist, so the Department of Revenue would have that opportunity to continue to collect.

Mr. DAWKINS. Do we have a fiscal note on what is the potential revenue loss to the State of Pennsylvania if we are no longer allowed to go after the tax debtor after this goes into effect and they do not pay us for that 5-year window for the statute of limitation?

Mr. RYAN. We do. Since the fiscal note from the Department of Revenue – and as a C.P.A. (certified public accountant) I am particularly sensitive to this – has jumped all over the place, but the most recent one that we received was $5 million. I would indicate to you, though, if I could—

Mr. DAWKINS. Yeah, Mr. Speaker, I really cannot hear him though.

The SPEAKER. Everyone, please, can we take our seats. I know it is a Thursday. Please take your seats. Please, members, take your seats.

Mr. DAWKINS. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. Just give us a second, Representative; just give us a second. Members, please take your seats. Staff members, please take your seats. Folks, the good gentleman is entitled to be heard.

Mr. RYAN. As I mentioned, and I will repeat the comment I made, in the period of time that this has been under discussion with the Department of Revenue, the fiscal note has been all over the place. The most recent one we had is under $5 million, and the benefit to the State of Pennsylvania is that it allows the efforts of the Department of Revenue employees to be focused on those tax claims that they are more likely to be able to collect and avoid all the postlitigation effect that takes place because of the inability to track down the legitimacy of some of the claims that existed previously.

Mr. DAWKINS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Representative Dawkins, do you wish to speak on— Okay. Thank you.

Representative Ciresi, my apologies, sir.

Representative Ciresi.

Mr. CIRESI. Thank you. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I rise to support this bill. I just shared with my colleagues that I had a constituent come into my office who had an $11.90 tax bill that went back to 1988. She was 90 years old. Fourteen cents in 1988, 16 cents in 1989, and I thought to myself, how much did it cost the State to process this bill for $11? And this poor woman thought she was going to jail if she did not pay this $11.90.

So thank you very much, and I hope that we know – it had to cost us way more than what we are getting in revenue for this bill, so thank you.

On the question recurring,

The House proceeded to consideration of concurrence in Senate amendments to HB 962, PN 2938, entitled:

An Act amending Title 42 (Judiciary and Judicial Procedure) of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes, reforming remedies for victims of sexual abuse: in limitation of time, further providing for six months limitation, for infancy, insanity or imprisonment, for no limitation applicable and for other offenses; in matters affecting government units, further providing for exceptions to sovereign immunity, for limitations on damages in actions against Commonwealth parties, for exceptions to governmental immunity and for limitations on damages in actions against local parties; in sentencing alternatives, providing for counseling services for victims of sexual abuse; and transferring money from the General Fund into the Crime Victim's Compensation Fund.

On the question,

Will the House concur in Senate amendments?

The SPEAKER. Moved by the gentleman, Representative Rozzi, that the House concur in those amendments.

The Chair recognizes Representative Rozzi for a brief description of the underlying bill and the Senate amendments, and then I believe that the good gentleman intends to speak in furtherance of the concurrence vote as well. You may proceed, sir.

Mr. ROZZI. Mr. Speaker, the Senate amended the bill to increase the statute of limitations for college-age kids between the ages of 18 and 23 and to include counseling for victims of sexual abuse.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Thank you.

Sir, do you wish to— Okay. So Representative Murt first. Representative Tom Murt, on the concurrence vote.

Mr. MURT. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this concurrence vote on HB 962.

Mr. Speaker, just by way of background, this bill amends Title 42 to provide that if an individual entitled to bring a civil action for child sexual abuse was under the age of 18 at the time the crime occurred, the individual will have a period of 37 years after attaining the age of 18 in which to commence an action for damages. The effect of this bill is prospective only; the extension of the civil statute of limitations is not retroactive. Sadly, this bill will not revive lawsuits that were barred by the statute of limitations prior to enactment of the bill, Mr. Speaker. These victims are still excluded from seeking civil justice against their abusers and the institutions that allowed their abuse to happen in the first place.

Mr. Speaker, without a doubt, one of the most significant dangers facing youth across America is sexual abuse, and these numbers are chilling. According to the U.S. Justice Department, one in four girls and one in six boys will be sexually abused before they turn 18 years old, and I am sorry to say that these numbers are low.

In the U.S. there are over 40 million survivors of child sexual abuse. One-third of the victims of child sexual abuse will never tell anyone about their sexual abuse. Many of these innocent victims spend years and sometimes a lifetime suffering in silence or in therapy. Sometimes their lives are punctuated by periods of substance abuse and failed relationships, in an effort to find solace or to come to grips with their sexual victimization.

Mr. Speaker, as we have learned while studying ways to find justice for those sexually abused as children, victims of child sexual abuse require longer periods of time than our current laws allow to come forward. This population is what current law refers to as a special victim population. Many victims will never come forward, and, Mr. Speaker, why would they? If they missed the statute of limitations, they are out of luck and cannot sue or see their abuser prosecuted.

A few years back my friend, our former colleague, Representative Louise Bishop from West Philadelphia, bravely and courageously revealed publicly for the first time that she was raped as a young girl at the age of 12. This was before World War II. It took 66 years for this educated and dignified woman to find the strength to share her story. Her story ripped open some very painful wounds, but it did something else, Mr. Speaker – it served to encourage other victims to come forward. Mr. Speaker, two of our brothers in this body today have also shown great courage and strength by sharing their own personal stories of victimization. And we know that those numbers are low too.

This problem will never go away until we allow victims more time to take their cases to the courtroom. By continuing to deny victims an opportunity to come forward in a civil court and be heard, we enable perpetrators of child sexual abuse to get away with violent crimes against children. Coming forward and admitting that they were victims of sexual abuse requires a great deal of courage and strength on the part of victims. Such an admission reopens painful wounds, but it can also encourage other victims to come forward.

Mr. Speaker, legions of victims of child sex abuse will tell you that when they were finally ready to talk to a prosecutor or a lawyer, the criminal and civil statutes of limitations had already expired. Across the United States, one victim after another has been surprised by these cruel and arbitrary legal deadlines. This delayed discovery is often the result of emotional and psychological trauma and is often accompanied by repression of the memory of sexual abuse – a type of post-traumatic stress disorder, if you will. Child victims frequently do not even come to grips with the relationship of their injuries to their abuse until well into adulthood and frequently during the course of counseling and therapy.

Mr. Speaker, let me be clear: The ability of victims to sue is about justice, not money. It is also about accountability of institutions that covered up child sexual abuse or enabled abusers to commit their crimes against innocent children. For most victims, civil lawsuits are the only remedy not only against their abuser but also an organization if it enabled the abuse. In this regard, the right to sue should be expanded, not constrained. In addition, the person who suffered child sexual abuse should never be limited in filing a civil lawsuit, regardless of whether or not criminal charges have been filed.

Mr. Speaker, before we pat ourselves on the back today about helping victims of child sex abuse, remember that we still need to reform our statute of limitations laws so that victims who missed the statute of limitations can open cases and find justice. Those who had their civil claims rejected because of the statute of limitations should be allowed to open a window to open their cases. Such an action will still require a victim to prove their victimization, but in many cases of victims of Catholic priests, Catholic archives have all the proof needed to prove that a particular priest sexually abused an innocent child, and that church leadership usually found out about it, yet did nothing, except maybe move the priest to another parish or send him on retreat. The institutional coverups, Mr. Speaker, have made these terrible situations even worse, and it is a sad day when concern for institutional risk management trumps uncovering the truth. But this bill is not about the Catholic church; it is about affording victims of child sexual abuse a small measure of justice.

We owe this action to all those who learned as adults that those awful memories they suppressed were indeed horrible crimes. Our job here is to make sure the law is written to help these victims find justice. We should be compelled by our collective conscience, Mr. Speaker, and by the public trust we hold to act on behalf of the victims until the perpetrators have been punished and justice has been served. The pain and the shame, both for the victims and for any institutions involved, will never go away as long as the window remains closed tightly, preventing the truth from coming to light and maintaining the current restrictive statute of limitations for child sex abuse victims. Mr. Speaker, it is time to open the window. We need to open the window and allow the light of truth to shine into this dark place. Anything less is justice denied.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Representative Rozzi, you are on my list first, but Representative Vitali also wants to speak. Do you want to go now or—

Representative Vitali.

And then Representative Dush after Representative Vitali, and Representative Margo Davidson.

Representative Vitali waives off.
 Representative Cris Dush, followed by Representative Margo Davidson.

Mr. DUSH. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I want to applaud the maker of this bill for the work that he has been doing over a very, very long period of time. I believe that the criminal aspects of this bill, the extensions are finally worded in a way that are correct, and I just have one question, if the maker would not mind rising for brief interrogation.

The SPEAKER. He will stand for interrogation.

Mr. DUSH. In caucus we had the opportunity to talk about two amendments that were done over in the Senate, and then, apparently, there was a third done that I have not had a chance to take a look at. The one thing that held me back when it was on the floor this time was on the statute of limitations for the civil side. Now, we are dealing with a preponderance of evidence, rather than beyond reasonable doubt. My question is that if the accused, the person who actually committed the act against a child, had deceased and now we are a decade or two down the road, the institution, perhaps, that he had been involved with, if nobody had known about it ahead of time or whatever, would that institution still be subject to civil liability or civil prosecution?

Mr. ROZZI. At the end of the day the victims are going to have to have evidence. If there is no evidence of anybody aiding and abetting a perpetrator, there can be no civil suit that can go forward. I mean, you still have to have evidence and a court will decide that.

Mr. DUSH. The lawsuit would still be able to be brought then.

Mr. ROZZI. The lawsuit would still be able to be brought, but if you do not have evidence, I am sure that it could be thrown out.

Mr. DUSH. Thank you. I appreciate that.

On the bill, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. Representative Dush, on the bill.

Mr. DUSH. This is a remarkable piece of legislation. It is fantastic. My only concern is, and I will use a different example, in that I have got a business in my own district that is continuously sued for asbestos. It is a glove manufacturing company. It is on this list of companies that can get sued. But they have never manufactured anything with asbestos, they never had any asbestos in their facilities, but every time there is an asbestos lawsuit, they get hit. It is $7,000 to $8,000, is what they face every time just to get out of the lawsuit.

When our Founders first – in Pennsylvania, our first oath of office: "I do swear (or affirm) that as a Member of this Assembly, I will not propose or assent to any bill, vote, or resolution, which shall appear to me injurious to the people; nor do or consent to any act or thing whatever, that shall have a tendency to lessen or abridge their rights and privileges...."

One of the things I am very concerned with, with this bill, is that it is strictly on the civil side and it strictly has to do with the fact that in these cases there are a number of law firms out there that are very willing to go out and hammer certain organizations that otherwise have been doing very good work for our constituents.

So it is just something I would ask the members to consider. Like I said, you are to be blessed and congratulated on the work that you have done on this thing today. It is remarkable, the changes, and I want to commend the maker, but still I am going to today have to be a "no" again.

The SPEAKER. Representative Margo Davidson.

Mrs. DAVIDSON. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I rise today to first thank so many people that helped shepherd this through the legislative process over the past 7 years and that we finally have it back from the Senate and the maker of the bill is ready to move forward. I could not let this moment pass, Mr. Speaker, because of the moral courage and conviction of the prime sponsor. The stories that he shared in the halls of this House, in the chambers, in the press conferences, his courage has inspired so many. Because of his courage, other members have come forward.

And today I share a personal story. For the first time, because of the courage of Mark Rozzi, I, too, was a victim of child sexual assault by a pastor and a relative. The time that it takes to reconcile how your faith leader could abuse you and a trusted authority figure, as a child, takes years, it takes years to move from that pain, from that shattering of your faith, to be able to even admit to yourself – to yourself – that it happened. Not only has Mark Rozzi admitted to himself that it happened, he admitted to all of us that it happened, and he dared to confront the institutions that allowed it to continue.

I am grateful to Mark Rozzi. He is my hero. He did not even know it. And he is the hero of so many victims that have suffered in silence and shame across this Commonwealth. And today as we vote on this bill, I will rise in applause for Mark Rozzi and every member that votes "yes" on this bill today. It is historic.

And I thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Representative Mark Rozzi.

Mr. ROZZI. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

This has been a long and trying process, and we are finally at the finish line. Justice is coming. On behalf of victims of child sex abuse throughout this Commonwealth, thank you.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in Senate amendments?

The SPEAKER. Agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays will now be taken.

member. The definition of "family or household member" is the same that is found in Pennsylvania stalking and harassment statutes. The term is defined as "Spouses or persons who have been spouses, persons living as spouses or who lived as spouses, parents and children, other persons related by consanguinity or affinity, current or former sexual or intimate partners or persons who share biological parenthood."

Mr. Speaker, I would like to reserve further comment on the bill to unanimous consent after session.

SUPPLEMENTAL CALENDAR A

BILLS ON THIRD CONSIDERATION

The House proceeded to third consideration of HB 533, PN 2936, entitled:

An Act providing for the use of certain credentialing applications and for credentialing requirements for health insurers; imposing penalties; and conferring powers and imposing duties on the Insurance Department.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third consideration?
Bill was agreed to.

(Bill analysis was read.)

The SPEAKER. This bill has been considered on three different days and agreed to and is now on final passage.
The question is, shall the bill pass finally?

Representative Clint Owlett is recognized.
Mr. OWLETT. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I would like to ask the members to support HB 533. It gets us one step closer to a stable and predictable credentialing process for our physicians and our insurance companies here in the Commonwealth. It also will assure a seamless transition for patients when physicians move across town or across the street. It will bring some predictability to our rural hospitals here in Pennsylvania and the tool that they need to attract physicians to our small towns.

Mr. Speaker, I would appreciate your vote on HB 533. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, Representative.

On the question recurring,

The House proceeded to third consideration of SB 857, PN 1388, entitled:

An Act amending Title 40 (Insurance) of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes, providing for telemedicine, authorizing the regulation of telemedicine by professional licensing boards and providing for insurance coverage of telemedicine.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third consideration?
Bill was agreed to.

(Bill analysis was read.)

The SPEAKER. This bill has been considered on three different days and agreed to and is now on final passage.
The question is, shall the bill pass finally?

Representative Marci Mustello wishes to be recognized on SB 857, PN 1388.

Representative Schlossberg, you wish to be recognized too.
We will start with Representative Mustello, followed by Representative Schlossberg.

Miss MUSTELLO. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Telemedicine will vastly improve the availability of health-care options for my neighbors in Butler County as well as all other rural areas in Pennsylvania. For those who struggle with chronic illnesses and our homebound families, telemedicine would be a game changer in their health care. Our rural families would no longer have to travel hours to receive medical care. Making telemedicine an option in Pennsylvania increases the quality of life in our communities, lowers the cost of health care, and increases the bond between doctors and patients. For many rural families, the thought of having access to medical professionals whenever and wherever you are is an incredible achievement, and that point is the essence of this legislative initiative. With more visits being conducted through the use of technology, telemedicine decreases unnecessary emergency room visits, maximizes limited physician resources, decreases hospital readmissions, while creating countless savings on the cost of health care.

Telemedicine saves time, money, and lives. It helps to strike the long-sought balance for health-care practitioners who want the opportunity to offer valuable medical support and information, while at the same time improving efficiency of service.

I would like to thank my colleague in Butler County, Senator Elder Vogel, for taking the lead on this fight. We need to make this option available for all Pennsylvanians.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, Representative.

Representative Mike Schlossberg.

Mr. SCHLOSSBERG. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, regretfully, I rise to oppose SB 857, as it has been amended. When this piece of legislation first came to the House from the Senate, the bill's intended purpose was to expand health-care access in Pennsylvania. This legislation had the potential – and still does – to assist so many communities, and multiple stakeholder groups, including those that represent patients, supported this legislation. Unfortunately, the amendment which we spoke about yesterday will, undoubtedly, tighten restrictions on access to medication and health-care services. The Federal Drug Administration already puts protections on medications that need additional guidance, hence the creation of the REMS (Risk Evaluation and Mitigation Strategies) list. But science and medicine evolve and access to these medications changes over time. With the amendment adopted in committee, the Pennsylvania House of Representatives is stifling future change. Although the FDA will make changes to the administration of medication and health-care services, Pennsylvania will be barred from making adjustments for the future because of the amendment adopted. This is a shame.

The legislation, when it came over from the Senate, came over with a 47-to-1 vote. Unfortunately, the bill is now opposed by numerous stakeholders, including the Rehabilitation and Community Providers Association, the Department of Human Services, the Department of Insurance, Planned Parenthood, and the Women's Law Project. The Governor's Office also believes that the language now added by this amendment is too restrictive. One thing is clear: The amendment that was adopted has not improved the bill but will now raise serious red flags, as the legislation appears likely to head back to the Senate. Unfortunately, after two sessions and 3 years of negotiations, we have an unagreed-to telemedicine bill. I was a strong supporter of this piece of legislation, as I know were many of my colleagues. But unfortunately, I now must stand in opposition to the bill. I hope that if the legislation does pass today, the Senate will revert it to a prior printer's number and send this bill back to the House so that we can get a clean telemedicine bill, one that will not be restricted by guidelines that are not supported by science, and unfortunately and truly regrettably, I must ask my colleagues to vote "no." Thank you.

The SPEAKER. Representative Greg Rothman, followed by Representative Chris Rabb.

Representative Rothman, sir, you may proceed.

Mr. ROTHMAN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of SB 857, a much-needed piece of legislation to promote telemedicine in Pennsylvania. Telemedicine is an area where Pennsylvania has lagged behind other States. However, with SB 857, Pennsylvania residents will have additional health-care opportunities to receive excellent, high-quality care on their time, on their schedule, and in their homes. SB 857 goes a long way to making substantial improvements for Pennsylvania's health-care systems and for those physicians practicing telemedicine throughout the Commonwealth.

However, as currently drafted, SB 857 is not perfect and may, in fact, limit certain technologies and severely hinder some providers who currently provide telemedicine services to thousands of Pennsylvanians through licensed Pennsylvania physicians. It is my understanding that the goal of the bill was to increase medical access and availability to Pennsylvania residents, not potentially remove current options available to our citizens. It is my belief that the intent of the bill should not be to limit the activity of cash-based telemedicine solutions that are currently working with licensed physicians in the State and who do not seek any reimbursement from insurance. I had planned to offer an amendment to the bill that would clarify this, but I am not offering that amendment today.

Instead, I will support the bill and work to expand certain provisions in the bill to make sure it is fully inclusive to available technologies, not exclusive to certain technologies as defined by the bill. Specifically, I would like to help level the playing field for those practicing store-and-forward medicine. While the bill references store-and-forward technologies, we need to make clear the store-and-forward in telemedicine is still a telemedicine option in Pennsylvania.

I do not believe that we should be picking winners and losers in the technologies we allow under this law, and I certainly do not want to strip services from patients currently using telemedicine effectively. But while not perfect, I urge everyone to support SB 857 as an important first step to helping Pennsylvania customers and patients access the opportunities available now through telemedicine.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE CANCELED

The SPEAKER. Representative Hershey is on the House floor.

CONSIDERATION OF SB 857 CONTINUED

The SPEAKER. I apologize. Representative Rabb does not want to speak on this.

The majority leader, Bryan Cutler, on the bill.

Mr. CUTLER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I would urge the members to support the bill that is now before us regarding telemedicine for the following reasons: It would increase access to care, it would increase the quality of care and the timeliness of care, and it would also decrease costs. Unfortunately, as sometimes happens here in Harrisburg, different advocacy groups from both sides weigh in on issues that I think they sometimes miss the target, and this is an unfortunate casualty in that discussion.

There are some that would like this chamber to believe that this is an abortion debate, and that is untrue. Mr. Speaker, we clearly outlined why the bill needs to be drafted in the manner that it is and it is for the following reasons: The Protz decision, the decision by the Supreme Court, clearly outlined when we can delegate our legislative authority. So we need to take a snapshot in time. And let us think about what the inverse is of the current position that we are taking. One drug on this list happens to be an abortion drug. There are 57 other drugs that also cannot be administered but in person.

Mr. Speaker, let us run through some of the risks that are associated with these drugs that are required to be administered in person: mitigate the potential risk of myocardial infarction, Entereg; Buprenorphine, mitigate the risk of accidental overdose, misuse, or abuse; and Palynziq, mitigate the risk associated with anaphylactic shock.

Mr. Speaker, these are not our decisions, they are the decisions of the FDA, and in order to be consistent with the regs as they currently are drafted, the Supreme Court has clearly outlined the manner in which we must do so. Mr. Speaker, this is not a singular case where we would do this either, which is why I do not believe that this should be derailed into another forum that it simply is not. This is about access to care.

Later today we will be rolling HB 616, hopefully, through second consideration. What does that amend? The Controlled Substance, Drug, Device and Cosmetic Act, an act that we routinely open up so that we can ensure that it is current.

Mr. Speaker, that is all we are doing with this potential change. It is good for patient care, and I would encourage all the members to support it. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Democratic whip, Representative Jordan Harris, has asked to speak.

Representative Harris.

Mr. HARRIS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, today I have to rise to oppose SB 857.

Mr. Speaker, when I was a child, my mother had lost employment, and because of this lack of employment and my issues that I had with asthma, my mother needed health care for me. Because of the CHIP program (Children's Health Insurance Program), I was able to be covered. And like thousands upon thousands of Pennsylvania's children and millions of the United States children, CHIP has been able to provide quality health care for young people whose families did not have private insurance. It was because of CHIP that I was able to get the rescue inhaler that I needed for my asthma when I was a child. It was because of CHIP that I was able to get the prednisone that was necessary anytime I had a flareup of my asthma.

Well, Mr. Speaker, yesterday on this floor we talked about the fact that, as written, this bill will not extend to young people who are on CHIP. My friend, the good gentleman on the other side of the aisle, the leader, talked about the Governor's ability to just include CHIP in this legislation. Well, I spoke to the administration and their attorneys and they have clarified that CHIP is not included in SB 857 and that, like Medicaid, CHIP is a government program. The confusion may lie in the fact that it is a requirement of the CHIP statute that CHIP contractors be licensed insurers. However, with respect to the CHIP program, those entities are functioning as contractors under a government program; that is, they are not issuing insurance policies, but they are rather providing services to a government program.

All of that said, that means if we pass this legislation and we send it to the Governor's desk, we will not be covering young people in this Commonwealth who have health care through the CHIP program. If for no other reason, I think all of our members now have a reason to vote "no" on this legislation. If we are going to provide telemedicine to Pennsylvanians, we should provide it to our children, the most vulnerable that we have in this Commonwealth; and if we do not – if we do not – we are creating a two-tier health-care system, where those who have quality health care through private insurance can be provided telemedicine and those young children, like myself, when I was a child, would not be able to get it. For that reason I will be voting "no," Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The majority leader, Representative Bryan Cutler.

Mr. CUTLER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, for the members' information, I would simply point them to page 16 of the bill, lines 16 through 29, where it outlines who the health insurers are that are covered. It is, "AN ENTITY THAT HOLDS A VALID LICENSE BY THE DEPARTMENT WITH ACCIDENT AND HEALTH AUTHORITY TO ISSUE A HEALTH INSURANCE POLICY AND GOVERNED UNDER ANY OF THE FOLLOWING..." and it goes on to list several acts that govern the insurance business.

Mr. Speaker, respectfully, we had this disagreement yesterday, and I would offer, had the gentleman been concerned about it originally, they should not have withdrawn their amendment. I assumed that that meant that they had supported our own interpretation of that; that may not be the case, but nonetheless, I believe it is important to advance the bill, because it is good for patients, it lowers costs, and it increases access, something that we should all care about. I urge a "yes" vote.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. Agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays will now be taken.

Mr. Speaker, thank you for changing my vote from a "yes" vote to a "no" vote on the telemedicine bill. I want to be recorded as a "no." Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The written record will so reflect that.

RULES SUSPENDED

The SPEAKER. We are having, yes, a motion to suspend to include an amendment. My understanding is this is agreed to.

Representative Hanbidge, you may proceed.

Ms. HANBIDGE. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I rise to offer a motion to suspend the rules. Simply, this amendment that I am offering allows it to be inpatient treatment facilities would require the notification of an emergency contact only as appropriate. It requires treatment facilities to develop policies and procedures and implement notification requirements advising patients of this law, and it would add an exemption for the notification requirement in cases where the treatment facility has knowledge or reason to know of allegations of domestic abuse perpetrated upon the patient by the emergency contact. It is an agreed-to amendment.

The SPEAKER. Thank you.

So we are going to vote on the motion to suspend first.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. Representative Nelson, do you want to speak on the motion to suspend?

Mr. NELSON. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

This is an agreed-to amendment, and I would appreciate our members' support.

A majority of the members required by the rules having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third consideration?

Ms. HANBIDGE offered the following amendment No. A04081:

Amend Bill, page 2, line 6, by inserting after "require"

inpatient

Amend Bill, page 2, line 6, by inserting after "notify"

as appropriate

Amend Bill, page 2, line 12, by inserting after "ADVISE."

Treatment facilities shall develop policies and procedures to implement this paragraph, which shall include advising patients of notifications required to be made by treatment facilities. The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply where the treatment facility has knowledge of or reason to know of allegations of domestic abuse perpetrated upon the patient by the emergency contact.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER. We can now vote on the amendment, and it is amendment 04081.

Representative Hanbidge, on the amendment.

Ms. HANBIDGE. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I would first like to thank the maker of the bill. I am the child of an addict, and for more than 20 years I have been the emergency contact whenever something – whenever she left rehab, and for me, so often I was not told that she had left rehab and I would only find out because there would be a police contact or rehospitalization or a neighbor called me. For family members of addicts, this grants a lot of protections to make sure that they can emergency plan.

I also worked with a population, as a child advocate and as an attorney, where I realized that there were probably holes in this bill that we could make better, and the maker of the bill was very generous in going through that process with me, and I think we made a better law because of it and I am grateful.

The SPEAKER. Thank you.

Representative Nelson, sir.

Mr. NELSON. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Yes, this is an agreed-to amendment. I think the House and this chamber has done a fantastic job working in a bipartisan manner to try to improve the situation and pathway for individuals struggling with addiction. We have achieved about an 18-percent reduction in fatalities in this area, and this is an existing best practice that we are putting into law. So I applaud the members' engagement. I encourage this body to continue to work in a bipartisan manner, and let us get this done.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second consideration?

Mr. CUTLER offered the following amendment
No. A04067:

Amend Bill, page 2, line 15, by striking out all of said line

Amend Bill, page 45, lines 18 through 20, by striking out all of said lines

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER. The majority leader, on the amendment, 04067.

Mr. CUTLER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, very simply, the underlying bill addresses the Pennsylvania Health Care Cost Containment Council. It needs legislatively reauthorized, as has been the case twice in my time here, and unfortunately, this particular time, it has been several years since it was reauthorized. I had a companion bill here in this chamber in prior sessions to attempt to reauthorize it, and upon review of the bill, one of the concerns was the short timetable related to the sunset provision. So this amendment simply removes that so that we will not have to have questions involving the longevity of the council, because it provides accurate and important information for us in terms of health-care policy.

I would urge the members' support. Thank you.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

(Members proceeded to vote.)

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

The SPEAKER. There are three members that have requested leave: Representative ROEBUCK, Representative KENYATTA, and Representative ULLMAN. Without objection, those will be granted.

Amend Bill, page 1, lines 14 through 21; page 2, lines 1 through 30; page 3, lines 1 through 3; by striking out all of said lines on said pages and inserting

(2) all of the following apply:

(i) the person reported, in good faith, a drug overdose event to a law enforcement officer, the 911 system, a campus security officer or emergency services personnel and the report was made on the reasonable belief that another person was in need of immediate medical attention and was necessary to prevent death or serious bodily injury due to a drug overdose;

(ii) the person provided his own name and location and cooperated with the law enforcement officer, 911 system, campus security officer or emergency services personnel; and

(iii) the person remained with the person needing immediate medical attention until a law enforcement officer, a campus security officer or emergency services personnel arrived[.] ;or

(3) law enforcement officers only became aware of the person's commission of an offense listed in subsection (b) because the person reasonably believed that they were experiencing a drug overdose event or in need of immediate medical assistance and contacted or self-reported to a law enforcement agency, a campus security office or a health care facility.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER. On the amendment, Representative Zabel is recognized.

Mr. ZABEL. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Good Samaritan law is a law that has saved many lives, by encouraging people to seek medical help for those suffering overdoses on heroin and other dangerous drugs. It was enacted in 2014, before my time, and to those of you who were here and enacted that law, thank you. It has undoubtedly saved lives. Unfortunately, the law has an unintended omission in its language. As it stands right now, our Good Samaritan law offers immunity to the overdose victim and the person reporting the overdose, but it does not expressly extend that protection when the reporter and the victim are one in the same person; in other words, when someone calls 911 to self-report an overdose. Now, last year a Superior Court panel caught that exact problem, that problem with the law, saying that while the language of the statute does not expressly provide immunity under the circumstances, to deny that immunity would frustrate the legislative intent. My amendment would simply clean that up. It would fix this unintentional omission to include self-reported overdoses, which is assuredly what we intended here 5 years ago, and it would also thereby strengthen what is already an effective and compassionate piece of legislation.

Please join me in supporting this amendment and saving more lives. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. Representative Chris Quinn, on the amendment, sir.

Mr. QUINN. Mr. Speaker, this bill is about treatment and recovery. I request a "no" vote on the amendment.

BILL ON THIRD CONSIDERATION

The House proceeded to third consideration of SB 473, PN 1407, entitled:

An Act amending Titles 18 (Crimes and Offenses) and 53 (Municipalities Generally) of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes, in minors, further providing for the offense of sale of tobacco and for the offense of use of tobacco in schools; and, in preemptions relating to municipalities, further providing for tobacco.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third consideration?
Bill was agreed to.

(Bill analysis was read.)

The SPEAKER. This bill has been considered on three different days and agreed to and is now on final passage.

The question is, shall the bill pass finally?

Do you want to speak, Representative? Go ahead, Representative Kortz.

Mr. KORTZ. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to SB 473.

Mr. Speaker, in Pennsylvania an individual is considered an adult at 18 years of age. That adult can, if they so desire, and many do, serve in the United States military. And yes, yesterday we did put a carveout for our military, and again I thank the gentleman from Cumberland County. However, if that young man or woman is home from a battlefield, say, Mr. Speaker, and they are on leave after a year's tour and they are not in their uniform and maybe they left their military ID at home and they go into a store to buy a pack of cigarettes – they are 19 years of age – they can be denied that right to buy a legal product. And, Mr. Speaker, let us be clear, tobacco is a legal product that one can buy and purchase in this State.

Mr. Speaker, what is next on the agenda? Are we going to tell people, are we going to become Big Brother and say, well, 18-year-olds, 19-year-olds, 20-year-olds, you cannot get married till you are 21? Is that what is next on the agenda? Or you cannot buy soda until you are 19. Where are we going with this? Where are we going?

Tobacco is a legal product, again, and at 18 years of age you are considered an adult. That adult should, at 18, 19, or 20 years of age, be able to buy a legal product in this State, Mr. Speaker. That is the individual's choice, not Big Brother's choice. I would urge a "no" vote.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Representative Sainato.

Mr. SAINATO. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I want to echo the concerns of the previous speaker. I know when we are discussing this issue it may not be popular, but sometimes you have to take a stand. At 18 years of age in Pennsylvania you are considered a legal adult. A legal adult, Mr. Speaker.

And some of the debate we had yesterday over the military exemption, which I supported, but we have to go back to that. Let us start thinking about our military. Let us start thinking. And there are some, we have got some younger people, and they always talk about the old-timers and the few that are left here that read the history books in the 1960s – in the 1960s when they were fighting for rights, when 18-year-olds were not allowed to vote, Mr. Speaker, but they were going over and serving our country in Vietnam. And they fought hard to get rights where they became a legal adult at 18. If you look at history, they became an adult at 18 and they were given their rights throughout the country. Pennsylvania lagged behind sometimes in that issue, but you are still a legal adult at 18.

Are cigarettes good? No, they are not. These kids should not be smoking. But when you become an adult, you have to make that choice. And when you think about, you know, some of the arguments which we heard and someone had said their brains have not developed, well, Mr. Speaker, if their brain is not developed for 18-, 19-, and 20-year-olds, how in the world are they going to be voting for the President of the United States next year, or someone in this room, or a member of Congress? Do they not have the ability to make that vote? And you are going to look an 18-, 19-, and 20-year-old in the eye and say, I think you can vote but you cannot smoke a cigarette or vape. That just does not make sense to me, Mr. Speaker. I think that is actually an insult to 18-, 19-, and 20-year-olds.

Should we make everything 21? What happens to the 18-, 19-, 20-year-old who gets married and has a child? They should have some responsibility. Are we saying they are not responsible? What about an 18-, 19-, or 20-year-old that commits a crime? Should we be charging them as a juvenile instead of an adult?

I mean, this is where we are going. This is a very slippery slope, Mr. Speaker; a very slippery slope. What is happening today, you are stripping people of their rights. Think about that. You are stripping people of their rights. Legal adults are losing their rights. And in good conscience, I cannot do that, Mr. Speaker. It is not about cigarettes and vaping. It is about taking rights from legal adults, and that is wrong, Mr. Speaker. It is wrong what is happening in here because it sounds good and I know everyone is going to feel good about this. Well, guess what? You are taking people's rights away from them. That is what this is about today. And you have to think about that. And I am not expecting to win this argument, but it is the right thing to do. And we should be putting more money into education so kids do not smoke and kids do not vape.

But where do we go next, Mr. Speaker? Are we going to make it 21 in order to buy a hamburger because sometimes those are not good for you? Should the parents give their 18-, 19-, and 20-year-old permission to eat that hamburger? I mean, this is— Well, when you actually think about it, that is—

The SPEAKER. Mr. Chair. Mr. Chair, please suspend.

First of all, members, the good gentleman wants to be heard, so please, please take your seats. Analogies are always fine.

Mr. SAINATO. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. But please take your seats, everybody.

Mr. SAINATO. I used that analogy because it is a slippery slope, Mr. Speaker, and it is something we all have to think about because there will be another day and another time and another issue. Pass this today, I am sure we will get cosponsorships about taking more rights away from 18- and 19- and 20-year-olds.

And as the minority chair of Veterans Affairs, I have had a chance to see these people who are in the Guard. I have had those who have served in the service. And you know what? I respect them. I honor them. But we are telling them, you really are not capable of making that choice, but I am asking you to defend our country overseas – and many of them do such a great job, the men and women of our military and our Guard.

So I just urge people to think about this. This really is not just the issue about vaping and tobacco. This is an issue about taking rights away from 18-, 19-, and 20-year-olds, and I cannot take people's rights away from them.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Members, we have the following members who wish to speak: Representative Diamond; Representative Ciresi; Representative Dush; and the prime sponsor will be last, Representative Rothman.

Representative Diamond.

Members, everyone is entitled to be heard. Please take your seats. All the members are entitled to be heard. Members, please take your seats. Please take your seats. The gentleman is entitled to be heard.

Representative Diamond.

Mr. DIAMOND. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this bill, and I want to reiterate one of the points that I made yesterday during second consideration when we were considering the amendment to make an exception for members of the military. I cannot think of another statute in Pennsylvania which considers any activity a crime or a summary offense for everybody except those who choose voluntarily a certain occupation. This is a dangerous precedent. This is a dangerous precedent. What is next? Are we going to allow murder for members of the House? You see where I am going. I mean, that is ridiculous, right? But you see where I am going. This is a dangerous precedent.

Also, Mr. Speaker, I would like to point out that for those people for whom it is legal today to buy a pack of cigarettes at the age of 18, when this bill is signed into law automatically they will be criminals. There is no provision in this bill like which was done when the age was raised for alcohol to step it up so that everybody who is currently legally using tobacco now can then continue to legally use tobacco until they are 21 years old. There is no provision in this bill. We are creating 3 years' worth of criminals in this bill, automatically – oh, except if they are in the military.

I know how this feels good. It feels really good to say, "Hey, we're not going to let these young people use tobacco." That feels really good. But because of the two things I mentioned already, Mr. Speaker, we are creating two classes of citizens. That is not equality. That is not equality at all.

Mr. Speaker, Pennsylvania is the foundation in North America of individual liberty. We are also the home of individual responsibility. Those who are 18 can sign a contract, they can buy a home, they can do all sorts of things. I think they can make up their minds to listen to all the public sentiment that says tobacco is bad for you. I think they know that. I think they are old enough to sign that contract for a house. I think they are old enough to go and cast a vote for every member of this body. I think they are responsible enough to determine whether they can use a cancer stick or not.

Mr. Speaker, I vehemently oppose this bill and ask the members of this body to kill it finally. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. Representative Ciresi.

Mr. CIRESI. Okay. Hard act to follow, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to support this bill. Imagine that, being the son of two parents who were heavy smokers – a mother who died of lung cancer who started when she was 18, a father who had coronary artery disease because he smoked with multiple operations due to smoking. Now being the father of a 21-year-old, thank God.

But today I think that it is important for us to look at what we are voting on. We are talking about vaping. Have none of us seen the news? Have none of us seen our youth and they are dying, lung transplants, the medical amount of money that we are spending on this? Yes, I agree, but they cannot drink until they are 21. They cannot gamble until they are 21. It will be up to them to decide, but I feel today we should support this bill and raise the age to 21 to make sure that we are giving our children an opportunity to live healthier lives.

Now, yesterday I did vote to allow our military to decide at 18, and I did that because I felt that if we are asking them to go into war and give their life, we should have them have the ability to do what they want to do at 18. But today at 21, I would ask the members of the House to vote for this bill to raise the age to 21. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. Representative Cris Dush.

Mr. DUSH. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

And I rise in opposition to this bill because our people who are 18 years of age have reached the age of majority and are citizens with the power to vote, and in fact, when we talk about the responsibility level of these young people, we have people who are 18 years of age, 19 years, 20 years who are sitting on school boards making decisions about millions of dollars of revenue and the function and the operations of our school districts. So, Mr. Speaker, I find it difficult to honor them with that ability to have that kind of a position, just like going into battle, and saying they have got the intelligence to do all of this, but on the other hand saying they do not have the ability to make a choice on tobacco.

I hate the stuff. My dad had a heart attack in '75 because of it. There were things that— But working in the prison systems, I do not care how old or how young you are, people make bad choices, and we are not going to be able to stop that simply by changing the age on the purchase when somebody can get somebody else to purchase it for them just like the kids that are doing it in the schools today.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. And the final person on the bill is the prime sponsor, Representative Greg Rothman.

Mr. ROTHMAN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I just want to make sure everyone is clear that this bill, if we pass it and it becomes law, does nothing to change laws on the use or possession of tobacco. This is about purchasing tobacco and says you have to be 21 to purchase tobacco.

I appreciate the comments from my good friend from Lebanon County, but, sir, with all due respect – and I do not know if I speak for anybody else who served in the military, but I speak for the 10 years I spent in the Marine Corps – I never once thought of my time in the service as an occupation. I never once thought of it as an occupation. Maybe, maybe a calling, maybe a duty, but, sir, never once as an occupation.

To my friend from Lawrence County, and let us be clear about something else, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania you have to be 21 to gamble; you have to be 21 to buy a handgun; you have to be 21 to buy, use, or possess alcohol.

And finally – well, before finally – I want to thank my two friends from Philadelphia County who were part of the House bill that we would not have gotten this far without. And I urge you to vote for this, but I want to just say there is something else you have to be 21 to do in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and that is to serve in the House of Representatives.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. Agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays will now be taken.

(Members proceeded to vote.)

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

The SPEAKER. Representative Lee JAMES has requested to be placed on leave.

STATEMENT BY MS. McCLINTON

The SPEAKER. Representative Joanna McClinton, the Democratic caucus chair, is recognized for an announcement. Representative Joanna McClinton.

Ms. McCLINTON. Unanimous consent. Is that all right, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. Yes; you may be recognized on unanimous consent.

Ms. McCLINTON. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Colleagues, I would like to thank you for your unanimous support of HB 1402 that I was leading the charge with Representative Tedd Nesbit, who will be retiring shortly. This bill will protect many marginalized communities. It is a bill on sextortion, and it ensures that nobody will try to threaten someone to send personal photographs or try to persuade them to do sexual acts in order to pay rent or to do other things that will otherwise be illegal. This creates a new crime in the Crimes Code, and I am appreciative to Representative Nesbit along with the Pennsylvania Coalition Against Domestic Violence for helping us get this to Governor Wolf's desk.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, Representative McClinton.

Is Representative Nesbit on the floor? Okay.

STATEMENT BY MS. TOOHL

The SPEAKER. Representative Tarah Toohil is recognized on unanimous consent.

Ms. TOOHL. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

HB 1171 brings solutions and clarity to survivors. The language is derived from one of the recommendations of last year's 40th statewide investigating grand jury. There are survivors out there in Pennsylvania who have these nondisclosure agreements – silencing agreements – and they believe that they are still unable to come forward.

My friend, a northeastern Pennsylvania native, is one of these survivors. She was the poster child for the grand jury report as her priest molested her for 5 years, impregnated her, and then paid for her abortion. She was headline news when the 40th investigating grand jury report came out from our Attorney General. Audrey – she is watching today and she wants me to use her name here on the House floor – Audrey was silenced her entire adult life by an illegal silencing agreement, and we change that today.

Audrey, in her words, wanted me to read this statement:

"My name is Audrey...and I am requesting that you strongly consider and pass HB 1171. August 14, 2018, will forever be a day that changed my life. While I was not an actual participant in the Grand Jury inquiries, the release of the Grand Jury report sent a shockwave throughout the world and within my household. My life was exposed to the world and in turn, my silence broken by someone other than myself, both staggeringly terrifying and liberating as I heal through the traumas so deeply hidden.... I am grateful to...all who have worked so diligently towards the recommended reforms.

"They say that silence is golden. I say to you today that silence is a torture that bears no other words but pain and agony in relation to childhood sexual trauma. A piece of paper that I had signed before I turned twenty took care of me reporting any possible transgressions to any law enforcement that may have been occurring with" the priest, "Thomas Skotek...in years to come. I have written a letter to those who I could not help because I was not able to speak of the conditioning, grooming, emotional abuse, sexual abuse at the hands of this man of the cloth. I want to share my words to you now, so you understand a little bit deeper, a tad better on what it felt like to be helpless again and again throughout my adult years.

"*This is to the girls, now women, who I couldn't help in time. This is to the girls who were there after me. This is to the girls who came after me while I was healing and tending to my life. I am sorry that I couldn't stop him. I am sorry that me going to the Bishop didn't stop him. I am sorry that the Bishop felt that he needed the apology and the outreach, and not me...and not you. I am sorry that the Bishop put him back into the church and school where you were, even after my protests and calls. I am sorry that the district attorney's office had detectives who went to his church. I wish that I would have asked for non-biased detectives, especially the female one who felt that" the priest "needed time to grieve the loss of his" own "brother while I mourned the loss of my teenage years. I am sorry that my voice wasn't loud enough back then. I am sorry that my voice wasn't strong enough back then. I want you to know that I did try. I made every attempt that I could to have him removed, but the higher powers that be wouldn't have it. I wish that I would have contacted someone else, but I went through all the correct channels back then, or so I thought. I am sorry that I couldn't save you from the hands reaching for...your innocence."

Audrey goes on in her letter to say that when she found out about the next possible victim, she struggled on how to proceed. She was a mandated reporter working in the school district when another schoolteacher came to her and said that she had to rush to go meet a person and she knew that this was another victim.

So Audrey all these years, she is now asking the legislature that, "As you reflect on your position on passing HB 1171, know that I am no longer crippled by silence. I am free to speak my truth and I have no fear of the priest who attempted to break my soul. I am asking you to stand with ALL SURVIVORS who have documents that silence them and keep them bound by their own personal truth." Please "pass HB 1171."

And, Audrey, I know that you are watching, and this was for you and this was for all of you survivors. Thank you for your courage.
