LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

TUESDAY, MARCH 16, 2021

SESSION OF 2021

205TH OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

No. 15

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The House convened at 11 a.m., e.d.t.

THE SPEAKER (BRYAN CUTLER) PRESIDING

MOMENT OF SILENCE OBSERVED

The SPEAKER. Prior to the prayer this morning, I would like to ask all members and guests to please rise.

We have been through a lot in this last year and it has certainly been difficult times, but despite all of that, we, as a chamber, have worked on a variety of issues for the benefit of the Commonwealth. But this week marks a solemn anniversary regarding the first COVID death here in the Commonwealth, and I think we all acknowledge the challenges and the sadness that loss of any life brings. So I wanted to observe a moment of silence prior to the prayer and our opening ceremonies.

(Whereupon, a moment of silence was observed.)

PRAYER

HON. DARISHA K. PARKER, member of the House of Representatives, offered the following prayer:

God, grant me the Serenity
To accept the things I cannot change...
Courage to change the things I can,
And Wisdom to know the difference.

Living one day at a time,
Enjoying one moment at a time,
Accepting hardship as the pathway to peace.
Taking, as He did, the sinful world as it is,
Not as I would have it.
Trusting that He will make all things right
if I surrender to His will.
That I may be reasonably happy in this life,
And supremely happy with Him forever in the next.
Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

(The Pledge of Allegiance was recited by members and visitors.)

REMARKS BY MR. STRUZZI

The SPEAKER. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman, Representative Struzzi, to speak on the resolution.

Mr. STRUZZI. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Good morning, everyone.

I stand today to honor the memory of former State Representative Paul Wass. I think that most of Paul's career was covered in the resolution, but I do have to tell you that I had the opportunity to meet Paul when I was first running for office. Like the statesman that he was, he invited me in to give me some advice, and I will tell you that Paul, even at that point, was in his early nineties and was still sharp as a tack and I could see the passion and the love and commitment that he had, not just for Indiana County, but for this esteemed House. And so I spent some time speaking with Paul, and he wanted to share some campaign ideas, some things that he was pretty proud of, even a framed centerfold ad from the Indiana Gazette that was on his wall, and I took a picture of it, actually, so I could reference it later. But essentially this ad had quotes from all the people who appreciated what Paul had done as a State Representative, and to me, that speaks volumes for why we are here and the type of man that Paul was.

He was truly committed to service, truly committed to Indiana County, to Pennsylvania, and to this House. And so I am proud today to honor the memory of Paul Wass. I know that Paul's daughter, Vicky, is watching, and I want to reflect that Paul will be remembered, his service will be honored, and that, you know, he will be one of those ones that we look to as role models for the future. So thank you all.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

March 16, 2021

The Honorable Bryan Cutler
Speaker of the House
139 Main Capitol Building
PO Box 202100
Harrisburg, PA 17120-2100

Representative Cutler,

Owing to the effects of a stroke I experienced in February 2020 and ongoing cancer treatments, I regret that I must resign my position as State Representative of the 60th Legislative District. It is no longer possible to balance both the legislative schedule and my medical appointments, which consistently are 3 days per week and frequently 4 days per week.

The office requires an individual of much better health and mobility. For 16 years, it was a great honor to speak on behalf of the 60th district. Please accept this humble resignation effective end of business on Tuesday, March 16th.

Sincerely,
State Representative Jeffrey Pyle
60th Legislative District
Armstrong, Butler, and Indiana Counties

The SPEAKER. It is with a heavy heart that the Speaker accepts the letter of resignation.

I had shared previously that Representative Pyle and I had shared an office for 6 years. My friend, you will be missed and I wish you the best in your ongoing treatments.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third consideration?
Bill was agreed to.

(Bill analysis was read.)

The SPEAKER. This bill has been considered on three different days and agreed to and is now on final passage.

The question is, shall the bill pass finally?

The Chair recognizes the gentleman, Representative Boyle, on final passage of HB 230.

Mr. BOYLE. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Dynamic scoring is exactly a way to promote corporate tax cuts. There is a strong example in the State of Kansas, just in the 2012-2013 legislative term, where using dynamic scoring, there was an exaggeration of the economics of that State. It was used to justify income tax cuts that the State could not sustain. Ultimately, it led to the Kansas State government going into a shutdown. That is what I fear we risk if we promote dynamic scoring. The inherent problem with dynamic scoring is that projections are based on economic activity, not actual growth. That is not fiscal prudence, and I believe all members should be fiscally responsible and vote "no" to this bill. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman and recognizes the prime sponsor, Representative Ryan, on final passage.

Mr. RYAN. Mr. Speaker, thank you so much.

I ask all the members to provide a "yes" vote to HB 230, to give us the opportunity so that the members of this chamber will have the information necessary to know from both the static perspective and the dynamically scored basis the variables which could impact those very financial decisions that we have to undertake. It is absolutely incumbent upon this Commonwealth to remember that some of the tax revenue bulletin issues that were done under the guise of having estimates under static score could have actually led to a situation in which the Commonwealth's financial condition and those of our constituents were adversely affected. I merely look at tax revenue provision 2017-2, in which if that had stayed in place and had not been reversed by the action of the Pennsylvania Senate and the House of Representatives and signed by the Governor, many of the expansion efforts from United States Steel and other organizations would not have been successful.

It is extremely important that we have the information before us in order to make an informed decision so we know what we get into. It is a mistake to believe that other States that may have attempted this or not attempted to do this did it strictly as a means of justifying tax cuts. That is not what this is about. It is about providing information for which you can make an informed decision using a multivariable analysis, and I would ask for an affirmative vote.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

The question is, shall the bill pass finally? Agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas—

For what purpose does the gentleman rise? The gentleman will please suspend. The House will please come to order. For what purpose does the gentleman rise? Is he seeking recognition for the second time?

Mr. BOYLE. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

In relation to the comments from the member from Dauphin County, he says that concerns about these being used for basically corporate tax giveaways are unfounded. I beg to differ. Over the last decade we have consistently seen this body, and particularly the Finance Committee, advance tax credits and we have advanced these tax credits even in a climate in our State fiscally where we have a multibillion-dollar structural deficit. So my concern going forth with this legislation being mandated on any sort of funding project over $50 million is that it will lead to a lack of fiscal prudence. I believe now is the time to be prudent, and we need to get our fiscal house in order, and let us not use dynamic scoring to justify reckless tax cuts in the near future. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

An Act amending Title 18 (Crimes and Offenses) of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes, in assault, providing for the offense of harassment of law enforcement officer; and imposing penalties.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third consideration?
Bill was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. This bill has been considered on three different days and agreed to and is now on final passage.

The question is, shall the bill pass finally?

On that question, the Chair recognizes the gentlewoman, Representative Madden, on final passage.

Ms. MADDEN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, yesterday my friend and colleague, the gentleman from Philadelphia, offered an amendment that would remove the specific reference to HIV (human immunodeficiency virus) or hepatitis B in this bill. He explained passionately and factually that the science does not bear out the language in the bill. According to the CDC (Centers for Disease Control and Prevention) and infectious disease experts – including Dr. Fauci, who is credited with much of what we have learned about AIDS (acquired immunodeficiency syndrome) over the decades – HIV is never transmitted through spit, urine, or feces and can only be transmitted through blood, semen, vaginal fluid, or breast milk. Nevertheless, as we often do in this body, we ignored the facts and the science and voted down the Representative's motion to suspend the rules and add this important and accurate amendment.

So I would like to take a brief moment to speak about 40 years ago when I was a 20-something student living, studying, and working in Manhattan. Being a theater and dance student, I counted many members of the LGBT community as my friends. Studying at Alvin Ailey and living in Spanish Harlem, I also counted people of color as my friends. When Alvin Ailey, a brilliant and celebrated choreographer, died of AIDS-related illness in 1989— It is hard to hear.

The SPEAKER. The gentlelady will please suspend.

Members, please take your seats. The lady deserves to be heard on the important comments regarding HB 103.

You are in order and may proceed.

Ms. MADDEN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

When Alvin Ailey, a brilliant and celebrated choreographer died of AIDS-related illness in 1989 at the age of 58, he asked his doctor to announce he had died of a terminal blood disease to shield his mother from the stigma associated with AIDS. People of color were and still are less likely to report an AIDS diagnosis or seek treatment because of the fear of backlash. In fact, a study in 35 countries reported 50 percent of people have a discriminatory attitude towards people with AIDS.

There are so many stories like this. Arthur Ashe, a great champion, civil rights activist, and humanitarian. Arthur met with Presidents, Ambassadors, and traveled the world furthering the cause of civil rights and humanitarian causes. A man who achieved such greatness and through his talent furthered the cause of civil rights was afraid to let the world know he had contracted AIDS because of how his family, a Black family, would be treated.

Ryan White, a teenager from Indiana, became infected with HIV from a treatment due to him being a hemophiliac. When Ryan tried to return to school, the backlash was so traumatic that he had to be homeschooled.

The stigma and ostracization around HIV was a horrible time that we should never want to revisit. It is why I cannot support this bill. It is not that I do not want to support law enforcement. I have raised two of New York City's finest, and I am so proud of my children and the work they do every day protecting the people of New York City.

But I have also received many phone calls and e-mails from friends and family, because I am the aunt of a gay person, I am the sister of a gay person, I am the friend to many gay people, and they are concerned about the stigma that will come from this bill.

So I called one of my children, who is a New York City police officer, and I asked him about this bill, and he said to me, "Mom, I just want to go to work every day and do my job. I want to be respected for the work and I don't want anyone spitting on me or throwing feces at me. I don't care what diagnosis they have."

We really should vote "no" on this bill. We should go back to the drawing board. We should take that section out of the bill so that we are not stigmatizing, we are not regressing 40 years to a time when we knew nothing about this virus and everybody who had it was stigmatized. We can do this right, we can work in a bipartisan way, and I sincerely hope we do.

I will be a "no" vote on this bill, Mr. Speaker. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the lady.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman, Representative Sims, on final passage.

Mr. SIMS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, my intention today is to make it clear that the legislation presented to us, as unamended, is not just an example of this legislative body spreading and perpetuating harmful misinformation about HIV/AIDS, but that it is doing so not to protect anyone from HIV/AIDS transmission, but in fact to embolden and empower law enforcement with a powerful tool to combat civil protestors and the First Amendment.

Mr. Speaker, HB 103 lacks even the most basic supporting medical evidence. It dismisses an entire body of public health research and science and does so in an attempt to give unprecedented discretion to law enforcement at a time when transparency and accountability are what they really need. It does so, in part, by villainizing people living with HIV/AIDS and perpetuating dangerous misinformation about them and about the virus.

It has been pointed out that dozens of States have somewhat similar laws on their books criminalizing HIV/AIDS in the way that this bill attempts to do. It must similarly be pointed out that the vast majority of those laws were enacted during the 1980s and '90s when virtually no science or medicine about HIV/AIDS was evidence-based and historically accurate. At the time legislatures drafted laws based on misinformation and fear, and bills like this are a stark reminder that this era has apparently not passed. Perhaps the most relevant example of this is actually the example in the legislation being proposed today. How is HIV/AIDS transmitted and why would someone with HIV be a felon, while someone without it is not?

So first let us talk about the science. We are now four decades into the HIV/AIDS pandemic, and the last two decades, especially, have shown massive investments and newfound public health support that has made a number of facts about HIV/AIDS transmission extremely clear. The facts about HIV/AIDS transmission, as stated directly by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control, are as follows: You can get HIV if you have anal or vaginal sex with someone who has HIV without using protection. In now rarer circumstances, HIV can be transmitted from a mother to her baby during pregnancy, birth, or breastfeeding. The highest risk for getting HIV is for individuals who share needles, syringes, or other injection equipment with someone who has HIV. But notably, Mr. Speaker, according to the CDC, there is little to no risk of getting HIV/AIDS from oral sex or medical care. And most importantly, HIV is not transmitted through saliva.

Mr. Speaker, if I could ask for the room.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will suspend.

I believe the room is in order, and you may proceed.

Mr. SIMS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Because that needs to be repeated: HIV is not transmitted through saliva. So now we know one important and entirely detrimental fact to this bill. HIV is not transmitted through saliva. So making it a heightened felony for someone with HIV to spit on a police officer is not about transmission and it is not about risk. So it has to be about that person.

Now let us talk about medicine. Let me tell you another key fact about HIV that this bill ignores and that is treatment. With today's effective treatments, such as antiretrovirals, individuals with HIV can now have undetectable levels of the virus even in their blood, which makes it impossible for them to transmit the AIDS virus. Let me say that again: People with HIV can take a medication that makes the virus undetectable in their blood and they cannot transmit HIV/AIDS. This is a medical fact that is entirely ignored by this legislation. It fails to draw any distinction between whether this disease, in particular, is even communicable in the situation or not.

So here we are, Mr. Speaker, with three undeniable facts: One, this bill makes it a felony for someone with HIV to spit on a police officer; two, even though saliva cannot transmit HIV; and three, even though that person may not even have a detectable viral load even in their blood. Now we are left with one undeniable conclusion: Mr. Speaker, this bill either makes it a felony for certain people – most notably, African-Americans, Latinos, and LGBTQ people just like me – to spit on others, but not others, or it makes it a felony to simply have HIV in this scenario, because it has nothing to do with transmission and nothing to do with risk.

This bill is patently devoid of science, it clearly ignores settled medicine, and it criminalizes people for their health status, while giving a pass to police officers to use an individual's health as a tool for an arrest, regardless of whether that status impacts them at all. Lastly, Mr. Speaker, the irony of this action from this body after a near yearlong crusade against masks cannot be overstated.

People living with HIV/AIDS are my family and they are your family as well. They are our neighbors; they are our loved ones; they are our teachers, our doctors, our community leaders, and our classmates. They are not felons.

This bill is bad policy, it is bad science, it is bad medicine, it is certainly bad policing. This is not 1981, it is 2021, and this bill does not have a single legitimate leg to stand on. Members, please vote "no."

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

Mr. SAINATO. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I rise today to support HB 146, Markie's Law. This is, I think, a very important piece of legislation. Working with my colleague from Lawrence County, from the 10th District, this is something that I think is very important. Markie was my constituent, an 8-year-old boy who was murdered by someone who was released on the minimum. I think when you think about this tragic, tragic situation, it is something that should not have happened, and I think this bill goes a long way in trying to prevent something like this from happening in the future. We have to use commonsense sometimes, and you know, when you look at an 8-year-old boy, an innocent child, who lost his life because someone was released after the minimum and they really were not rehabilitated to a point to be part of society.

So I encourage my colleagues to support this very important piece of legislation. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman and recognizes the gentleman, Representative Bernstine.

Mr. BERNSTINE. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, HB 146 is necessary following the murder, the tragic murder, of 8-year-old Markie Mason by the hands of an individual who was recently paroled after serving the minimum sentence for his homicide conviction. Although his murderer was convicted on two separate accounts – both aggravated assaults on other inmates during his confinement – the Parole Board felt as though the interests of the Commonwealth would not be injured as a result of his parole. Undeniably, Markie Mason would be alive today if this law was in effect prior to his murderer's conviction. Clearly, any inmate that continues to commit crimes in prison has not demonstrated the necessary level of commitment to his or her rehabilitation and they continue to represent a threat to the public that is undeniably demonstrating that he or she is presently incapable of becoming a contributing member of society and that they have not been rehabilitated. After preying upon his fellow inmates, there is no reason to believe that an inmate will hesitate at the prospect of preying upon law-abiding citizens once released from prison.

The goal of this legislation is public safety, Mr. Speaker. It will ensure that offenders are not released prematurely. With additional prison time, our prisoners can focus on additional resources under rehabilitation of violent inmates in the deterrence of future criminal conduct. This legislation will serve as a deterrent to criminal conduct within prisons and make our prisons a more safe place. This bill covers criminal convictions, violent offenses, attempted escape, and intimidating witnesses – all very serious crimes.

Our legislation is supported by the Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Association, the Pennsylvania District Attorneys Association, the Pennsylvania State Corrections Officers Association, and the Pennsylvania Coalition Against Domestic Violence. I would also like to thank my colleague from Lawrence County as well as Lawrence County District Attorney Josh Lamancusa for working to put this bill together.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman and recognizes the gentleman, Representative Metzgar, on final passage.

Mr. METZGAR. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

You know, this is one of those bills that it is great not just for one reason, it is great for two reasons. It protects people on the outside of our prisons by making sure that those violent offenders stay in them, and it also protects our good staff within the prisons, making sure that there is an incentive for the prisoners to behave and keep our staff safe.

So for that – and it is appropriate on the 3-year anniversary of Sergeant Baserman's murder, the 26th of February – I commend the maker of this bill for helping keep our staff safe in the prisons. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman and recognizes the gentleman, Representative Vitali, on final passage.

Mr. VITALI. Thank you.

Will the maker stand for brief interrogation?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman indicates he will.

You are in order and may proceed.

Mr. VITALI. So I am trying to understand this. So this bill relates to sentencing by a person who has been convicted by a court two times; in other words, the first time when he was sent to jail and then, apparently, has committed another crime in jail and then was sentenced a second time by a court. Are we dealing with that scenario?

Mr. BERNSTINE. Yes, Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. VITALI. Okay. May I just speak on the bill?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order and may proceed on the bill.

Mr. VITALI. So I rise against this. It just seems like in a situation like this, you have two different sets of penalties that can keep the person in jail for a sufficient amount of time to protect the public. The first is the underlying crime would put him in jail the first time. That has a prescribed sentence, based on very good factors. And then with the second offense, while in jail, certainly a person should be punished for that, but that has its own set of penalties and length of time for incarceration. And you also have the time with regard to the first offense, which would constitute some sort of – well, maybe not probation violation – but you still have those two sets. So it seems to me that is a safeguard to protect the public.

When you arbitrarily say you have to stay in for at least another 12 to 24 months, it is, in effect, a mandatory minimum that really takes away from the ability of the judges in each of those convictions to do justice, and I think that is not what we ought to be doing here.

This, I would note, is opposed by the American Civil Liberties Union for that issue, and I might note, parenthetically, I think it is highly inappropriate when this chamber all too often cites the particular example of one person and the emotion – the wrong done to that person causes us naturally to feel as sentient people.

You know, this law is designed to deal with 12.7 million Pennsylvanians. You know, there is a saying I learned in law school, you know, "Good facts make bad law," and yes, we all feel for the person in question here whom the law is named after, but we have to understand when we create tough laws with just one fact scenario in mind, we may be causing injustice in other cases that might meet that general fact scenario, but there are compelling reasons with regard to the accused.

So I think that for those reasons I am going to be a "no" vote on this.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman and recognizes the prime sponsor for the second time, on final passage.

Mr. BERNSTINE. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, and I appreciate the comments from my colleague, but I think it is important that we also understand the specific situations that are existing. My previous colleague talked about sufficient time that someone spends in prison. What we have in numerous situations are individuals that commit these crimes during their sentences or oftentimes receive these concurrent sentences and are released at the very minimum date. These are the types of violent criminals that we should be keeping behind bars to keep our places safer. And not only does it make our streets safer, but it also makes our prisons safer, as my colleague also discussed earlier.

So I appreciate the support for this. We have numerous bipartisan support on this legislation from a cosponsor standpoint, and I look forward to getting this across the line here and then ultimately in the Senate.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The question is, shall the bill pass finally?

On that question, the Chair recognizes the gentleman, Representative Owlett.

Mr. OWLETT. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Very simply, HB 156 would help child victims heal and ensure predators of violent sexual offenses against our children are brought to justice, thereby protecting additional children from being victimized. It does this by amending the Tender Years Hearsay Act to increase from 12 years of age currently to 16 years of age or younger, and it would help these victims in the midst of some seriously challenging times. I think it would be important to also note that this is also under the judge's discretion.

In the great majority of these violent offenses are predatory folks and they often are not prosecuted. These are just really, really bad situations. So hopefully we can get this through today. We worked at it last year. I really appreciated everybody's support last year, we had good bipartisan support, and hopefully we can get this through and over into the Senate and completed.

I would also like to note that everyone should have received a support letter from the PA District Attorneys Association and the Pennsylvania Coalition Against Rape, who rightly note that this does not erode due process protections, and I would humbly ask for everyone's support.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STAATS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, upskirting is not only an egregious invasion of privacy, it is a crime that robs its victims of their trust, security, and self-confidence, and replaces those feelings with embarrassment, humiliation, and fear. We need to guard the innocence of our children by working to provide a learning environment where they can feel safe and secure. Young children often lack the knowledge or ability to protect themselves from an unscrupulous adult entrusted with their care and may be unaware they are being victimized. Likewise, they are ill-equipped to handle the emotions and psychological damage that can follow the release of very personal images.

Under current law, upskirting is a misdemeanor. A teacher in a school in my district used an iPad to upskirt a female student. He was arrested and fired, but the penalty was essentially a slap on the wrist.

Our society must not tolerate these selfish and humiliating acts against young girls and teenagers. It is time the perpetrators of child sex crimes suffer real consequences for their actions and HB 163 aims to achieve this. By increasing the penalty for first offenses of upskirting to a felony of the third degree and subsequent instances to a felony of the second degree, we are putting perpetrators on notice that we are serious about child protection and the violations will come at a very heavy cost: their freedom.

Mr. Speaker, HB 163 was voted out of the Judiciary Committee unanimously and I would respectfully ask for an affirmative vote. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The House proceeded to third consideration of HB 185, PN 153, entitled:

An Act amending Title 18 (Crimes and Offenses) of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes, in assault, further providing for the offense of aggravated assault.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third consideration?
Bill was agreed to.

(Bill analysis was read.)

The SPEAKER. This bill has been considered on three different days and agreed to and is now on final passage.

The question is, shall the bill pass finally?

On that question, the Chair recognizes the prime sponsor, Representative Struzzi.

Mr. STRUZZI. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for your support for HB 185. This bill passed last session with bipartisan support. As we discussed yesterday, this bill is so fundamentally important to protect those most vulnerable, those people who have disabilities.

I know that I have shared the story of Cody Overdorff before and I need to share it again, because it is so vitally important. Cody was lured onto a walking trial in Indiana County. Cody suffers from Williams syndrome. Williams syndrome essentially makes him trusting, and so he trusted these individuals and they lured him onto this trail, where they took turns beating on him. But the worst of it is, they actually videotaped the beating and posted it on social media, and you can still find that video – I would not recommend it – but you can still find that video if you search his name on the Internet.

So I urge you today to support this bill in a bipartisan manner to show these victims and these people with disabilities that they have a right to function in society and be protected, because unless we do this, there is that fear, and it is not just for Cody, it is for anyone who has a disability. As I said yesterday, hundreds of people – families – have reached out to me thanking me for this bill, because it is important for their safety and well-being, as they function in our society, that they can go out in public and not have the fear of an intentionally violent attack.

So I urge you and I thank you for your support for this bill. Please vote "yes" for HB 185. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman and recognizes the gentleman, Representative Frankel, on final passage.

Mr. FRANKEL. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I absolutely agree with my colleague that disabled Pennsylvanians are at greater risk of being targeted and attacked and that our laws are failing to protect them. But let us call that what it is: it is a hate crime, and this bill is insufficient to address it. If this legislature wants to acknowledge the heightened vulnerability faced by disabled people, we should do what the Federal government did in 2009 and add disability status to the list of groups protected by our anti-hate laws. This bill acknowledges the problem and stops short of addressing it.

Last session, I, along with Representative Ed Gainey, from my neighboring district, introduced a package of bills that would protect all of the groups that face an ongoing pattern of being targeted for who they are. That includes intellectual disability, physical or sensory disability, and behavioral or mental health status.

We have the opportunity to do something big and important for the disability community. We can pass a bill that will make individuals and groups feel protected and can send the message that this Commonwealth stands with its disabled community. We can pass a bill that has the support of Pennsylvania's disability groups. The bill before us does none of those things. I ask my colleagues to oppose this well-intentioned legislation and support the anti-hate crimes package instead.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman, Representative Bonner, on final passage.

Mr. BONNER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

HB 185 is a needed change in the law to protect individuals who suffer from physical or intellectual disabilities from criminal assault. Individuals who suffer from these disabilities are often the targets of assailants because of their very condition and have great difficulty in defending themselves. In fact, the United States Department of Justice has said that an individual with an intellectual or physical disability is three times more likely to face assaults in his life than an individual who does not suffer from those same maladies.

HB 185 would increase the grading of an assault on a disabled person from a misdemeanor of the second degree, which carries a maximum of 2 years in prison, to a felony of the second degree, which carries a maximum of 10 years in prison.

We heard yesterday that opponents of the bill have said, well, the criminal does not necessarily know the condition of the victim to whom he inflicts the assault. The law does not give the criminal any defense for not knowing the condition of the victim. The criminal takes the victim in whatever condition he finds the victim.

Interestingly, the law has protected those individuals who may suffer from a physical abnormality. For example, someone approaches an individual with a toy gun who is only 30 years old and the gentleman drops dead of a heart attack. The law says this is murder in the second degree, even though the criminal cries at sentencing, "I had no idea of the condition of the victim at age 30." A man has sexual relationships with a 30-year-old woman who consents. Later it turns out that this 30-year-old woman has mental difficulties. The man is guilty of rape, even though he claims the woman consented and appeared to be normal. The law protects the victim. Another example, a man shares pornographic material with an 18-year-old young lady and it turns out she is 15. The law says the man is guilty of corruption of the morals of a minor, even though the young lady said "I'm 18," even though the jury thought she was 18, and even though the judge thought the same. The law historically has protected the mentally challenged, the physically disabled, and young people.

Now, the criminal has a real choice in this matter. The criminal just does not have to commit a criminal act. But if he does, he accepts the condition of the victim as it is so determined, even at a later date. There is a very simple solution for the criminal: just do not do the crime. There is an old saying and that is very true: "If you can't do the time, don't do the crime." Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. Agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays will now be taken.
