SESSION OF 2007 191ST OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

No. 24

SENATE

MONDAY, April 16, 2007

The Senate met at 1 p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Catherine Baker Knoll) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend DOUGLAS TURNER, of Bradfordwoods Community Church, Bradfordwoods, offered the following prayer:

Blessed are You, O Lord, who preside over all creation. You oversee the comings and goings of countries and Commonwealths. Without You, there is neither provision nor prosperity. Remind us of our citizenship in Your Commonwealth. As You care for us, grant us shared concern and effort to serve with civility and compassion, respecting differences, while recognizing our mutual responsibility and accountability to You. Grant sensitivity to the multitude of needs these legislators face, with wisdom to balance the limits of our resources. May stamina and cooperation, with humility and humor, characterize our commitment to Your best purpose in us all. We honor You, our ultimate nourishment and intimate spirit. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair thanks Reverend Turner, who is the guest today of Senator Orie.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

(The Pledge of Allegiance was recited by those assembled.)

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS GUEST OF SENATOR MICHAEL WAUGH PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from York, Senator Waugh.

Senator WAUGH. Madam President, it is my distinct honor and pleasure today to introduce Karin Tsai, a fine young lady from York County, Pennsylvania. Karin is a senior at West York High School, where she was recently named a national merit finalist. But here is the important part and the reason for her visit to the Senate Chamber today: Karin represented York County in the Pennsylvania Junior Miss Scholarship Program in Johnstown, Pennsylvania, in January, and was named Pennsylvania's Junior Miss for the year 2007. As Junior Miss Pennsylvania, she will represent our Commonwealth at America's Junior Miss program in Mobile, Alabama, in late June. I am very honored to introduce this fine young lady to the Senate today, and we are honored in York County to have our Commonwealth represented by her. Once she has completed her duties as Junior Miss, she will be attending Princeton University in the fall.

So, Karin, welcome.

(Applause.)

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes Ms. Tsai, Pennsylvania's Junior Miss.

Ms. TSAI. Good afternoon, Senators, and thank you so much for the honor of addressing you today. My name is Karin Tsai, and I am here today to speak to you about the Junior Miss program. In May of last year, I was named York County's Junior Miss, and the following January, I had the honor of winning the title of Pennsylvania's Junior Miss. America's Junior Miss program, established in 1958, has so far awarded over $90 million in scholarship funds to high school senior girls. Over 700,000 young women participate in this program on the local, State, and national levels. Participants are also eligible for college-granted scholarships in over 200 of our nation's colleges and universities. Junior Misses include names like Diane Sawyer, Deborah Norville, Debra Messing, and Kim Basinger.

The Junior Miss platform is "Be Your Best Self," a program that stresses well-rounded excellence in all aspects of one's life. Junior Misses not only integrate this platform into their own lives, but are encouraged to spread the good word to others through teaching, community service, and public speaking. In the actual event, all participants are judged in five categories - scholastics, interview, talent, self-expression, and fitness. When I signed up for this program last year, I did not know what to expect. I came out of it with over $14,000 in scholarship money to help pay for my tuition at Princeton University and give me a great financial start towards medical school.

I have met amazing young women from all over my county and State, and will have the opportunity this summer to meet 49 other State Junior Misses when I go to Mobile, Alabama. I have been touched by the selflessness of the Junior Miss volunteers and the generous community in which I live.

Finally, I have grown so much as a public speaker, a performer, and a person through this phenomenal program. I cannot begin to describe how much this program has impacted every aspect of my life. Since being involved in Junior Miss, many doors seemed to open for me. I was accepted into my dream college, Princeton University, received leadership positions in my extracurricular activities at school, and gained a sense of confidence and poise never known to me before. The following summer, I was fortunate enough to attend the Pennsylvania Governor's School for the Sciences, one of the most amazing and fulfilling experiences of my life. I thank you all for supporting such a worthwhile program, and continuing to put educational excellence first in the State of Pennsylvania.

Thank you for your time and attention today, and I thank you for your continued services to the State. It is truly an honor and a privilege to represent the State of Pennsylvania as Junior Miss, and I assure you, I will do my utmost best to represent Pennsylvania in Mobile, Alabama, at the nationals this summer.

Thank you.

(Applause.)

The PRESIDENT. Will her parents and sponsors please rise and be welcomed.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR MICHAEL W. BRUBAKER PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Brubaker.

Senator BRUBAKER. Madam President, I would like to introduce the Pennsylvania 4-H Council 8. They are responsible for numerous community activities and afterschool programs, and they are with us today. I would like for the Pennsylvania State Senate to give a warm welcome to Robyn Wright, Marla Sacks, Joseph Casselberry, Timothy Betz, Michael Garvey, Coy Weller, Leslie Pavolko, and Jennifer Esbenshade.

The PRESIDENT. Would the Pennsylvania 4-H Council 8 members please rise.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR JOHN R. PIPPY PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Pippy.

Senator PIPPY. Madam President, it is truly my honor today to have a wonderful athletic team from my district. We have the South Park Eagles, the 2006 PIAA Class AA soccer champions. This is the second year they have won, so now we have a streak, and they have made history at South Park by being 2005 and 2006 State champions. They defeated Manheim Central with two second-half goals, winning the championship by a score of 2-0. They are great young men, have a wonderful coaching staff, and have represented our community well, not only on the field, but I think even more importantly, off the field. So, if you would, please give them a warm Senate welcome.

The PRESIDENT. Would the South Park Eagles soccer champions please rise.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR ANDREW E. DINNIMAN PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Chester, Senator Dinniman.

Senator DINNIMAN. Madam President, it is my pleasure to introduce three guests today from my district. They are Mr. Charles McQuiston, director of the Marian Youth Association Sports Club from Phoenixville, Mr. Robert Bell, president of the West Chester Area Sports Association, and Ms. Shelagh Purnell, director of recreation of West Chester Borough, and they are here today as part of an effort to focus on youth associations. As you know, the sports season has begun, all of you go to the opening events, and the West Chester Area Sports Association alone has well over 10,000 members, with several thousand members in Phoenixville. This is an important part of what adults do to help children in our Commonwealth learn the rules of the game. Let us give a warm welcome to them.

The PRESIDENT. Would Mr. Charles McQuiston, Mr. Robert Bell, and Ms. Shelagh Purnell please rise.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR JAKE CORMAN PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Centre, Senator Corman.

Senator CORMAN. Madam President, I have the honor of introducing a young woman, Taylor Scarnato, as a guest today from my senatorial district. I understand that at one point it might have been Scarnati, but it is Scarnato now. She is a senior at West Perry High School and will be graduating in May. She is an honor student, is involved in student government, and plans on attending West Virginia University. I asked her if she wanted to attend Penn State, because I am sure she could have gone there with her background, but she said West Virginia was her choice, and she will start there in the fall with a major in public relations and journalism. Today, she is acting as a job shadow in the Senate Communications Department. I ask that we give our usual warm welcome to Taylor.

The PRESIDENT. Would Taylor Scarnato please rise.
(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR ROBERT WONDERLING PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Montgomery, Senator Wonderling.

Senator WONDERLING. Madam President, it is a real honor and privilege for me to introduce some friends who have come to visit today. Madam President, Scriptures say that when more than one gather in His name, He is pleased and honored, and truly I am, in a more modest way, honored and excited to have a number of folks from my church visit us today, the Cornerstone Church of Skippack, which is actually located in Senator Rafferty's district. These fine folks bid on a "Senator for the Day" basket and tour at our church picnic last summer, the proceeds of which have gone to support our missions abroad. So, Madam President, it is indeed my honor to introduce Gerald and Ursula Henschel, their sons, Kristoff and Joel, and their little daughter, Alannah; Don and Joanne Moyer; Brad and Sandy Smith; Randy and Karen Kopp, and their sons Harrison and Taylor. Madam President, I ask that we offer our traditional hearty welcome.

The PRESIDENT. Will the members of the Cornerstone Church of Skippack - the Henschels, the Moyers, the Smiths, the Koppes - and all their children please rise.

(Applause.)

MOMENT OF SILENCE IN SOLEMN RESPECT TO VICTIMS OF VIRGINIA TECH TRAGEDY

The PRESIDENT. Now I would like you all to please rise for a moment of silence, because as you have probably just heard on the news, at Virginia Tech today, 21 students have been killed and 28 are injured. So, let us all have a moment of silence for all of these young men and women.

(Whereupon, a moment of silence was observed.)

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Philadelphia, Senator Tartaglione.

Senator TARTAGLIONE. Madam President, a violent crime is committed in the United States every 22.1 seconds. Each year, 23 million Americans are victimized by crime, and 5.2 million are victims of violent crime. As a nation devoted to liberty and justice for all, the United States must increase its effort to protect, restore, and expand crime victims' rights. Victim service providers, criminal justice officials, and concerned citizens throughout our nation are joining together to observe "National Crime Victims' Rights Week." Today, I ask my colleagues to join me in observing the week of April 22 through April 28, 2007, as "Crime Victims' Rights Week" in Pennsylvania.

Thank you, Madam President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Senators FONTANA, BOSCOLA, FERLO, GREENLEAF, KASUNIC, MUSTO, O'PAKE, STACK, TARTAGLIONE, ERICKSON, GORDNER, McILHINNEY, ORIE, PIPPY, STOUT, M. WHITE, WONDERLING, LOGAN, MELLOW, RHOADES, WAUGH, RAFFERTY, WOZNIAK, WASHINGTON, BROWNE, C. WILLIAMS, COSTA, EARLL, LAVALLE, ROBBINS, D. WHITE, ARMSTRONG, PILEGGI, TOMLINSON and REGOLA, by unanimous consent, offered Senate Resolution No. 84, entitled:

A Resolution recognizing the week of April 15 through 21, 2007, as "National Library Week 2007" in Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fontana.

Senator FONTANA. Madam President, this resolution sets aside a week to celebrate the contributions of all libraries, librarians, and library workers in our nation's schools, campuses, and communities. Libraries have been around for a long time. In our hometown of Pittsburgh, Madam President, the first library was established in 1788 by John Boyd. Mr. Boyd circulated over 500 books to subscribers who paid 20 shillings a year to borrow from his collection. Today, some people would say that libraries are becoming outdated because of technology. I disagree, and so do statistics. Library use is up nationwide. More than 2 billion items were checked out last year, and librarians serve nearly 1.8 billion visitors annually.

Technology has complimented library services and expanded their reach. Today, public, school, college, and university libraries are growing and expanding. Libraries are important to education, and research in 14 States has found that students with well-developed school libraries consistently score 10 to 18 percent higher on reading and other tests. College and university librarians help students conduct research, either in person or online, through Ask a Librarian services. In fact, they answer over 73 million reference questions each year. Libraries and librarians are more relevant than ever, providing a 24/7 information delivery service system. They provide multifaceted, multicultural, and multilingual resources for millions nationwide. And, of course, admission is free.

Madam President, it is democracy in action. There is nothing outdated about that. Thank you very much.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Senator COSTA, by unanimous consent, offered Senate Resolution No. 85, entitled:

A Resolution designating April 18, 2007, as "Transplant Nurses Day" in Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Costa.

Senator COSTA. Madam President, I rise today to offer a resolution recognizing and designating April 18, 2007, as "Transplant Nurses Day" in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Madam President, organ and tissue transplantation is an important part of modern medical care in this Commonwealth that is considered a lifesaving and life-sustaining procedure. There are many skilled people at a transplant center who work to make transplant surgery successful. Each person of the transplant team is an expert in a different area. The transplant team includes clinical transplant coordinators, transplant physicians, transplant surgeons, financial coordinators and social workers, as well as transplant nurses. Because of the collective dedication and the research in this area, each day in the United States, 77 people receive transplants that they need. In Pennsylvania, we have 17 transplant centers, and more than 2,000 organ transplants were performed during 2006.

As I indicated previously, organ and tissue transplantation is an important part of modern medical care in this Commonwealth, and we are home to 17 transplant centers. Madam President, the organ procurement and transplantation network estimates that more than 95,000 people, including more than 7,000 Pennsylvanians, are currently waiting for organ transplants that could and will save lives.

Madam President, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is recognized the world over as a leader in organ transplantation because of the outstanding work done at these centers. Most importantly, Madam President, quality nursing care is essential for the success of a transplant. The International Transplant Nursing Society was founded in 1992 here in Pennsylvania by Nancy Stitt and Kandy Newell, two nurses from the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center, as the first professional nursing organization to promote both education and clinical practice excellence of nurses caring for organ transplant patients. Today, Madam President, the ITNS is a leading transplant organization, with over 1,400 active members representing 29 countries, with the largest chapter, known as the Golden Triangle chapter, operating out of the Pittsburgh area.

Madam President, I ask my colleagues to join me here in the Senate to designate April 18, 2007, as "Transplant Nurses Day" in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and express our sincere gratitude for nurses who dedicate their professional lives to the various aspects of transplantation, and congratulate the International Transplant Nursing Society on its work to promote education and clinical practice excellence of these nurses.

Thank you, Madam President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.
