Legislative Journal

MONDAY, JUNE 3, 2019

SESSION OF 2019 203RD OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

No. 25

SENATE

MONDAY, June 3, 2019

The Senate met at 1 p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John K. Fetterman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Hon. MEGAN MARTIN, Secretary of the Senate:

My daughter graduated from high school on Friday and this prayer that I am going to recite for all of you today is actually the prayer of my alma mater, which I thought would be fitting since there are so many young people celebrating their graduations today.

Let us pray.

God, You call us to walk in unity of mind and heart intent on You. Give us that reverence for one another that will make us apostles of peace. Grant that the knowledge of this day may flow into our worship of Your name and our service for the life of the world. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair thanks Secretary Martin, and congratulates her daughter.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

(The Pledge of Allegiance was recited by those assembled.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR JAKE CORMAN
PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Centre, Senator Corman.

Senator CORMAN. Mr. President, for all of the Members, we are going to be introducing a video. We have some very important students on the floor today. I take a moment to honor the winners of our second annual "Talk to Your Senator" contest. As part of the contest, high school and middle school students are encouraged to submit video entries of no longer than 5 minutes that highlight school safety in ways to combat violence in our schools. I am proud to honor the winning school video from Centre County, Penns Valley Area High School.

(Applause.)

Senator CORMAN. Under the guidance of teacher Mike Farley, three students, Isabella Culver, Emma Narber, and Kyle Tressler, submitted a compelling video. The video paints a powerful picture of bullying and violence in our schools and calls on their peers to be the generation that ends school violence. In their video, these students offer concrete ideas and examples of how to make a difference in the schools, and encourage students to see what is going on around them. Their message of "#Iseeyou" is powerful, and I am thankful they chose to get involved in creating this video. The contest was sponsored by the Pennsylvania Senate and supported by the Pennsylvania School Boards Association. A prize of $2,500 will be split evenly and deposited into TAP 529 accounts in their names.

Mr. President, Isabella, Emma, and Mr. Farley have joined us as special guests on the Senate floor today, and I ask you to recognize them for caring enough about their community to use their talents to create a meaningful video that sends a strong message. I look forward to viewing it here in a few minutes. The students are in the back of the Chamber.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Corman please rise to be welcomed by the Senate.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR RYAN AUMENT
PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Aument.

Senator AUMENT. Mr. President, it is my pleasure to introduce my guest for the day, Alana Halliday, the first place winner of the middle school division for the statewide "Talk to Your Senator" video competition, which invited Pennsylvania students to submit a video highlighting ways to enhance school safety measures in schools all across our Commonwealth. Alana will soon finish eighth grade at Landisville Middle School in the Hempfield School District. She loves playing the piano, singing, writing songs, participating in her church youth group, and performing with various local theater companies. In her free time, Alana enjoys traveling with her family, studying foreign languages, and collecting passport stamps. Her goal is to graduate high school with honors and attend Harvard University to become a doctor. She believes in speaking truth to power and standing up for people whose voices are not being heard. Alana is grateful for the opportunity to be here today and is humbled by this award. Additionally, I am so pleased that Alana was able to join us here at the Capitol, and even more thrilled that an entry from the Lancaster County area was selected as the winner of this video competition.

Please join me in welcoming Alana and her parents to the Pennsylvania Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Aument please rise to be welcomed by the Senate.

(Applause.)

(Whereupon, the winning videos of the Talk to Your Senator video competition were played.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR KATIE J. MUTH AND SENATOR ANDREW E. DINNIMAN PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Montgomery, Senator Muth.

Senator MUTH. Mr. President, today I welcome to the Senate the Coatesville Senior High School Boys' Track and Field Team. Coatesville Area School District shares both the 44th and 19th Senatorial Districts, and Senator Dinniman and I are glad to present this distinguished team to you here at Session. The student athletes here today are truly outstanding. Will Depree, Eric, Aaron, Dymere, and Ousman please stand. The boys' 4x100 meter relay team has had an outstanding season. They were the top-scoring American relay team at the 125th Penn Relays track and field invitational on April 26. The team ran an impressive 41.5. They also ran an excellent race at their district championships. Yet, it was their race at the PIAA State Championship meet at Shippensburg University, Saturday, May 25, that truly stood out this season. The team ran the relay in 40.99 seconds, not only winning the State championship, but also setting the new all-time State record in the category. I am also pleased to welcome Ousman Kamara, who won first place at the PIAA Class AAA high jump with a jump of 6'8". All of you have truly made our community proud.

Lastly, thank you to the coaches, the administrators, and the family that helped them get there. As an athletic trainer, I truly do appreciate the supportive coaches, parents, and family of student athletes. We are so proud of you, and thank you for your dedication, your hustle, your teamwork, and your sportsmanship.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Muth please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate.

(Applause.)

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Chester, Senator Dinniman.

Senator DINNIMAN. Mr. President, it is a privilege to join Senator Muth to congratulate this team and their tremendous success. They are the fastest team in this Commonwealth in terms of the 4x100 relay. They came in as the top American team at the Penn Relays, which had people from various States as well as from around the world. These are amazing accomplishments for these young people. It is a privilege and an honor that they decided to come to the Senate so we can recognize the accomplishments of these young men and how they have set new records, and I know that they are very involved in their community. They do community service, they do well academically, and you could not ask for more from young people today than what we see in the fine four men who are here. So let us honor them once again. Thank you.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR JUDY SCHWANK PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Berks, Senator Schwank.

Senator SCHWANK. Mr. President, every summer, just like my colleagues here in the Senate, I look forward to meeting the new college students who intern in my district office. I am always impressed by their enthusiasm and interest in government. Mr. President, I am sure this year will not be any different. Seated in the gallery today are three of my interns, Abby Kapp, Spencer Thornburg, and Olivia Enslin. Abby is a junior at Bucknell University, majoring in economics and minoring in public policy. Spencer is a senior at Lock Haven University, majoring in business administration and minoring in political science. Olivia is attending York College, majoring in political science and minoring in business administration. I am so pleased that they can be here with me today, and I have lots of work lined up for you guys for this summer, so get ready. We will be busy all summer, and I welcome their input into my district office. Please join me, Mr. President, in welcoming my student interns this summer.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Schwank please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR MICHELE BROOKS PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Mercer, Senator Brooks.

Senator BROOKS. Mr. President, today we saw and probably heard the annual A.B.A.T.E. rally. A.B.A.T.E. stands for the Alliance of Bikers Aimed Towards Education. Each year the A.B.A.T.E. rally is an impressive display of advocacy in action. Unfortunately, it will be Charles Umbenhauer's last rally as A.B.A.T.E.'s lobbyist for the State of Pennsylvania, but we wish him all the best and every success in his retirement. Charles has been a trusted advocate in the halls of the Capitol for decades, and we will miss his honesty, his advice, and his presence.

As part of this important day for motorcyclists, I introduce constituents from my district who rode in for the rally today. Mr. President, that was a 5-hour trip, and they would have gotten up about 5 o'clock this morning to join us here at the Capitol. They have attended many A.B.A.T.E. rallies over the years. Paula and Joe Smith are from Sharpville in Mercer County. Joe worked as a machinist with Sharon Steel and then as a supplier for Lordstown's car industry. He is now a self-employed machinist and Paula is a self-employed seamstress. A few years ago, the Smiths adopted a border collie named Bella and traveled here with her today to advocate for a motorcycle lemon law, a ceremonial motorcycle procession law, and other important measures impacting our motorcyclists here in Pennsylvania. Joe has been riding since he was a child, and Paula has been riding since she was 19. I am happy to recognize these constituents who carry on the legacy of Pennsylvania's motorcycle riders.

I ask that we take a moment to recognize Charles and his legacy as he retires from A.B.A.T.E. to enjoy the open road even more, and to give the Smiths from Sharpsville our customary Senate welcome.

Thank you, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Brooks please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR MARIA COLLETT PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

Please join me in giving them a warm Senate welcome.

Celebrated from June 3 through June 9, 2019, this is the 10th annual campaign. "Hemp History Week" is the largest educational campaign about hemp in the United States. DACO will be hosting the 2019 cannabis conference in Philadelphia. It is the first of its kind and will certainly make history.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Street please rise to be welcomed by the Senate.

(Applause.)

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS SENATE RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

Senator SANTARSIERO, by unanimous consent, offered Senate Resolution No. 141, entitled:

A Resolution congratulating Jayson Stark, a resident of Newtown, Pennsylvania, who was elected the 2019 winner of the J.G. Taylor Spink Award in balloting by the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Bucks, Senator Santarsiero.

Senator SANTARSIERO. Mr. President, I rise in support of this resolution recognizing my constituent and friend, Jayson Stark, of Newtown, Pennsylvania, upon him receiving the very prestigious J.G. Taylor Spink Award and his contributions to the sport of baseball as a writer. Mr. Stark made his mark in Philadelphia for 21 years as a Phillies beat writer and national baseball columnist for the Philadelphia Inquirer, where he was twice named Pennsylvania Sportswriter of the Year, and nationally for 17 years as a senior baseball writer at ESPN.com.

He has made numerous television appearances on Baseball Tonight, SportsCenter, and Outside the Lines, and won an Emmy for his work on Baseball Tonight. Now a senior baseball writer at The Athletic and appearing regularly on the MLB Network, Mr. Stark has been elected the 70th winner of the J.G. Taylor Spink Award this year by the Baseball Writers' Association of America. This award, granted annually to a sportswriter for meritorious contributions to baseball writing, could go to no finer of a recipient than Jayson Stark.

Baseball truly is our national pastime. It is a game that transcends time and generations, becoming a tradition that binds Americans together regardless of class, race, or creed. Particularly in times of strife, when we seem to be divided on so many other things, baseball is truly something that has the potential to, and often does, bring us together. It is a noble game, embodying our nation at its best, a nation as it should be. As the cultural touchstone of our country, baseball plays a special role in our society, and baseball writers are therefore endowed with a monumental influence on all of us. From the earliest days of the sport, the writers have elevated a game of a stick and a ball to a pastime synonymous with America itself. Mr. Stark has celebrated baseball and all those who enjoy it throughout his professional life. It is only right that we now celebrate his career and this monumental achievement in turn.

GUESTS OF SENATOR STEVEN SANTARSIERO PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

Senator SANTARSIERO. Mr. President, we are joined today by Mr. Stark and his wife, Lisa; his mother-in-law, Norma Bernstein; David Bernstein, his brother-in-law; Jill Bernstein, his sister-in-law; Jerry Bodlander, a friend; and a friend who is also a friend of mine, Nancy Marshall. We are very, very proud to have you all here today, and very proud of what you have been able to achieve, Jayson, and I thank you for everything you have done for the sport and for us all. I ask all of my colleagues for unanimous support of this resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Santarsiero please rise to be welcomed by the Senate.

(Applause.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Senators SABATINA, DINNIMAN, MARTIN, BARTOLOTTA, BREWSTER, FONTANA, MUTH, BROWNE, BAKER, KILLION, TARTAGLIONE, J. WARD, PHILLIPS-HILL, BLAKE, AUMENT, HUGHES, COSTA, MENSCH, FOLMER and SCHWANK, by unanimous consent, offered Senate Resolution No. 142, entitled:

A Resolution designating the month of June 2019 as "Alzheimer's and Brain Awareness Month" in Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

GUESTS OF SENATOR JOHN P. SABATINA
PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Sabatina.

Senator SABATINA. Mr. President, I rise today to recognize some very courageous and dedicated folks in the gallery. As you may know, Mr. President, June is Alzheimer's Awareness Month around the country. I am offering my resolution to declare June as "Alzheimer's and Brain Awareness Month" in the Commonwealth. You may see many people in the Capitol today and throughout June wearing purple. Purple is the color associated with Alzheimer's disease to raise awareness and show support. It is interesting to note that Alzheimer's disease is the sixth leading cause of death in the United States. One in three seniors dies with Alzheimer's or other dementia. It kills more than breast cancer and prostate cancer combined; 5.8 million Americans are living with Alzheimer's, and by 2050, this number is projected to rise to nearly 14 million people.

In 2018, Pennsylvania had an estimated 676,000 Alzheimer's and dementia family caregivers providing 770 million hours of unpaid care for loved ones. Alzheimer's, as we know, is a destructive and devastating disease that is just as difficult for the individual as it is for the family and caregivers who support them. Those with Alzheimer's and dementia require more and more support as the disease progresses, and resources as cognitive, behavioral, and physical functioning worsens over time, placing enormous burdens on government budgets and out-of-pocket expenses. While there is no cure at the moment, researchers around the world continue their efforts to develop breakthroughs that could one day bring an end to Alzheimer's.

Please join me now in welcoming those who are seated in the gallery advocating for research dollars to be spent on delivering a cure. We welcome them as they kick off Alzheimer's and Brain Awareness Month in Pennsylvania.

Thank you, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Sabatina please rise to be welcomed by the Senate.

(Applause.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS SUPPLEMENTAL CALENDAR No. 1

BILL AMENDED

SB 139 (Pr. No. 115) -- The Senate proceeded to consideration of the bill, entitled:

An Act amending the act of October 31, 2006 (P.L.1210, No.133), known as the Price Gouging Act, further providing for definitions, for price gouging prohibited and for investigation.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third consideration?

Senator J. WARD offered the following amendment No. A1501:

Amend Bill, page 3, line 10, by striking out all of said line and inserting:

to the declared state of emergency.]

(1) Whether a price is an

Amend Bill, page 3, lines 19 through 29, by striking out all of said lines and inserting:

(i) is 10% or less above the seller's price immediately before the price restriction under subsection (a) was imposed;

(ii) is 10% or less above the sum of the seller's cost and normal markup for the good or service;

(iii) is consistent with price fluctuations in applicable commodity, regional, national or international markets or with seasonal price fluctuations; or

(iv) is a contract price, or the result of a price formula, including, but not limited to, a price formula used in connection with the reservation of goods or services for future use, established before the price restriction under subsection (a) was imposed.

(3) It is prima facie evidence that a price is an unconscionably excessive price if none of the factors in paragraph (2) applies to that price.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Blair, Senator J. Ward.

Senator J. WARD. Mr. President, this amendment reinserts prima facie evidence that a price is an unconscionably excessive price if it is beyond the safe harbor provisions. For example, an increase of more than 10 percent above the price where the normal mark-up price would be is presumed to be unconscionably excessive. Current law provides that a price increase of 20 percent or more is prima facie, evidence that such a price is unconscionably excessive. This means that a 20-percent increase is presumed to be unreasonable. This provision addresses a concern raised by the Governor's Office. Lowering the percentage price increase from 20 to 10 percent as being excessive in restoring prima facie evidence enhances consumer protection. The amendment also makes clear that a price formula used in connection with the preservation of goods or services for future use when established prior to the price restriction is not considered an unconscionably excessive price; for example, in car rentals or hotel reservations.

Thank you, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Without objection, the bill, as amended, was passed over in its order at the request of Senator CORMAN.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS SENATE RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

Senators LEACH, BREWSTER, DINNIMAN, FONTANA, J. WARD, SCHWANK, BROWNE, K. WARD, FARNESE, SCAVELLO, MARTIN, BLAKE, MENSCH, AUMENT, TARTAGLIONE, HUGHES, COSTA, KILLION and YUDICHAK, by unanimous consent, offered Senate Resolution No. 143, entitled:

A Resolution designating June 3, 2019, as "Alex's Lemonade Stand Day" in Pennsylvania and encouraging all residents to contribute to the Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation and other pediatric cancer research programs.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Montgomery, Senator Leach.

Senator LEACH. Mr. President, Alex Scott was a little girl from my district who sadly contracted neuroblastoma, a deadly brain cancer, at a young age and ultimately did not survive that. However, in the period of time between her diagnosis and her passing, she literally changed the world. She wanted to start a lemonade stand to raise money for pediatric cancer research, and so she did start a lemonade stand right in Wynnewood, Pennsylvania. Then there was a second one, a third one, and it grew and grew to become a national movement. I was with her mother this weekend, and her mother tells me there has been over $175 million raised for pediatric cancer research and for support of the victims of that. They expect to be over $200 million by the end of this year. Every year, the trajectory is higher and higher and has become a worldwide phenomenon. I ask the Senate to support and recognize the amazing contribution to humanity that this young girl made.

Thank you, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Senators STREET, FARNESE, KEARNEY, BROWNE, SCHWANK, AUMENT, FOLMER and COSTA, by unanimous consent, offered Senate Resolution No. 144, entitled:

A Resolution recognizing the week of June 3 through 9, 2019, as "Hemp History Week" in Pennsylvania to acknowledge industrial hemp's role in our cultural heritage and promote its uses and benefits.

On the question,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Street.

Senator STREET. Mr. President, I rise to speak on this resolution commemorating "Hemp History Week." Hemp has a rich history in our Commonwealth. There were periods of time when folks grew hemp. Hemp can be used in making all kinds of goods and materials, both industrial and medicinal. Hemp has the potential to help revitalize many of our farming communities and add alternatives to medical treatment for many ailments, ranging from serious things such as seizures and addressing conditions much more mild like those found for achy joints for old athletes like me. Hemp History Week is acknowledged and celebrated so that Pennsylvanians can recognize the contributions that hemp has made and the great history it has in this Commonwealth. Therefore, I ask all Members to vote to affirm Hemp History Week and encourage all Pennsylvanians to study the valuable effects of this important agricultural crop.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Senator Elisabeth J. Baker) in the Chair.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILLS ON FIRST CONSIDERATION

Senator IOVINO. Madam President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to consideration of all bills reported from committee for the first time at today's Session.

The motion was agreed to by voice vote.
The bills were as follows:

SB 669, HB 375, HB 684 and HB 754.

And said bills having been considered for the first time,
Ordered, To be printed on the Calendar for second consideration.

C A N C E L L E D

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Chester, Senator Dinniman.

Senator DINNIMAN. Madam President, following the shooting at the Tree of Life synagogue in Pittsburgh, there were a number of conversations with religious leaders and citizens across the Commonwealth. Out of those conversations, an idea emerged that we have an obligation to protect people who go to their houses of worship. Whether you are a conservative or whether you are a progressive, we all agree that the fundamental purpose of government is to protect people's safety. The idea that emerged was to do what we had done successfully with the school safety plan. As you know, Act 44 of 2018 has created a means for us to provide security in our schools as well as deal with questions of the isolated student, the student being bullied, and so forth. We hope we can do the same thing with people of faith.

Today, a number of us had a news conference in which we expressed our support for Senate Bill No. 676, which was presented by myself, Senator Schwank, and Senator Costa. Under this bill, what would occur is very similar to the school safety bill. There would be two provisions. One which would provide grants to nonprofits, because we wanted to use the language that the Federal hate crimes bill used so that we would be constitutional under both Federal and State Constitutions, and most religious institutions have nonprofits, as well and there are nonprofits that are not religious institutions. These nonprofits would have grants available that we also would support, just like we do with the school safety program, as a means to get discussions going and hear how we can create a sense of more understanding. This bill is designed not just for the Jewish community, but for all communities of faith in the Commonwealth; for Muslim mosques, Jewish synagogues, Christian churches, Hindu temples, and so forth.

It was here in Pennsylvania that, in 1682, we had the first expression anywhere in the world, Madam President, in which we stated our support for freedom of worship and for religious freedom. This is a fundamental liberty and is guaranteed within our Constitution. It is a sad day in this Commonwealth, or anywhere, when people who are gathered to pray together have to be afraid of being shot or being hurt during their moments of prayer as each different community expresses its faith in its own unique way. It is perfectly fitting that we were the first community in the world to state the fundamental purpose of the freedom of worship and religious freedom. I know, Madam President, of your great interest in the Quaker faith and your family's history of the Quaker faith. What I am trying to say to the Senate is we need to reaffirm this fundamental principle which was part of the founding of our Commonwealth. The principle that people can worship safely, we respect all worshipers, and that religious liberty and freedom are fundamentally part of who we are as Pennsylvanians. It is in our DNA, it is in our soul, and we need to reaffirm it.

We purposely, in the bill, did not put in a set amount of money. We know as we go into budget negotiations that there is going to be a surplus of funds. Thank goodness, after all these years of no surplus of funds. We hope that together we can work in a bipartisan way and determine some amount of money that we all can agree on so that we can begin this program. By the way, what we announced today is part of a three-part package. The first part is Senate Bill No. 636, of which all the Democratic Caucus members have signed on to, and we also have some Republicans on it and hope to have more. We hope to make this really a bipartisan total Senate effort. We also announced our continued support for Senate Bill No. 71, which is Senator Street's bill, which protects sacred places after the vandalism of Jewish cemeteries in Philadelphia and other cemeteries in the Commonwealth of different faith traditions. We also announced our support of a comprehensive bill by the Democratic Leader, Senator Costa, to deal with the whole problem of hate crimes and identifying those who are bent on doing destruction to people of faith in our Commonwealth.

In essence, let me just say this, I hope, as we move into the final weeks of Session, that we will remember that we were the first people in the world to express our belief in freedom of worship and in religious liberty. I hope that we will remember that the shooting at the Tree of Life synagogue was the largest mass killing of Jews in American history, and it happened right here in our Commonwealth. Right here, where we have, from our very beginnings, declared the notion of the freedom of worship.

George Washington wrote a letter to the synagogue in Newport, Rhode Island, further affirming this basic and fundamental freedom.

So I stand here today urging and asking for total support, bipartisan support, just as we had today during Session, we had some of those videos that the students produced about school safety, we know the success of this approach of security, helping to have that security, plus conversation and dealing with the questions that are involved so that we can create a more tolerant and free society, one free of hatred. What I ask is that we give due consideration to this. We understand that 317 years ago our forefathers, in fact, I believe Penn's grant was in 1681, and in 1682, a year after--by the way the Great Law of 1682 established the Legislature as well--that we would hope that we could come together. We could unite, protecting every religious institution in this Commonwealth, so that people could go to pray free of fear and that we understand the importance of prayer, but we also understand that our God created us as thinking human beings who have the capacity to make our prayers reality. This is an attempt to do so. You know, incident after incident of violence has occurred in this nation and in our Commonwealth, and it is not enough anymore to say I will pray for you. We need to take those prayers and offer protection, offer security, and reclaim and restate what is the fundamental, historic, and important aspect of this Commonwealth: that of tolerance of all, that of religious freedom, that of the protection of everyone who wants to worship in their own way, and that of the importance of the First Amendment to our Constitution of the United States which grants freedom of religion as well.

Thank you, Madam President, and I hope we can gather this support and unite together.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Philadelphia, Senator Tartaglione.

Senator TARTAGLIONE. Madam President, I rise today to share an alarming and troubling fact. Today marks 4,712 days since Pennsylvania last raised its minimum wage. That is 1 month short of 13 years. Thirteen years. As a proud Pennsylvanian, this disturbs me. I like to think of my home State as a leader on a national stage, and I am sure I am not the only one who thinks this way. After all, the Commonwealth has been home to many of the nation's firsts: the first Capitol, the first hospital, the first stock exchange, the first art museum, the first World Series, the nation's first African American woman State legislator was elected here, Senator Roxanne Jones. Yet, for more than 40 years, Pennsylvania has been treating its low-wage workers like second-class citizens. For more than 40 years, the Commonwealth has been among the last States to adopt reasonable minimum wage laws and help our workers keep pace with the rising cost of living. In fact, except for very rare instances, Pennsylvania has simply refused to raise the minimum wage at all. We have been leaving it up to other forward-thinking States to lead the way on this issue and allowing the Federal government to dictate our minimum wage.

Pennsylvania has had a minimum wage law of its own since 1968, yet we actually used that law to set our own minimum wage just twice in the last 42 years. We did it in 1988 when the Federal minimum wage was $3.35, and we adopted $3.70. We did it again in 2006 when we passed legislation to raise our minimum wage from $5.15 to $7.15. Aside from those examples, Pennsylvania has been the last in line on minimum wage, alongside States like Alabama, Mississippi, and South Carolina that have no minimum wage laws at all. In recent years, 29 States have raised their minimum wage above the oppressive $7.25 mandated by the Federal government. In Pennsylvania, we now have the opportunity to finally do the same. Senate Bill No. 12 would establish the Commonwealth as a national leader on this critical economic issue, and it would grant millions of Pennsylvanians the financial independence that they have worked so hard and long to earn.

Thank you, Madam President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Costa.

Senator COSTA. Madam President, I rise to support the comments of my good friend and our colleague, Senator Tartaglione, who led this effort for us in Pennsylvania a number of years ago. She references as the leading person in that regard, her and Senator Hughes. I remember those days because we spoke just about every single day on this Senate floor, working to make certain that we took steps to address the minimum wage. And we are back here again, because we think it is time to be able to do what needs to be done. Senator Tartaglione spoke about Senate Bill No. 12 that she has introduced, and our Caucus is supporting and throwing our full weight behind that legislation which we think is important.

Madam President, you and I have spoken in years past, when you were chair of the Committee on Labor and Industry, about the need to do something along those lines, but for a variety of reasons we have not gotten there yet. As was mentioned, it is imperative that we take the steps now to be able to do what needs to be done along those lines. For that matter, tomorrow there will be a rally taking place in the Rotunda at noontime, and I ask my colleagues to come join us. Organizations like CLEAR Coalition, for example, We the People, The Pennsylvania Budget Policy Center, and Raise the Wage PA organization all coming together to be able to articulate a message about how important the minimum wage increase is.

It is important that we talk about what other States are doing first and foremost, because I think that is an important point. Senator Tartaglione mentioned we need to be a leader. Pennsylvania has historically been a leader in a number of things. But I keep looking at this chart, Madam President, of the surrounding States of Pennsylvania. Every single one of them has a higher minimum wage. When you look at New York at $11.10, Ohio at $8.55, West Virginia at $8.75, Maryland at $10.10, Delaware at $8.75, and New Jersey at $8.85. I believe most of them have provisions that continue to raise the minimum wage as they go forward. That is a conversation we need to have. The Governor has proposed a $12 minimum number increase that we should go to, and I appreciate the effort to be able to try to get there, but that is where our conversation needs to be. So it is important to know what our surrounding States are doing and how our workers are being treated there.

But what we have to also talk about is, who are the faces of our minimum wage workers? Who are these folks who are making minimum wage? That is what is important as well. Sixty-one percent of minimum wage earners are women, 27 percent are people of color, 89 percent are adults, 37 percent are over the age of 40, 24 percent are parents, and 55 percent work full-time, and only 41 percent have some level of college. On the average, the teenagers affected earn 21 percent of their family's income.

Think about that. A teenager working in a family earns 21 percent of the family income. That is something that we should not be letting happen in this Commonwealth. We need to work along those lines to do it.

I also want to pay particular attention to the sub-minimum wage. I know Senator Tartaglione has talked about this a lot. The sub-minimum wage is largely our leisure and restaurant industry. We cannot allow that low rate of $2.83 to continue going forward. We have to take steps to address that and raise that alongside the minimum wage rate. We oftentimes hear that folks are making more than that when they are working and relying upon tips. As we found out during discussions we have had over the course of the past year, that is not necessarily the case. But more importantly, the nature and the type of work that folks have to do to be able to achieve, at a minimum, the minimum wage level when they are working for tips. Madam President, I came out of the restaurant/bar industry. My wife and I have been together almost 40 years, and I can tell you we both worked in that industry and saw firsthand the manner in which the people who work in that industry, particularly the women who are working there, who are being asked to do things and subject themselves to the type of conduct that we would not want any of our siblings or, I should say, our spouses or sisters or mothers to be subjected to in order to earn tips. It is a haven for the type of activity that creates an environment that women are working in that is inappropriate for them as they go forward. Most of the folks, like my wife and I when we were working, we were right out of college—she was still in college, I was done—and we were working in this restaurant industry, and we saw what took place there with respect to the manner in which these folks were treated simply in order to be able to earn at least a minimum wage. It is not something we should be doing, and we should be taking steps to eliminate the sub-minimum wage and put everyone on par, and that is why we have a request for one fair wage.

A couple weeks ago my colleagues, mostly from western Pennsylvania, visited a restaurant in the strip district of Pittsburgh where the bar owners and restaurant owners decided they were going to pay everyone one wage. They pay them $35,000 per year, Bar Marco. Despite what people would think, it did not put them out of business. In fact, it let them stand out alone from all of the other restaurants in the region. That says, we respect the dignity of the people who are doing the work for us, our servers, and we are going to pay them a wage that is consistent with what they deserve. More importantly, it gives them a wage that allows them to be able to maintain a lifestyle to be able to pay their bills, not having to work two or three different jobs, not having to subject themselves to an environment where they are abused or have sexual harassment cases. By the way, that industry I mentioned has the highest rate of sexual harassment claims per any other industry in the country. That all being said, they have had success with respect to having a flat wage of $35,000 a year. And the notion that if you raise the minimum wage that you are going to put businesses out of business as we go forward, particularly in the industry, the hospitality industry, is simply not appropriate and not accurate. Study after study has shown that is not the case. In fact, many of these industries thrive and prosper when they know that they have folks who are going to work, they have folks who want to report to work, they have folks who are coming to work with a better mindset about knowing what needs to be done. When the clientele knows that these individuals are being paid an appropriate wage, everything about the experience that they have in these restaurants and these bars, along those lines, are very positive.

So, I have rambled on quite a bit, and I applaud the gentleman from Philadelphia for, again, leading this effort along the lines of increasing the minimum wage. But today, tomorrow, and every single day for the rest of this month of June, we are going to be working hard to try to pursue and push for a raise and increase in the minimum wage and have a comprehensive discussion, not just increasing the wage, but increasing the wage that allows us to be able to do it in perpetuity going forward also addressing the issue with respect to the sub-minimum wage, and particularly in the hospitality industry. Finally, Madam President, we should have a conversation about the exemption that exists. We should have a conversation about whether or not we eliminate the exemption to allow our local governments the opportunity to decide for themselves and their jurisdictions whether or not they want the ability, whatever wages they feel are appropriate in their community. What may be best for the city of Pittsburgh may not be best for somewhere in north central Pennsylvania. If that is the case, we look forward to having that conversation about that as well. So I appreciate the work of my colleagues, and I ask all my colleagues to join us tomorrow if they could, and look forward to having that conversation at the Rotunda tomorrow at noontime to talk about this important issue.

Thank you, Madam President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farnese.

Senator FARNESE. Madam President, earlier today my colleague, Senator Hughes, and some other folks got together and spoke at a press conference in Philadelphia about the Read to Succeed program that has benefitted so many students over the years in preventing what some people call the summer slide. The summer slide is a phenomenon, Madam President, that occurs during the summer months where students take a long break from reading and other academics and sometimes lose some knowledge from the previous year by the time that their classes begin the following fall. Just like the Read to Succeed program that we have been talking about in our press conference, it encourages students to continue on during the summer months so that the summer slide does not really affect them and sort of send them backwards. Just like the Read to Succeed program encourages students to stay engaged in academics throughout the summer, Madam President, we also need to stay engaged around the year to insure that our school buildings are secure and safe and our infrastructure is sound, so that while our kids are spending their time in our school buildings, they are free from dangers of mold, lead pipes, lead paint, and other problems that we know of.

Madam President, it is estimated that in Philadelphia, Philadelphia schools need an immediate investment of $170 million to make critical repairs to the city's school buildings. Now, without these repairs, it will not matter how good the teachers are or how hard our students are working. We are still putting them at risk. School should be safe places for young people. They should be free from violence, they should be free from bullying, and the buildings should be safe from decay and from literally falling apart around them. All that students should have to really worry about during the academic year is getting their notes together, doing well in their classes, and learning what they need to learn. They should not be worried about lead or asbestos or any other infrastructure problems that we see around the schools, especially some of the schools when we walk around Philadelphia. I can tell you, Madam President, last month, myself and other legislators from both the State and Federal level walked around, one school in particular in south Philadelphia, the Southwark School, and literally could see the paint chipping off, asbestos, and other problems literally standing right next to where kids are getting their water near a water fountain. So, these conditions are serious and they need to be addressed.

The money that we allocate, Madam President, from K to 12 education in the budget should be funding education, but it also should be paying our teachers and providing for classroom resources. But we also need additional funds to make school buildings safe, and that is critically important. Legislation introduced by my colleague, Senator Hughes, and others would establish a $125 million grant program to establish the public school building emergency repair and renovation grant program. It would allocate $85 million of that money to Philadelphia schools specifically. By not funding the necessary safety improvements to our schools, we are actively putting children at risk each and every time they walk into one of these buildings. This is, of course, unacceptable. We need to show children, teachers, our communities, our parents, that we value their safety and we value their education. We put the investment into the schools to make them a safe place to learn and to grow. That is really what is important, Madam President, when we talk about giving folks and giving kids around Pennsylvania each and every opportunity they can to succeed. Whether it is in the classroom that they sit in and learn or, literally, the walls and building around them. So, I hope that we can focus on this issue as we move forward during the budget process. I know that Senate Democrats, in addition to the other legislative issues like minimum wage that we have talked about, we certainly are focusing not only on public education, but on the infrastructure that our kids and the buildings that they sit in each and every day, because where they learn is just as important as how they learn.

Thank you, Madam President.
