To whom it may concern,

This is a letter to voice my concern over the continuation of awarding contracts to Primos Contractor. After observing in first hand for over a year the work of Mr. Colone and his helpers I feel safe in saying my staff could have done the job faster, neater and more efficiently.

We certainly got what we paid for. Mr. Colone's company may have bid low, however because of the ill kept equipment, work stoppages, and incorrect work done by the contractor, it certainly ended up costing all of us - merchants, tax payers and motorists - a whole lot more.

I don't understand why a stretch of road approximately 1/2 mile would take this long to simply lay drainage pipe, put in some storm sewers and pave. They rebuild whole highways in California in half the time after earthquakes.

I have sent along many articles from the papers which tell the story. My business has suffered as a result of this nightmare. The happy ending is we are still here and they (Colone - Penn dot) are gone.

Sincerely,

Mary Beth Collins
