

PUBLIC HEARING TESTIMONY ON HIGHWAY SIGNING

Good morning. My name is Tom Bryer, I am the Director of the Bureau of Highway Safety and Traffic Engineering, PennDOT. I am here to provide information on the Department's highway signing programs in the Commonwealth.

OVERVIEW

The purpose of highway signing is to help insure safety by providing for the orderly and predictable movement of all traffic throughout the nation's highway system. It provides guidance and warnings as needed to insure the safe and informed operation by individual motorists. In Pennsylvania, as in other states, we follow the Federal Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices for Streets and Highways (MUTCD) as the guide for developing our highway signing requirements. Not only does this insure general uniformity throughout the country, but Section 6121 of the Vehicle Code requires that the Department develop a manual that, "...shall correlate with and as far as possible conform to the system set forth in the most recent edition of the Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices for Streets and Highways and other standards issued by the Federal Highway Administration, United States Department of Transportation."

We recognize that signing can enhance tourism and economic development and have considered this in development of our signing programs. Limitations are placed on the amount of signing, however, because a proliferation of signs can reduce the effectiveness of the most important signs and overload the driver's ability to receive and make decisions on sign messages, thereby negatively impacting safety. This is especially true for older drivers whose population in Pennsylvania is growing larger every day. In fact, we are continuing to make a conscious effort to decrease the amount of legend on traffic signs to aid the older driver, and it would be counter-productive to significantly expand the number of signs along our highway right-of-way. In Pennsylvania, we operate on the philosophy that motorists have a predetermined destination and use our numbered traffic route system and highway signing to aid in their ability to reach that destination.

It should also be noted that Section 6125 Paragraph (b) of the Vehicle Code states, "No person shall place or maintain nor shall any public authority permit upon any highway any official traffic-control device containing any commercial advertising except for business signs included as part of official motorist service panels or roadside area information panels approved by the Department."

I will now describe in greater detail some of the various components of our highway signing program that relate to tourism and economic development.

ATTRACTION SIGNS

For many years the Department has allowed for the installation of attraction signs within the highway right-of-way. Examples of several attraction signs are shown on Exhibit A. Their purpose is to guide travelers to historic, educational, cultural, scientific, scenic and recreational areas. Exhibit B is a copy of the list of those facilities which are eligible for this type of signing on conventional highways (highways not considered freeways or Interstates). This list has evolved over time to include those facilities which meet the types of categories described above.

A few of the important aspects of the program which should be noted are as follows:

- Applies only to urban areas except for freeways and Interstates where it applies to both urban and rural areas.
- The individual facilities are responsible for the costs associated with sign installation.
- Most facilities must have a minimum attendance of 15,000 per year.
- Signing is generally provided from the closest numbered traffic route.
- Signs will not be provided if U-turns or illegal movements are required to access the facility and the motorist can not readily return to their original direction of travel.

- Regular hours of operation are maintained and the facility is open to the public at least six days each week for at least three consecutive months.
- Sufficient space exists to maintain the minimum spacing between signs at all required sign locations.
- No more than six attraction signs may exist in advance of any intersection.

In addition to the above requirements, a limited amount of signing is permitted along Interstates and freeways if the attraction satisfies the additional warrants indicated on Exhibit C. These added warrants are based on nationally accepted practices identified in the American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials' (AASHTO) Guidelines for the Selection of Supplemental Guide Signs for Traffic Generators Adjacent to Freeways. Exhibit D is a copy of the warrants contained in the AASHTO publication cited above. Signs along the Interstates must also be approved by the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA). The MUTCD also allows only one supplemental sign to be placed in advance of freeway interchanges and requires that all major signs along freeways have a minimum of 800 feet between them.

TOURIST ORIENTED DIRECTIONAL SIGNS (TODS)

In 1993 the Department developed our TODS program in response to needs of the business community which had been forced to remove many of their billboards due to strict enforcement of the Outdoor Advertising Control Act (OACA).

The OACA is a Federal law which requires the states to issue permits after application is made for billboards in areas zoned commercial or industrial and that meet the minimum spacing requirements. Signs for which permits have not been issued and are within certain minimum prescribed distances of the highway right-of-way are removed.

Our TODS program is patterned after the program outlined in the MUTCD. The signs provide business identification and directional information for those businesses whose major portion of income or visitors are derived during the normal business season from motorists not residing in the immediate area of the business. TODS are identical to attraction signs in appearance and implementation of the program mirrors the attraction signing program. The primary distinction between the programs is that TODS only applies to conventional highways in rural areas which is in conformance with the provisions of the MUTCD.

Also, I would like to note that the Department is working to adopt the MUTCD as our regulation for traffic-control devices with additions and modifications where appropriate. This will include TODS, but also replace all our current regulations which cover signs, signals and markings. Our current schedule calls for submission of the proposed regulation to our Office of Chief Counsel by the end of the current fiscal year.

LOGO SIGNING PROGRAM

In 1984 the Department began a logo signing program. These are large blue signs seen along the Interstates and freeways which display businesses' logo panels for gas, food, lodging and camping services. An example of logo signs is shown on Exhibit E. It is noted that the FHWA is considering a fifth logo for general type attractions, but limited approval has only been granted in two states. The signs are installed based on the willingness of eligible businesses to participate and the specific operational, geometric and physical characteristics of the interchange to accommodate the signing. Again, the Department's program requirements are patterned after the nationally-accepted practices found in the MUTCD.

The logo program is administered for the Department by the Pennsylvania Logo Signing Trust in accordance with guidelines developed by the Department. The Trust is a nonprofit group established through the Pennsylvania Travel Council. The Board of Trustees is comprised of seven members, one representing each of the four types of services, a representative of the Outdoor Advertising Association, a representative of the travelling public and a representative of the Department.

Eligibility for participation in the program is based upon an assortment of criteria which vary by type of service. Some examples of the criteria include distance from the interchange, operating hours, seating capacity, and services available. To participate, businesses pay an initial fee of $4,650 for each mainline sign, $150 for each sign located along the exit ramp and $200 for each subsequent trailblazer which may be necessary. In addition to the initial participation fee, there is an annual maintenance fee of $150 for each mainline sign and $75 for each ramp and trailblazer sign. The businesses are also responsible for providing their individual logo panels. All funds are used for the engineering, construction, maintenance and administration of the program.

The logo program has been popular with both the travelling public and the business community.

I trust this information is of assistance to the Committees. Signing is an important component of our highway system and its effective use can significantly enhance the safety of the travelling public. We must always guard against a proliferation of signing which can degrade rather than enhance safety.
