6 The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
7 hereby enacts as follows:

8 Section 1. Section 6102 of Title 18 of the Pennsylvania
9 Consolidated Statutes is amended by adding definitions to read:

10 § 6102. Definitions.

11 Subject to additional definitions contained in subsequent 12 provisions of this subchapter which are applicable to specific 13 provisions of this subchapter, the following words and phrases,
14 when used in this subchapter shall have, unless the context
15 clearly indicates otherwise, the meanings given to them in this 16 section:

17 * * *

18 "Destroyed firearm frame or receiver." A frame or receiver

1 that has been permanently altered not to provide housing or a
2 structure that may hold or integrate any fire control or 3 essential internal component, is not readily convertible and may 4 not readily be assembled, completed or restored to a functional
5 state. Acceptable methods of destruction include completely 6 melting, crushing or shredding the frame or receiver or 7 completely severing at least three critical areas of the frame
8 or receiver using a cutting torch having a tip of sufficient 9 size to displace at least 1/4 inch of material at each location.

10 "Federal firearms licensee." A dealer, manufacturer or 11 importer who is licensed by the United States Bureau of Alcohol, 12 Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives to engage in the business of 13 manufacturing, importing or dealing in firearms.

16 necessary for the firearm to initiate, complete or continue the 17 firing sequence, including a hammer, bolt, bolt carrier, 18 breechblock, cylinder, trigger mechanism, firing pin, striker or 19 slide rails.

20 "Firearm frame or receiver." A part of a firearm that, when 21 assembled, is visible from the exterior and provides housing or 22 a structure designed to hold or integrate one or more fire
23 control components, including pins, a hammer, bolts, a bolt
24 carrier, breechblock, cylinder, trigger mechanism, firing pin, 25 striker, slide rail or other attachments that are required to 26 connect components to the housing or structure necessary for the 27 firearm to initiate, complete or continue a firing sequence.

28 "Firearm kit." A collection of most or all of the 29 components, finished or unfinished, necessary to complete a 30 functional firearm within a short period of time. The term

1 includes jigs, templates, instructions, drill bits and tools
2 that allow the purchaser to complete the weapon to a functional
3 state with minimal effort, expertise or equipment.

4 "Firearm muffler or silencer frame or receiver." A part of 5 the firearm that, when the complete device is assembled, is 6 visible from the exterior and provides housing or a structure,
7 including an outer tube or modular piece designed to hold or 8 integrate one or more essential internal components of the 9 device, including a baffle, baffling material or expansion
10 chamber.

11 * * *

12 "Partially complete, disassembled or inoperable firearm frame 13 or receiver." A frame or receiver that has reached a stage in 14 manufacture where it may readily be completed, assembled or 15 restored to a functional state or is readily convertible to a 16 functional state. The term includes a forging, casting, 17 printing, extrusion, machined body or similar article that has 18 reached a stage in manufacture where it is clearly identifiable
19 as an unfinished component part of a weapon.

20 * * *

21 "Privately made firearm." A firearm or firearm frame or 22 receiver, assembled or otherwise produced by a person other than 23 a Federal firearms licensee that does not contain a serial
24 number or other identifying markings placed by a Federal 25 firearms licensee at the time the firearm was produced.

26 "Readily convertible." An object that can be so converted 27 without any special skill on the part of the person converting 28 it and the work involved in converting it does not require
29 equipment or tools other than such as are in common use by a 30 person carrying out works of construction and maintenance in the

1 person's home.

2 "Split or modular firearm frame or receiver." A firearm with 3 more than one part that provides housing or a structure designed 4 to hold or integrate one or more fire control or essential
5 internal components. The term includes frames or receivers of 6 different weapons that are combined to create a similar weapon
7 with each retaining respective classifications as frames or 8 receivers provided the original design and configuration of the 9 frames or receivers remains unaltered.
